ROOSEVELT LAYS DOWN NEW FIVE POINT PROGRAM

May Force Congress to Work Nights.

LABOR—Administration senate aids draft William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in an attempt to prevent scuttling of the controversial minimum wage, maximum hour, and child labor bill. Page 5.

COURT REFORM—Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana, a vehement Roosevelt supporter, threatens to throw another monkey wrench into the court reform bill by demanding an amendment requiring a two-thirds vote of the nation's highest tribunal to invalidate an act of congress. Details on page 6.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt, during a two and one-half hour parley at the White House, tonight exhorted his three principal congressional leaders to battle for completion of a five point legislative program before adjournment.

Emerging from the conference, Senator William B. Bankhead, Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley and House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn declared bravely that they were hopeful of carrying out the President's wishes. But the betting was still in favor of an adjournment by Aug. 14, program or no program.

While they did not say so specifically, the three leaders indicated that the President, taking cognizance at last of the rapidly spreading "let's go home" spirit in both houses, had tacked on an "if possible" to his commands.

Day and Night Sessions.

Barkley and Rayburn carefully refrained from stating that the President had insisted upon keeping the congress in session until the complete program is enacted. But they were reported to have informed Mr. Roosevelt that, by keeping the two houses in session day and night, there was a chance that most of his program could be pushed through in the next two and one-half weeks.

"We discussed the whole situation with reference to the legislative program," said Barkley. "We could not, of course, approximate any date for adjournment, but we are hopeful that most of the President's program can be completed before we conclude the session."

The senate will pass the wages and hours legislation tomorrow "by a substantial majority," Barkley predicted. It then will take up the low cost housing bill with prospects that it may be approved before the end of the week.

Court Bill Comes First.

The bill providing for "procedural reform" in the lower federal courts will be the senate's next order of business, Barkley said. What the senate will decide to do after that is uncertain, he added, but mentioned sugar legislation and an act to plug loopholes in the income tax laws as the fourth and fifth measures which the President would like to see enacted.

Whether the President will get any part of his huge government reorganization plan approved at this session remained in doubt. A senate committee will hold hearings on the proposals next week. The house has passed a minor phase of the reorganization plan, that giving the President six new $10,000 a year secretaries, and that bill may be the only part of the entire program approved this year.

Sugar Bill Deadlock.

Mr. Roosevelt said he wanted a sugar bill passed setting up quotas for foreign and domestic producers. This measure now is in deadlock before the house agriculture committee and has aroused such a bitter controversy that observers do not believe it can be passed this session.

Farm legislation was discussed, the

EXTEND SCHOOL TERM A WEEK; OPEN ON SEPT. 7

Board Acts to Give Back Pay Cuts.

The board of education yesterday voted to open Chicago's public schools on Sept. 7, the day after Labor day, instead of one week later. This surprise action taken at a meeting called by President James B. McCahey, partly cancels pay cuts for 20,000 school employés and is the first step toward a return to the ten month [forty week] school year.

Since 1932, when an economy program was instituted, the Chicago schools have been open only nine months, totaling thirty-six weeks with the midyear vacations subtracted. Yesterday's action increases the school year to thirty-seven weeks. President McCahey also announced that it was the policy of the board to return to the full ten month school term as soon as finances permit. The average for the coming school year in twenty-seven large cities throughout the nation is thirty-eight weeks.

Tells of Year's Effort.

"We have been striving now for more than a year to find the necessary money to extend the school term and restore wage cuts," he said during the meeting. "This is the first opportunity we have had, and fortunately we can do part of both these things now.

"It is impossible at this time to predict when further time and wage cuts can be restored, but this will be done just as rapidly as finances permit.

"We must continue, however, to keep expenditures within our income and also pay off the crushing burden of debt this board inherited."

$900,000 More Available.

Operations of the schools cost approximately $200,000 a day, and the funds to extend the school year by another week were obtained through savings in the educational department. The sum now available amounts to $900,000, Supt. William H. Johnson announced in his report to board members.

Supt. Johnson estimated that the extra days of school this year would cost about $747,200, of which $661,600 will be paid to teachers and playground instructors. The remaining $85,600 will be paid to clerks, janitors, engineers, and others in the lower salary brackets.

More than 450,000 children attending the public schools will have their three month vacations cut short by the board's action. Parents and teachers, however, joined in praising the action of the board and President McCahey's announcement of policy.

Makes Teachers Happy.

Teachers particularly were happy over the announcement. During the economy wave they took a straight 15 per cent cut in pay and also had their income reduced still further by the reduction of the school year to 9 months.

Parochial schools in Chicago and vicinity will open about the same time as the public schools, it was announced yesterday. Elementary schools, the parochial board said, will open on Sept. 8. The high schools will begin opening on Sept. 7, but they have various opening dates, some as late as the 13th.

U. S. Cash Arrives; Pension Checks for Aged Today

Springfield, Ill., July 28.—(AP)—The auditor's office reported today it had received $987,232 as the government's share of Illinois old age pension payments for July and that the first of the long delayed checks would be issued tomorrow.

Officials were still awaiting word from the Social Security board on whether future allotments would be forthcoming and whether the state's payment plan, now under reorganization, would be approved.

The auditor's office said issuance of the payments ordinarily is a month's work, but that double shifts and overtime would be employed to get the checks to 113,000 on the pension rolls.

San Francisco, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—George Gilly, grocery clerk, rang up a dime today, but what registered was a live mouse. The rodent was boosted into the little glass penthouse atop the box and its tail was bobbed. It rattled furiously about until Gilly took the register apart. Then it escaped.

GIRL BATTLES LION AND SAVES LIFE OF DEFROCKED RECTOR

SKEGNESS, England, July 28.—(AP)—Harold Davidson, former vicar of Stiffkey, who was defrocked in 1932 when found guilty of immorality, was dangerously injured today when mauled by a lion in a sideshow here.

The 65 year old former rector, who has been earning his living in sideshows since trial of his sensational case, probably would have been killed if Miss Rene Somer, 16 year old attendant, had not intervened, it was said. She drove the lion off with a whip and iron rod.

After the girl dragged Davidson to safety from the cage, where he had been speaking, she fainted.

An Episcopalian church court found Davidson guilty of immorality and the bishop of Norwich prohibited him from performing church duties. After the trial and unfrocking, Davidson attempted suicide. Two pretty girls were witnesses against Davidson. A photo of him and a nude girl was introduced at the trial.

BLOOD TO SAVE HERO IS OFFERED BY 27 POLICEMEN

Twenty-seven policemen offered blood last night for another transfusion on Lige Debowski, heroic chef who fatally shot two gunmen on July 18 and was himself shot and seriously wounded. The policemen appeared at the County hospital where Debowski was reported to be rallying slightly after a relapse Tuesday night.

Physicians said the transfusion was necessary to combat an infection in one of Debowski's wounds which has failed to lessen under treatment. Preparations were made to give the transfusion during the night.

$3,000 Diamond Bracelet Lies 24 Hours on Street

Atlantic City, N. J., July 28.—[Special.]—A diamond bracelet worth $3,000 lay on the street outside a drug store for 24 hours, police reported today, until Mrs. Leon Halpern, wife of a professor at Temple university, picked it up and gave it to the druggist, saying: "Here's somebody's imitation diamonds." A few minutes later Mrs. Ellen Hicks of Pittsburgh, identified it as hers. The druggist said several persons saw it but passed it by as worthless.

Russia Seizes U.S. Couple for Photo of Feet

MOSCOW, July 28.—(AP)—United States tourists got into difficulties with soviet authorities today over passports and for taking unauthorized photographs. While some were refused permission to land at Leningrad, others who had managed to get to Moscow got into trouble there for taking a picture of a peasant's feet in shoes of bark.

A dozen Americans were denied permission to disembark at Leningrad from the German cruise ship Reliance, although they had soviet visas.

Refusal to grant landing permits, the fourth similar experience of tourists in recent weeks, was not explained according to Matt Hutter, cruise director of the Hamburg-American line, except in the case of one couple. These two were denied landing permission because their passports were damaged.

Total of 40 Barred.

Tightening of soviet supervision of passports had previously been manifested when a number of passengers from the liners Franconia, Kungsholm, and Rotterdam were refused permission to land, although they, too, had the required visas.

In all about 40 of the 208 tourists who paid visits to Moscow were refused landing permits from the Reliance at Leningrad, Hutter said. Americans not allowed to land today were:

Mrs. Lydia Miller and her daughter, Philadelphia; Mrs. P. K. Miller, New York; Mrs. A. C. Williams, New York, a Mrs. Blake, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Staube, Short Hills, N. J., and Mrs. Tritsher, Mrs. Haines, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Schermerhorn, and Mrs. Hinke, addresses not given.

Can't Snap U. S. Embassy.

William L. Wilson, vice president of the Nebraska City [Neb.] National bank, and his wife were arrested in Gorky street, Moscow, after photographing the feet of a peasant. They were released after being detained more than an hour at a police station.

The Wilsons previously had been prevented from photographing the American embassy. A policeman told them it was soviet property, they said.

When they photographed the peasant's bark clad feet a woman passerby called police, who took the Wilsons to the police station. Wilson said while they were there 40 feet of films with scenes of Moscow and Leningrad were developed in a dark room and the film was confiscated.

BEES PLAY HOOKY UNTIL MASTER HAND LEADS THEM HOME

Just when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson had decided they had a swarm of bees as permanent guests, Willard B. Travis came over to their home at 7411 South Peoria street yesterday. He said the bees were his, and that although he'd never even had a dispute with them, they all flew away Tuesday from his farm at 127th street and 67th avenue, in Worth township.

Mr. Travis didn't wear any masks or mosquito netting when he came after his bees. He said bees will be kind to you if you're kind to them. Then he rolled a road map into the shape of a funnel, brushed the bees into it, dumped them into a big paper carton, and took them home, lecturing them somewhat sternly en route about bees that don't appreciate a good home.

BENEFITS PAID WAR VETERANS PASS 21 BILLIONS

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—The total of all benefits paid war veterans from the revolution through the world war, including peace time pensions to retired and disabled soldiers, amounted to $21,993,632,266 as of May 31, 1937, it was revealed today by the veterans administration.

Disbursements from insurance premium, allotment and other funds amounted to $1,104,214,579, leaving a total net cost for these benefits of $20,889,417,686.

Expenditures last May were $54,112,502, bringing the outgo for eleven months of the fiscal year to $757,515,023.

At the same time about 594,511 veterans were receiving active pensions and compensation claims, while monthly benefits were paid to 316,482 dependents of deceased veterans. There also were 57,265 beneficiaries receiving hospital or domiciliary care under supervision of the veterans administration.

Lightning Strikes Twice in Place, and He's There

Denver, Colo., July 28.—(AP)—Harold J. Frederickson swears he was there today when lightning struck twice in the same place. A bolt struck and ignited his father's car. Frederickson ran with a bucket of water to throw on the blaze. A second bolt hit the car as he emptied the bucket.

Bloom Proves to House He's Modest Violet

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—Congressman Sol Bloom of New York, a statesman of modest and retiring disposition who prides himself on his resemblance to George Washington and once posed for a bust to be labeled "The Father of His Country," seized a quiet moment in the house today to sponsor a brief bill.

Rep. Sol Bloom.

Mr. Bloom advanced the proposition that every naturalized citizen should receive along with his certificate of citizenship a copy of "The Story of the Constitution," by Sol Bloom. The several hundreds of thousands of copies needed for this purpose would be purchased by the government, under the bill, and distributed free of charge to the new citizens.

Mr. Dickstein Is for It.

This laudable ambition to promote Mr. Bloom and his work into the best seller class [at the expense of the government] had received the approval of the house immigration committee headed by Congressman Sam Dickstein, another New Yorker, and a very good friend of Mr. Bloom.

But an unkindly fate dealt Mr Bloom a crushing blow. The house, for once, was alert, and for two hours the perspiring Mr. Bloom stood in the well, the target for sarcastic, scornful and indignant remarks.

Minority Leader Bertrand Snell led the assault.

Let's Go Home, Says He.

"If ever any evidence was needed to prove that congress is wasting its time here and should go home immediately," declared Snell, "that evidence is presented in this bill. I am sorry it was approved by the immigration committee; I am ashamed at the majority for keeping us here to consider this kind of legislation."

"Any one would think," responded Mr. Bloom heatedly, "that this bill was offered to advertise Sol Bloom. Sol Bloom never seeks advertising. You will not find my name on the book anywhere."

Raising a copy of the handsome blue and gold volume aloft, Snell pointed to the title page.

"O, That," Says Bloom.

"'The Story of the Constitution'," he read. "In big letters, By Sol Bloom'; in more big letters, 'Copyright by Sol Bloom.'"

"O, that," said Mr. Bloom, blushing.

In the ensuing uproar Mr. Bloom was asked who was his ghost writer and was accused of plagiarism in lifting the material from other works.

The persecution of Mr. Bloom continued until he shouted at his tormentors something to the effect that they could stick the bill in the waste basket or wherever they pleased. The members followed this suggestion, declining even to vote on the measure, and passed on to more important but less lively legislation.

Peiping's Defenders Reported in Rout.

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, July 29 (Thursday).—Japanese naval forces began shelling the North China port of Taku at 8:15 a. m. today. Chinese first fired upon Japanese destroyers. Japanese warships, co-operating with land forces, trained their guns on Taku and attacked the port. Taku is located at the mouth of the Pei river, which leads to Tientsin.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, July 29 (Thursday).—(AP)—The official Chinese Central News agency reported today that the Japanese army had forced its way inside Peiping's ancient walls and was fighting a heavy battle with the Chinese garrison within the city.

TOKIO, July 29 [Thursday]. —[By Telephone to New York.]—(AP)—The second day of Japan's undeclared war in North China took a graver phase this morning, with fighting in Tientsin and its suburbs. American residents and other foreigners were reported seeking safety in basements.

British, French, and Italian troops threw up barricades to protect foreigners.

Bursting Chinese shells were reported to have fallen into the Japanese concession, the Japanese consulate general's buildings, and the Japanese club. Telephone lines were reported severed between the Japanese concession and the outside world.

Chinese troops began an offensive before dawn. They directed their attack against the city's three railway stations, and against a Japanese air base east of the city. Japanese bombing planes took off to drive back the Chinese, and Japanese troops opened fire from the railway stations.

ROUT CHINESE AT PEIPING

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 29 [Thursday].—Chinese forces defending Peiping, ancient former capital of China, were reported today to have suffered a defeat at the hands of Japanese troops who at 5:30 a. m. yesterday launched an undeclared punitive war against the northern city.

Through a welter of conflicting reports, among which were statements by government leaders that the Chinese forces had achieved sweeping victories against the Japanese invaders, came evidence that the resistance of the 29th Chinese army in the Peiping area had collapsed.

Puzzled by False Reports.

Shanghai military observers were puzzled over the origin and motives and wide circulation of false reports of the Chinese capture of Fengtai, the Japanese military headquarters; Langfang, railway center midway between Peiping and Tientsin; Tungchow and other strategic points about Peiping—reports which created a frenzy of joy among Chinese masses.

Wild celebrations flared throughout China. Frantic Chinese spent their last coppers for firecrackers and shops quickly disposed of a year's supply. Streets were littered with débris. Thousands left their homes and ran into the streets to dance and cheer.

These celebrations suddenly came to a dismal end when Chinese sources admitted the victory reports were false.

Admits Chinese Retreat.

The official Chinese Central News agency confirmed the sad news. It announced that Fengtai had been "reoccupied" by the Japanese and that the Chinese troops had retreated three miles.

Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan's dispatch of a telegram bearing his resignation and his reported departure to the Hopei provincial capital of Paoting at 2 o'clock this morning also were regarded as more or less definite evidence of the collapse of the resistance of the 29th Chinese army in the Peiping area.

Gen. Sung is commander of the 29th army and chairman of the Hopei-Chahar political council.

New Commander Named.

The Central News agency announced that Gen. Chan Tse-chung, mayor of Tientsin and commander of the 38th division, was appointed to command the Chinese troops following Gen. Sung's resignation.

Further evidence of the Chinese defeat was provided by hundreds of badly wounded and discouraged soldiers who arrived at the Peiping city wall begging for admission. It was said that practically a third of the Chinese force was wiped out as a result of continuous Japanese air bombing and artillery fire.

Many of the wounded soldiers came from Tungchow, capital of the East Hopei autonomous state [a puppet government sponsored by Japan]. Japanese forces annihilated a Chinese battalion of 400 to 500 Chinese troops at that city two days ago.

Wounded Troops Line Road.

It was stated that thousands of wounded soldiers and stragglers line all roads radiating from Peiping.

An unconfirmed report said one division of the peace preservation corps at Peiping deserted the Chinese camp and went over to the Japanese on the latter's promise to use the force as gendarmes in the Peiping area.

The collapse of Chinese resistance was accelerated by the successful activities of Japanese troops operating north of Peiping. They captured the strategic towns of Shahochen and Chinghochen, giving them control of a large area along the Peiping-Suiyuan railway leading to Kalgan, in Chahar province, and to Suiyuan province.

While guerrilla warfare is likely to prevail for a considerable period, due to the presence of the defeated and disorganized Chinese soldiers, the collapse of the 29th army left the Japanese in undisputed control of the Peiping district, which is rich economically as well as historically.

Already there are rumors that the Japanese are likely to stage a restoration of the Manchu emperor, Henry Pu-yi [now Emperor Kang Teh of Manchukuo] to the ancient dragon throne of his ancestors.

Bomb Peiping Suburbs.

Before the reported resignation of Gen. Sung the Japanese army sent two fleets of fighting planes over the ancient walled city.

The planes warned the population of Peiping and the neighboring countryside to flee. Leaflets dropped by the flyers said the Japanese would launch another offensive within a few hours to expel the Chinese army from the area.

After the leaflets were dropped the two air fleets rained bombs on Peiping's suburbs.

The explosions of the aerial bombs jarred Peiping. Heavy casualties were reported at Nanyuan, Hsiyuan, Peiyuan, Papaoshan, and Hsiaotangshan. The main body of the Chinese 38th division was virtually wiped out at Matsun, a mile and a half south of Peiping.

Within Peiping rioting and street shooting were reported. Nelson T. Johnson, the United States ambassador to China, summoned all American citizens to take refuge within the embassy quarter.

U. S. Marine Wounded.

Julius F. Fliszar of Easton, Pa., a United States marine, was wounded by a bullet as he stood guard with other marines at the closed south wall of the embassy quarter.

A Chinese soldier did the shooting, mistaking Fliszar's detachment for a group of Japanese soldiers. An aid of Gen. Sung made an apology to the United States embassy.

Chinese guns forced four Japanese munition ships to turn back at the Japanese port of Tangku near Tientsin. Japanese cutters returned the firing and succeeded in bringing one of the ships to a wharf.

Japanese commanders at Tientsin sent troops into Taku, across the Pei river from Tangku, to drive the Chinese away from their wharves. Because of the large numbers of Chinese troops at that port, the Japanese sent an urgent demand for reinforcements.

War Panic Sweeps Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, July 29 [Thursday].—(AP)—War tension hit Shanghai and surrounding areas today, causing thousands of Chinese to flee with their movable possessions into the foreign controled international settlement and the French concession. Many of them came, with furniture and valuables, from Chapei, scene of Chinese-Japanese fighting in 1932, and other Chinese towns around Shanghai.

Thirty Killed or Injured in Japanese Train Wreck

TOKIO, Japan, July 29—[Thursday.]—(AP)—Thirty persons were reported killed or injured today when the Fuji express was in a collision at Okayama station, between Osaka and Hiroshima.

Japan Advances

Dates on the map tell the history of the latest Chinese-Japanese conflict, explaining events leading up to hostilities. The numbers fix the location of events of yesterday and today as follows:

1. Japan's undeclared war on North China assumed graver proportions when Chinese began an offensive against Japanese in Tientsin.
2. The main body of the Chinese 38th division was virtually wiped out in a battle at Matsun, a mile and a half south of Peiping.
3. Remnants of the 38th division fled from Nanyuan to Peiping, seeking admittance to the city.
4. Chinese troops stationed at Tungchow retreated toward Peiping under heavy fire of Japanese attackers.

JAPAN PROMISES IT WILL PROTECT AMERICAN LIVES

Grew Sees Hirota on War in North China.

TOKIO, July 28.—(AP)—Ambassador Joseph C. Grew of the United States today drew a Japanese assurance American lives and property in Peiping would be protected as Japan launched a "punitive" campaign in North China. American commercial investments in Peiping and Tientsin total about $25,000,000.

The ambassador in a meeting with Foreign Minister Koki Hirota appealed to Japan to prevent the spread ot the Chinese-Japanese conflict and requested that great care be exercised to keep the American embassy in Peiping from falling into the war zone.

Hirota declared the Japanese army would leave nothing undone to protect Americans and other foreigners, and asserted Japan had not yet abandoned hope of an amicable settlement in North China.

Other Nations Make Pleas.

Other foreign ambassadors made similar exhortations both here and in Nanking, and the Domei [Japanese] News agency reported Lawrence Salisbury, secretary of the American embassy in Peiping, had presented a joint American, British, French, and Italian memorandum to the Japanese embassy requesting that the foreign legation quarter there not be used as a base for military operations.

The true extent of Japan's aims in North China remained undefined, as neither the premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoe, nor the foreign minister publicly outlined the program or policies.

The premier made a terse declaration in parliament that the Japanese government had been forced to make up its mind to resort to arms to punish China for repeated acts of provocation.

Pass War Appropriation.

Members of the house of representatives cheered wildly and then pushed through unanimously a $30,000,000 war appropriation.

The premier declared the issues in China not only should be settled locally but that Japan's relations with China should be readjusted fundamentally.

He said that Japan's aim for the last 40 years had been to protect China from foreign encroachment.

"As there are many Chinese like Chiang Kai-shek [Chinese dictator] who understand Japan well, we must not attempt to overthrow the Nanking government," the premier exclaimed.

Cabinet ministers called into an emergency meeting were told by Gen. Gen Sugiyama that the Japanese army command in North China had been compelled to order out all its forces against the Chinese 29th army in the Peiping area because it had rejected a Japanese ultimatum to throw down arms.

Scandal Over Boy Ruler's Land Wrecks Siam Cabinet

BANGKOK, Siam, July 28.—(AP)—A bitter assembly debate on an alleged scandal over the sale of some of Boy King Ananda's land brought the resignations today of Premier Sena's Siamese cabinet and the chairman of the regency council, Prince Aditya. Charges were made in the debate that the land had been sold privately and cheaply, and that some politicians had benefited.

U. S. MAY INVOKE ARMS EMBARGO IN CHINESE CRISIS

White House Upset Over Wounding of Marine.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—Despairing of bringing peace in the far east, the United States tonight was preparing to declare a state of war exists between Japan and China and to place an embargo on the shipment of arms to the two countries under the neutrality act.

President Roosevelt, who is empowered to declare the existence of a state of war, kept in close touch with the crisis through the state department. He followed eagerly the reports from American ambassadors to the countries involved, as well as dispatches from European nations disturbed over the serious threat to world peace in the Sino-Japanese situation.

Report Marine Wounded.

Throughout the day messages were relayed to the White House from the state department as rapidly as they were received. Grave concern was expressed over reports of the wounding of a United States marine.

The series of conferences at the White House and within the state department considered invocation of the neutrality act, it was understood. This country is proceeding cautiously to avoid involving itself in the far eastern situation.

From the outset of the administration, every effort has been made to dodge a definite stand in various less tense situations which were, however, charged with diplomatic dynamite.

In pursuance of the policy of caution, the White House revealed that the President was watching each development in the situation to determine whether it would be necessary for him to proclaim an embargo. Secretary of State Cordell Hull would not comment on the situation except to say that the state department would make its announcement after it arrived at a decision.

Act Twice Revised.

The neutrality act was drawn to meet the East African crisis of 1935, when Italy invaded Ethiopia.

The act was revised early this session to meet conditions of the Spanish civil war. The original act made no provision for embargoes in internal strife within countries. The act was revised again April 29 so as to give the President discretionary powers.

Should the President proceed under the act as it now stands, he would proclaim existence of a state of war. On such a proclamation shipments of arms, ammunitions and implements of war to the belligerent countries would be prohibited. Loans and credits could not be extended to Japan or China and American citizens could not legally travel on ships of the two countries.

Railway to Be Kept Open.

At his press conference Secretary Hull disclosed that plans for the evacuation of Americans and other foreign nationals within Peiping have been evolved in a series of conferences between embassy attachés, commanders of foreign troops in the city, and other interested parties. No definite provision to evacuate has been made, he emphasized.

The protocol drawn after the Boxer rebellion of 1900 guarantees that the railway between Peiping and Tientsin will be kept open for the evacuation of foreigners should such evacuation be necessary.

23 CHICAGOANS LISTED AMONG AMERICANS IN WAR ZONE AT PEIPING

Twenty-three Chicagoans are among the Americans in Peiping listed by the state department at Washington yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ray Smith, 4040 Congress street.

Robert Winter, 1634 Columbia avenue.

Mrs. Lucy Monroe Calhoun, widow of William J. Calhoun, former minister to China, is now on her way back to China with Peiping as her destination, according to her brother, William S. Monroe of 64 East Elm street.

RESCUE GIRL, 7, FROM ATTACK BY EX-CONVICT

Police last night rescued a girl 7 years old from an ex-convict who they said was trying to rape her in an alley behind 4856 South Ashland avenue when they arrived.

The ex-convict, they said, is James Kubert, 48 years old, 2722 South Pulaski road, a handbill distributor. The police said his record goes back more than 15 years, and that last January he was charged with rape but acquitted.

Neighbors heard the screams of the little girl and called the New City police station. Policemen Patrick McMahon and William Hoff found Kubert in the darkness with the child, who lives at 4814 South Ashland avenue. They locked him up and took the girl home.

Jack Thornton, 63 years old, 202 South Laflin street, was seized last night by Policemen Hugh McEntee and Hugh Flanigan on charges brought by the mother of a girl of 4. Police said the mother told them Thornton had carried the child to the basement of his apartment.

PERSONALTY TAX BILL INCREASES CALLED UNJUST

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Many complaints of unjust 1936 personal property assessments are being made despite the recent assertion of Edward J. McCabe, deputy county assessor, that the assessments are based on known facts. The complaints have become so numerous in Evanston that Mayor Henry D. Penfield has appointed a committee to investigate.

McCabe in defending the assessments denied that his office had returned to the old telephone book method of putting thousands of names on the assessment rolls from phone listings, basing the assessments on the average rent in the district in which the telephone subscriber lived. As a result of this method gold coast janitors and butlers were put on the same assessment level as their wealthy employers.

Complains of Assessment.

One of the complainants against the current levy is O. H. Wurster, 5201 Kenwood avenue, who is objecting to a 1,500 per cent increase in his assessment.

Wurster, a consulting engineer, filed a schedule listing his effects at $205. A few days ago he received a personal property tax bill for $109.20, based on the greatly increased valuation.

He said he has paid a personal property tax for years, and still has his receipts for the years 1932 to 1935. His average payment during that time was $5.66.

Record Better Than Most.

In making those payments, he had a better record than 94 per cent of those assessed for small amounts in Cook county. Because only 6 per cent of these small bills have been collected in past years, Assessor John S. Clark omitted all assessments under $400 full value from the 1936 rolls. Mr. Wurster would have been one of those dropped had his schedule not been raised.

Wurster's sworn schedule listed furniture at $200 and personal effects, an old watch, at $5. After the schedule was received by the assessor, the full valuation of furniture was increased to $2,000, and the full valuation of personal effects to $1,100. McCabe explained the increases were made on confidential information.

Notice Withheld.

Wurster also complained, as many other taxpayers have done, that he had no opportunity to contest the assessment before the board of appeals because no notice of the increase was ever given him.

The Evanston committee appointed by Mayor Penfield consists of Aldermen Eddy S. Brandt, Edward L. Koppelman, and Henry R. Platt Jr. The deputy assessor for Evanston, John Hahn, is a member of the political faction of former Mayor Charles H. Bartlett, whom Mayor Penfield defeated in this year's election, and the Penfield faction charges that some of the assessment increases were due to political prejudice.

GIRL CASHIER OF NIGHT CLUB ENDS OWN LIFE

Alberta Green, 25 years old, cashier in Harry's New York cabaret, a near north side night club, was found dead last night from an overdose of sleeping sedative in her room at the Eastgate hotel, 162 East Ontario street. The young woman, who used the name of Betty Douglas at the night club, left a note asking police to notify her sister, Mrs. J. Frank Hoffman of 3632 Detroit avenue, Toledo, O.

E. F. Tompkins, manager of the hotel, who found the body, told police that Miss Green had been despondent over the absence of Carl Osburn, singer with an orchestra at Lake Wawasee, Syracuse, Ind., with whom she was apparently in love. Her mother, Mrs. Clarence Green, lives at Eau Claire, Wis.

EXTEND REALTY TAX DEADLINE THROUGH AUGUST

County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer announced yesterday that the deadline for payment of the first instalment of 1936 real estate taxes has been extended from Aug. 1, the date set by the legislature, until Aug. 31.

The extension was necessary to give taxpayers the customary thirty day period of grace to pay after the last bills go out. These will be placed in the mails Saturday. Mr. Lindheimer said his office will open at 8:30 a. m., half an hour earlier, each day.

A crowd of several thousand yesterday paid a total of $1,723,298 on 1936 real estate and personal property taxes.

Marian Hughes Pierce, who charged in New York court that she had to finance marriage to the heir to wool millions.

His estranged wife is suing Andrew Pierce III. for $67,054 and threatened to introduce diary showing 130 cash advances she made to him.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Beauteous Marian Hughes Pierce hoped to find "love in a cottage," she said, when she married Andrew Pierce III., but it became a case of love among the ledgers—the account books of money she had to pay out to finance their marriage — she charged today in Supreme court.

Suing to recover $67,054 from young Pierce, heir to wool millions, she threatened to introduce in court her diaries showing 130 cash advances she said she had made to her estranged mate and hundreds of bills she had to pay.

SPANISH REBELS CLAIM BIG GAIN EAST OF MADRID

Battle on Western Front Is Deadlocked.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Border, July 28.—(AP)—With the struggle west of Madrid seemingly deadlocked, Spanish insurgents tonight claimed conquest of more than 700 square miles in the Cuenca sector, midway between Madrid and Valencia.

An insurgent communique said the Valencia government was hurrying a brigade of foreign soldiers and other reinforcements in the hope of checking a smashing insurgent offensive.

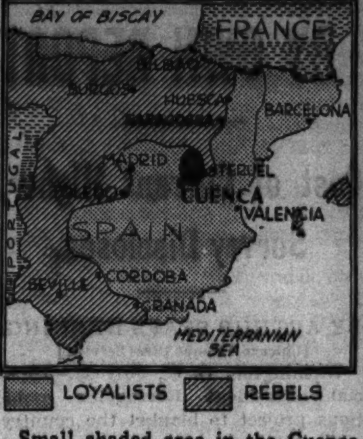
Government troops had begun to throw up fortifications around Cuenca, about 80 miles east and slightly south of Madrid, the communique reported.

Diplomatic dispatches from insurgent sources in Spain reported Gen. Francisco Franco, insurgent chief, had commuted the death sentenced of Manuel Hedilla, former chief of the Spanish Fascist party, to life imprisonment. The action was attributed to German intervention. Hedilla was condemned to death by a court martial for conspiring against Franco.

Madrid War Deadlocked.

REBELS CLAIM GAIN

(Story in Adjoining Column.)



Small shaded area in the Cuenca sector represents 700 square mile territory which Spanish insurgents yesterday reported having captured. Armies were deadlocked west of Madrid.

MADRID, July 28.—(AP)—Government and insurgent troops appeared deadlocked tonight west of Madrid. Whether Gen. Francisco Franco's insurgents merely had paused to reorganize after almost a week of terrific fighting in the hot summer sun or had reached the limit of their power for the present was still to be determined, loyalist officials said.

The rebels had checked and then rolled back the government offensive, recapturing Brunete, 15 miles west of Madrid, and advancing north toward Villanueva de la Canada. That apparently meant the crushing for the moment of the government's hope to break up the insurgent concentration on Madrid's outskirts.

However, the government command, scanning the results of the fighting which started with the government offensive July 5, regarded the situation with optimism. They contended the insurgent shock troops have been battered severely.

ROOSEVELT PLAN FOR 7 TVA'S HIT BY OWN REPORT

Cost of Current Higher, Survey Discloses.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's ambitious project to blanket the country with TVA's has hit an unexpected snag.

With the Tennessee Valley authority under fire as a wasteful and unjustified expenditure of the taxpayers' money, and defended as a forward looking example of economic planning, the President's proposal to duplicate this undertaking in seven other regions of the country has become the subject of the same disputation.

Opponents of the plan came into possession of new ammunition today when it was disclosed that the report on technological trends by the national resources committee, recently made public by the President himself, pronounces steam developed electric power cheaper than hydro-electric power.

Compete with Private Enterprise.

The prime object of the creation of the eight authorities, taking in the entire country, is the development of hydro-electric power by the federal government to be distributed in competition with privately owned utilities.

The national resources committee report states that on the whole the development of electricity by means of steam plants is more economical than production by water power. It goes on to say that water power "lacks reliability, as it is affected by meteorological conditions, dry seasons, floods, ice in the water supply, and mechanical and electrical interference with transmission lines connecting the power with distant markets."

Ordinarily hydro-electric power plants now involve a cost in excess of $150 for each kilowatt of capacity, compared with $75 to $125 for steam plants.

Current at Less Cost.

It is held also that under ordinary conditions a steam generating plant can deliver current at a cost of 4 mills a kilowatt hour, compared with a cost of 6.3 mills for a hydro-electric plant. These figures cover fixed charges and operating expense, $85 for each kilowatt of installed capacity being asisgned to steam plants and $250 to hydro-electric developments.

"The steam turbine," according to the committee's findings, "is the most important prime mover for the generation of electricity, as it operates at practically uniform speed, occupies very much less space than a reciprocating steam engine, can be built at low cost and is economical in steam consumption.

"The steam turbine, because of its advantages, has made possible the modern electric generating station and also has stimulated long distance transmission of electricity."

Fixed Charges Higher.

In comparing the development of electricity by means of water and steam, the committee says that the fixed charges of a hydro-electric plant usually are high as compared with a steam-electric plant.

The annual distribution of rainfall and run off cannot be controled, and because of this, the report remarks, "great extremes of high and low water occur, making possible the utilization of only a portion of the potential power in a waterfall."

"Thus hydro-electric stations," according to the report, "must use steam stations for emergencies, peak loads, low water periods, and during floods. Through interconnection of hydro-electric plants and their interspersion with steam plants, the difference in time of seasonal flows of different drainage acres has been taken advantage of and the reliability of service improved.

"Water power plants usually are more expensive than steam plants for equally good service if steam or internal-combustion engine reserves are included in the cost estimates."

San Rafael, Cal., July 28.—[Special.]—Meyer Golas, 32 year old Los Angeles burglar, was in San Quentin prison's hospital today, recuperating from his effort to persuade prison authorities to give him an island, any island, outside the prison. Golas climbed an 85 foot light tower inside the prison walls and stayed there 19 hours. Ralph New, acting warden, said Golas apparently had lost his mind and refused to send guards up after him. Golas agreed to leave his perch after a promise he would be given a good meal and hospitalization rather than solitary confinement.

COURT ORDERS GIRL EMBEZZLER TO FACE TRIAL

Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday signed a formal order for the return of Miss Dorothy M. Earley, 21 years old, to Marquette, Mich., where she will be tried for embezzling $3,200 in postal money order funds from the Marenisco, Mich., postoffice, where she worked as a clerk.

Miss Earley repeated before Judge Holly her admission that she took the money over a year so she could have gay parties.

ROOSEVELT LAYS DOWN NEW FIVE POINT PROGRAM

Congress May Be Forced to Work Nights.

leaders said, "but nothing definite" was decided. Marvin Jones [D., Tex.], chairman of the house agriculture committee, appeared to have given a death blow to such legislation today when he announced that no further study would be given the bill at this session "in view of the differences among farm interests as to the provisions which new farm legislation should contain."

"Members of the committee expect to continue their efforts to work out a measure and a meeting will be called before the opening of the next session in an endeavor to have a bill ready at the first of the session," Jones announced.

Confident of Tax "Plugs."

Rayburn was optimistic about obtaining legislation plugging income tax loopholes. Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] said a bill would be ready next week, but that hearings would be held before it was reported to the house. He did not think the bill could be brought into the house before Aug. 9.

Inasmuch as this bill must pass the house before being considered by the senate, its chances for congressional approval by Aug. 14 seemed rather dim.

Barkley said the possibility of recessing congress until October, when it would return to consider the "ever normal granary" farm bill, was discussed, but that the suggestion was not received favorably by either the President or the congressional leaders.

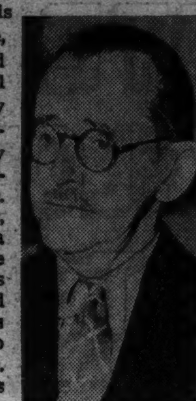
YELLOWLEY AND AID CLEARED OF CONTEMPT IN JURY PRYING CASE

Contempt of court charges against Edward C. Yellowley, government alcohol administrator in the Chicago district, and Levi Z. Baker, his senior inspector, were dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge Evan A. Evans.

The contempt citation, issued by Judge James H. Wilkerson on April 29, was based on charges that Yellowley and Baker tried to learn secrets of the April grand jury in a conference on April 21 with Sidney Eckstone, the jury foreman. At the time the jury was investigating the handling of liquor cases by Yellowley's department.

Yellowley and his chief aid admitted they conferred with Eckstone, but pleaded they did not mean anything improper. Judge Evans said he was satisfied they would not wilfully obstruct justice, but reprimanded them. The judge also urged full coöperation between Yellowley and District Attorney Michael L. Igoe in dealing with liquor cases.

Couple Jailed After Bogus Checks Bring Complaints



Arthur Alexander.

Arthur Alexander, alias Edward Alexander, 57 years old, 1008 Monroe street, and his wife, Catherine, 42, were locked up by Town Hall police yesterday on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mrs. Fannie Gurney, 640½ Cornelia avenue, said she had cashed bogus checks indorsed by the Alexanders amounting to more than $500. Other checks were cashed by women who formerly worked on a WPA project with Mrs. Alexander. Her husband told some of those who cashed the checks that he knew many prominent persons in Washington, D. C.

BAILEY PRAISES CHICAGO POLICE IN STEEL RIOT

Senator Assails Inquiry by La Follette Group.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—Inferentially assailing the La Follette "Civil Liberties" committee for presuming to investigate the conduct of the Chicago police department in dispersing the C. I. O. mob in the Memorial day riot, Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] today filed a report praising the police for doing their duty.

Senator Bailey expressed his views in a minority report from the senate postoffice committee, which investigated the refusal of the postoffice department to deliver food and clothing to loyal steel workers during the C. I. O. strikes.

Disagrees with Report.

He disagreed with the majority report of this committee, saying that "the unusual service demanded of the postoffice department could not be safely carried on; that to have done so would have subjected the postal carriers to jeopardy of life and limb.

"When a government suspends its functions simply because lawbreakers make it unsafe to perform them, it is surrendering the law to violators of the law," said Senator Bailey. "It is abdicating in favor of those who would take the law into their own hands."

Dealing with Armed Mob.

As to the postoffice committee's inquiry into the Chicago riot, Senator Bailey declared:

"The testimony was consistent with the verdict of the coroner's jury that the homicides in the riot were justifiable . . . the police were dealing with an armed mob, proceeding to a plant where peaceful men were at work. The police warned the mob as required by law. It would not yield but continued in an attitude of menace. Missils were thrown, a shot was fired. Then the conflict.

"A mob must disperse upon orders from police authority. To refuse to do so and continue in an attitude of menace is to invite and become responsible for consequences. Peaceful citizens expect peace officers to maintain the peace. Their actions as to the use of force are not to be 'weighed in golden scales,' to use a phrase from the Supreme court of North Carolina.

Public Peace at Stake.

"Suppose they had run before the mob. If this is intolerable, who will say that in resisting and subduing it after fair warning, they did more than their duty? Bloodshed is deplorable, but if the public peace requires it, we must pay the price."

Senator Bailey then expressed, by inference, his opinion of the radical La Follette committee, which severely condemned the Chicago police.

"Are police officers under federal supervision?" he asked. "Are they to be informed that their actions are to be reviewed by us. Congress investigates solely with the view to legislation.

A Question Is Asked.

"What legislation is contemplated concerning police officers in Chicago or elsewhere? What legislation is in contemplation concerning civil servants in the state of Illinois? If murder is committed in Chicago, does congress propose to take jurisdiction?"

Senator Bailey then quoted from the Supreme court's famous decision in the slaughterhouse case holding that the 14th amendment did not transfer the protection of civil rights from the states to the federal government.

BETTE DAVIS.

Hollywood, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—Bette Davis of the movies suffered a sun stroke which will keep her confined to a hospital in Carpinteria, Cal., at least four weeks, her husband, Harmon O. Nelson, said today. She was vacationing there.

Writ to Free Contractor's Son, in Prison, Is Denied

Judge Daniel P. Trude yesterday denied a writ of habeas corpus for Roy McArthur, 22 years old, who was seeking release from Pontiac reformatory where he is serving a sentence of 1 to 20 years for the purchase of a stolen automobile. McArthur is the son of Samuel McArthur, 1632 Greenleaf avenue, a trucking contractor.

NYE LASHES U. S. MEDIATOR AS AID TO C.I.O. IN TIEUP

Charges Pressure After Election Was Lost.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(AP)—Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] told the senate today he had been reliably informed that Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, was insisting that the Apex Hosiery mills of Philadelphia bargain with C. I. O. representatives after the employés had overwhelmingly voted against the organization.

Nye said an election held by those in the community, after the labor board had ignored pleas for an election, resulted in only 82 C. I. O. votes out of 2,500 employés. He asserted 1,000 failed to vote.

The North Dakotan said he had been told that McGrady, despite this vote, had gone to the management and insisted that it "accept the spokesmen of the C. I. O. as spokesmen for the employés." He said he believed the management would have to accept.

Fears "It Can Happen Here."

Denouncing the incident, Nye said, "If a great government is going to tolerate an administration by a board or bureau which tolerates practices of that kind the hour is not far off when Americans are going to be reminded that 'it car happen here.'"

Senator Louis Schwellenbach [D., Wash.] asked if Nye had discussed the case with McGrady, but the North Dakotan said he had had no opportunity.

Nye said he found the story difficult to believe, "and yet I have it on such fine authority that I can't ignore it."

Schwellenbach said he got the impression from listening to Nye that his "exclusive source" of information was the pastor of the Resurrection Lutheran church of Philadelphia, with whom Nye said he had held a three hour conference yesterday.

McGrady Expects Peace.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 28.—(AP)—Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, was in conference with representatives of the Apex Hosiery mills and the American Federation of Hosiery Workers tonight when informed of Senator Nye's charges.

In an over the shoulder comment McGrady said:

"The department of labor is taking no sides. The strike has been on since May 6 and I came to Philadelphia to settle it so that the mill can resume operation. In order to reopen it I had to deal with the strikers, but there was no one involved except workers."

McGrady indicated a settlement might be reached tonight.

MRS. ROOSEVELT HELD NO MONEY, SO PAYS NO TAX

Cummings Aid Frees Her of Wrong.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—Because Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt didn't hold in her hand even for an instant the proceeds from her radio broadcasting she doesn't have to pay an income tax on the money, Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson declared today.

In his testimony before the congressional committee investigating methods of tax avoidance, Jackson absolved the President's wife of any intent to evade taxes on her broadcasting income, most of which was turned over to charity.

Her Motives Noble.

"Then you don't think that this, in the words of the President, was a 'clever little scheme' to avoid taxes?" asked Representative Allan T. Treadway [R., Mass.].

"I certainly do not," replied Jackson. "Mrs. Roosevelt's motives were noble."

"Any one can do what Mrs. Roosevelt did. If J. P. Morgan wants to broadcast and turn over the proceeds to charity he can claim the same exemption. But he must not have the money in his hand for one single instant. If he receives a check for the broadcast and indorses it over to charity he must pay a tax upon the amount.

Check Sent Direct.

"In Mrs. Roosevelt's case a check was sent directly to the charity by the company paying for the broadcast."

The attention of the committee had been called to a contract entered into by Mrs. Roosevelt in which she turned over $30,000 of a $40,000 radio income to charity. The remaining $10,000 was split, $6,000 to a radio agent, and $4,000 to Miss Nancy Cook, close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt.

FINED FOR MOLESTING GIRL.

Accused of molesting a girl 11 years old, William Walker, 35 years old, 7355 South Damen avenue, the father of two children, was fined $100 yesterday by Judge Stephen Adamowski in the Court of Domestic Relations.

ROOSEVELT AIDS DRAFT GREEN TO SAVE WAGE BILL

Spring His Letter to Nip Senate Amendments.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—The Roosevelt administration was forced to appeal to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to save the controversial minimum wage, maximum hour, and child labor bill from a rout in congress today.

In the senate, where the wage and hour bill is under consideration, a letter from Green was suddenly produced by administration leaders to blast amendments, proposed by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], requiring responsibility on the part of labor unions.

Green assailed the Vandenberg amendments as constituting the "first step toward government control of unions," and said they would completely destroy the rights won by labor in a 20 year struggle culminating with the Wagner act.

Takes Slap at C. I. O.

Taking a slap at the C. I. O., Green's letter said:

"We protest the proposed amendment because we cannot accept restrictions jeopardizing the future freedom and democracy of the membership of the American Federation of Labor—restrictions which result from a reaction to sporadic acts of irresponsible alleged labor organizations. The American Federation of Labor stands for freedom, democracy and the principle of voluntarism in every relationship of life, and it is our duty to resist any infringement upon democratic ideals and institutions."

Simultaneously with the springing of the Green letter in the senate, which forced Senator Vandenberg to withdraw his amendments, the house labor committee adopted drastic wage and hour rates proposed by Representative Reuben T. Wood [D., Mo.], an official of the Missouri Federation of Labor, and in return for this concession to the administration the house committee also adopted the amendment safeguarding collective bargaining which the A. F. of L. had demanded as a condition for its support of the wage and hour measure.

Doubt Passage of Bill.

The day's developments illustrated the enormous power and influence exerted in congress by the A. F. of L. president, whose prestige has been enhanced by the public antipathy of John L. Lewis and his radical C. I. O.

Although Green saved the day for the administration there were many observers in congress who doubted that final action on the wage and hour bill would be reached before adjournment of congress.

Senate opposition to the measure was increased when word was received that the house committee planned to report a drastic bill permitting the five man federal board to fix minimum wages as high as 70 cents an hour and in no case less than 40 cents an hour, and to fix a maximum work week as low as 35 hours and in no case higher than 40 hours.

Senate Limits Exceeded.

While this is similar to the administration's original bill, drafted by Thomas G. Corcoran and Benjamin V. Cohen, the brain trust lawyers, its limitations are the converse of those proposed in the more moderate senate bill. The measure pending in the senate would prohibit the federal board from fixing minimum wages higher than 40 cents an hour or a maximum work week of less than 40 hours.

Senator Royal S. Copeland [D., N. Y.] today sought to embroil the measure in a controversy over the Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill, but he was induced to withhold the offer of that amendment on the promise of Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky that it would be considered on its merits before adjournment.

TRUCK STRIKERS IN BUFFALO FREE FOOD SUPPLIES FROM TIEUP

Buffalo, N. Y., July 28.—(AP)—Striking truck drivers tonight unanimously ratified a compromise contract reached with wholesale grocery merchants and ended the most serious phase of Buffalo's eight day food embargo.

They agreed to go back to work early tomorrow and rush new supplies to grocery store shelves empty of many staple foods.

The ratification was voted at a strikers mass meeting, where 300 of the estimated 1,000 striking drivers heard details of the compromise. They rose to their feet and shouted approval.

Negotiators for the union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, and wholesalers who were forced to close down when the drivers walked out, agreed on terms of the truce late today.

THREATENS NEW FIGHT IN SENATE OVER COURT BILL

Minton to Seek New Rule for Highest Bench.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C. July 28.—[Special.]—Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.] today announced he would propose amending the Supreme court "procedural reform" measure to require concurrence of six of the nine justices to invalidate an act of congress. Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] immediately charged that would violate the "gentlemen's agreement" reached after the court packing bill was junked.

Meantime, the senate judiciary committee filed its report on a judicial reform bill for the lower courts. The bill carries out the terms of the agreement effected last week upon the death of President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the high court.

Senator Wheeler asserted that Minton's proposed amendment would violate the understanding that the Supreme court was not to be considered in the drafting of a substitute "judicial reform bill."

Recall Agreement Terms.

Not only was such an agreement entered into by the judiciary committee, with Vice President Garner and Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley present, Senator Wheeler explained, but the terms of the agreement were stated on the senate floor when the court packing measure was recommitted, with instructions for the judiciary committee to report back a substitute.

At the request of Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.], Senator Marvel M. Logan [D., Ky.], stated the terms of the agreement when he moved to recommit the court packing bill.

"The Supreme court is out of the way," Senator Logan replied.

Senator Wheeler's position is that Senator Minton, in voting for the motion to recommit under the circumstances outlined by Senator Logan.

Defeat Deemed Certain.

Minton, however, argues that his proposal relates to procedure and not to the size of the Supreme court. He said he would insist upon a vote on his amendment "unless somebody calls off the dogs."

While not committing himself on the Minton proposal, Majority Leader Barkley said he did not think the offer of the amendment would constitute a violation of the gentlemen's agreement.

If Minton does offer his amendment it will precipitate a controversy, but it undoubtedly would be defeated. Even some of the proponents of the packing bill, including Chairman Henry F. Ashurst [D., Ariz.] of the judiciary committee, have assailed the proposal on the ground that it would enable a minority of the Supreme court—four justices—to uphold an act of congress, destroying human liberties guaranteed by the bill of rights.

Besides proposing reforms to expedite justice in the lower courts and appeals to the Supreme court, the bill reported today memorializes the judicial conference, in collaboration with the attorney general, to make a survey and recommendations for the creation of additional judgeships where dockets are congested.

Hot Wind Machine

Los Angeles, Cal., July 28.—[Special.]—Hailed as a step in eliminating the smudge pot nuisance in California orchards, which was the subject of recent legislation, a hot wind generating machine was recently demonstrated here. The machine, which has been in process of development for several years, is said to give protection against frost to ten acres. A smokeless oil burning boiler provides hot air which is fed up a flue to a circulating fan.

Nazis Exhibit Paintings as "Warning" to Artists

MUNICH, July 28.—[Special.]—Paintings and sculptures on display in an exhibition sponsored by the Nazi régime "will serve as a warning and an awful example" for German artists of the future, according to Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda. Goebbels' utterance struck the keynote for a display of what the Nazis consider the worst paintings under the "Jewish-Marxist" influence of pre-Hitler art.

RESETTLEMENT'S WORKERS STRIKE; PROTEST 'WASTE'

Inefficiency Also Charged at Federal Project.

Elkins, W. Va., July 28.—[Special.]—Asserting they are "fed up" with the inefficient and wasteful management of the Tygart valley homestead near here, two-thirds of the men workers on the federal resettlement project went on strike today.

Elected leaders of the homesteaders called a walkout on construction work at the project. The board of directors of the Tygart Valley association said 98 of the 150 men workers refused to labor on the erection of more houses and at a limestone crushing plant.

Work continued on the coöperative farm which is managed by the elected directors. The workers live on their homesteads and work the big tract of land allotted to them.

Board Altered Three Times.

The project was started in 1933 with a federal grant of $400,000. The fields lay among the picturesque mountains of north central West Virginia. Since the project began, the board of directors, elected by the homesteaders to administer the work of the community, has been changed three times.

The present five man board listed five reasons for calling the strike. They are:

1. Inefficient management.
2. Waste of federal and Tygart Valley association funds.
3. Attempts on the part of the resettlement officers to "cover up and protect one another" in this waste.
4. Disregard of all principles of democracy in the management of the project.
5. Construction of a community center by private contract and not by government contract.

Charges Against Engineer.

Director Robert Z. Willson said the main reason for calling the strike was to protest against the "inefficient management of the resettlement administration in general and specifically against L. Wade Coberly, resident engineer, for participating in this inefficient management."

Coberly later commented that the charges were "unfounded, trumped up, and misrepresented."

SAN FRANCISCO HOTEL STRIKE OFFICIALLY IS ENDED ON 89TH DAY

San Francisco, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—The 89 day old hotel strike here was officially called off late today. Pickets were ordered withdrawn and nineteen of the city's largest hostelries immediately began preparations to reopen.

Representatives of the operators and of the involved unions swept away the last barriers to peace and signed agreements designed to preclude either strikes or lockouts for the next four years.

Union employés with a few exceptions will be accorded preferential hiring and will return to work pending arbitration of union demands for wage increases and a forty hour week.

N. Y. 'MOUNTIE' REPORTED HELD FOR LOVE SLAYING

Lumps of Sugar, Police Bullet Are Clews.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—A suspect in the murder of Miss Irma Louise Pradier, a French maid, was reported found by police tonight among their own mounted officers.

Three hundred "mounties" have been questioned by homicide officers during the last week about the petite domestic whose bullet pierced body was found eight days ago along the Harlem river drive. She had been shot and apparently tossed from an automobile in gangster style.

Detectives were secretive about the identity of the suspect, but it was indicated they were questioning him in some unrevealed place.

Seventy-five Escape Questioning.

Belief that a suspect was in custody was strengthened when officers working on the case abruptly dismissed a lineup of 50 to 75 mounted men who were to have been questioned late today.

Police turned to questioning their own putteed ranks upon the basis of six lumps of sugar found in the dead maid's pockets and ballistics tests. It was suggested the woman might have struck up a friendship with a killer while feeding sugar to his horse.

Killed by Police Bullet.

The ballistics tests showed bullets of the type used in police service pistols had killed the domestic. It was reported the victim had been a frequent visitor at the armory where mounted police practiced maneuvers and that she had been seen in company of a mounted policeman on three occasions.

Following this line of reasoning, the assumption was that the suspect was attached to the troop which stables its mounts at the squadron "A" armory of the New York National Guard at 94th street and Madison avenue.

Quits Hospital Job to Wed.

The body of the woman, who was 35 years old, was found on July 20, only a few hours after she had quit her job in a hospital. She told acquaintances she was quitting to get married.

That same day she drew her savings of $314 from a bank and had checked her baggage at an express office. The money was not in her purse when her body was found.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. PHILADELPHIA MAYOR PLANS SOVIET SNUB; WON'T GREET 3 FLYERS

Philadelphia, Pa., July 28.—[Special.]—The three soviet airmen who flew from Moscow to California will be officially snubbed when they come to this city on Monday.

Mayor S. Davis Wilson issued a statement today saying the mayor is not giving the soviet flyers an official welcome and adding that no one has been authorized by him to make arrangements for a public celebration.

"He has instructed Albert L. Wolf, chairman of the mayor's aviation committee, not to participate in the movement to give them an official welcome," the statement added. "The movement has no official standing."

The mayor did not explain his decision.

Third Plane May Fly Today.

Fairbanks, Alaska, July 28.—(AP)—A source usually reliable, tonight reported a third projected trans-Polar Russian airplane flight would start from Moscow at 8 a. m. [Chicago time] tomorrow.

The authority for the report said the soviet plane would be powered with four motors and otherwise is different from the two other Russian planes which were successful in their trans-Polar flights.

The ship will carry four or possibly five persons, the source said. It also was stated, but not authoritatively, that the ship might refuel here and take off for Chicago or New York.

WINDSORS REACH VENICE; FRIENDS ARE GATHERING

VENICE, July 28.—(AP)—The duke and duchess of Windsor forsook the seclusion of their Austrian honeymoon castle tonight for the sunny glare of the fashionable Lido, one of the world's most famous resorts. The couple arrived on the evening express from Salzburg.

Hotel reservations at the Adriatic playground indicated the duke and his bride would have a gay week's stay. Friends, many of them faithful through Great Britain's abdication crisis, were gathering by sea and land.

The former British monarch reserved sumptuous apartments in Hotel Excelsior.

One of the duke's friends, the British yachtsman, A. S. Butler, was on his way to Venice aboard his yacht Sylvia, and another friend, Lord Beatty, also was en route by yacht. Baron Eugene de Rothschild was due from Vienna tomorrow.

SUBMITS BILL TO COMPEL DOCTORS TO AID INDIGENTS

Senator Lewis Proposes Medical Program.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—A bill which would make all physicians and surgeons in the country "civil officers of the United States" and require them to give any medical aid requested by an impoverished individual was introduced in the senate today by Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.].

The proposal, which is strenuously opposed by the American Medical association, provides that physicians and hospitals giving service to indigent individuals would be authorized to submit bills to the social security board for payment.

Severe Penalties Provided.

There would be penalties, including a fine of not more than $1,000 and imprisonment of not more than three months, for any doctor who refused to give aid to an indigent person or who submitted a fraudulent or exorbitant bill to the social security board.

In a preamble to the bill the Illinois senator set forth the grounds on which he bases his proposal for collectivized medicine.

Pointing out that the federal government now has recognized its social responsibility to its citizens by the enactment of the social security act, Lewis declared that an extension of such responsibility is necessary to provide adequate medical care and attention for the impoverished and needy "to assure the full enjoyment of social security."

Asks for Advice.

Lewis first made his suggestion in a speech before the medical association convention in Atlantic City, N. J., early in June. At that time he asked the association for advice in formulating a public health policy.

By the assertion he had "just talked to the President," the senator gave at least some of his convention listeners the idea he was carrying a message from Mr. Roosevelt. Others were convinced, however, the Chicago legislator was acting entirely on his own.

Lewis says himself he offered the bill on his own responsibility; that it was proposed by no organization or interest. He also admitted his speech in Atlantic City stirred up a great controversy and that the A. M. A. wrote a letter to Mr. Roosevelt expressing their apprehensions about the advisability of such a law.

In Chicago, Dr. Olin West, secretary of the medical association, termed it the "most complete regimentation of physicians that possibly could be accomplished."

"From press dispatches—I haven't yet seen a copy of the bill—the Lewis measure appears opposed to every policy that the organized medical profession has stood for," said Dr. West.

CONGRESS PUTS FARM PRICE CONTROL BILL BACK IN PIGEON HOLE

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(AP)—Congressional leaders today abandoned all attempts to pass legislation at this session to stabilize general farm prices.

The house agriculture committee decided to join the similar senate committee in postponing action on the legislation, which includes administration proposals for the "ever normal granary" and crop control.

Chairman Jones [D., Tex.] said a conference yesterday with representatives of national farm organizations developed wide differences of views on the legislation.

DIGNITY DROPPED

By CALEB

A GAVEL dropped with a resounding thwack. It repeated its sharp admonition. There was a bustle of people adjusting themselves in their seats. Others found places in a subsiding storm of disorder and whispers.

A voice rang out, "Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye, the . . . Court . . . of . . . Illinois is in session!"

•

A FEW hours later, the revolving doors were singing their busy roundelay. One person detached himself from the two streams of humanity passing into and out of the building. The locale, Marshall Field & Company's first floor. The individual who stepped aside from the wide inflowing stream sought out a floor manager.

"Where will I find toys?"

"Fourth floor," answered the floor manager. "Take the nearest elevators and go to the Wabash side of the store."

"Fourth floor, eh? Used to be eighth floor." And he looked directly into the floor manager's face with the assurance of a man who knows what he's talking about.

"Eighth floor?" questioned the floor manager. "You have a good memory, sir. It's true, toys used to be on the eighth floor, but I should say that must have been at least twenty-five years ago."

"Well," responded the visitor, "it's longer ago than that I used to come here. My mother used to bring me in and leave me here while she shopped. There were slides and rocking horses. Hah, I can remember now! Do you still have a place like that?"

"Yes, sir. You'll find it in the north Wabash corner of the fourth floor."

The visitor smiled. "Well, I was here often forty years ago as a child and my mother bought me many things. I am going to your fourth floor now to buy some things for my boy."

The visitor marched off.

Just then a lawyer, who is a good customer, stepped up to the floor manager. "That is Judge —— from ——. Do you know him?"

"Well, the store has known him for over forty years," said the floor manager. "Judge, did you say? He sounded more to me like a kid getting back to the old home swimming hole."

BOMBINGS LEAVE RUINS IN WAKE OF KING'S IRISH VISIT

28 Customs Houses, Rail Bridge Wrecked.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 28.—The ruins of twenty-eight customs houses and one railway bridge bombed and burned marked Irish republican disapproval of the British sovereigns' post-coronation visit to Northern Ireland, as King George VI. of Great Britain and Queen Elizabeth reëmbarked for London tonight.

The king and queen were not told during their one day visit to Belfast of the violence that wrecked every custom house along the sixty miles of the Ulster-Irish Free State frontier, and cut rail and wire communication between Dublin and Belfast to a minimum.

It was taken for granted that the illegal Irish republican army did the work.

Reception Delights Sovereigns.

The British rulers were delighted with the enthusiastic reception given them by the crowds as the sovereigns rode in a parade under the watchful eyes of a heavy guard.

Four thousand special police were drafted to Belfast from the border for the occasion, and every one coming from a "nationalist" section of the city was searched before passing police lines.

Armed guards were stationed atop buildings along the royal route and armored cars rolled through the streets on patrol.

After the king and queen reached the city hall, the structure was shaken by an explosion apparently intended to wreck the main power and light plant of Belfast. It was announced at first that a gas leakage caused the explosion, but police later admitted a "land mine" had been planted next to the power building in an effort to paralyze the city's light service. The bombers, police said, planted the mine during the royal procession, while streets near the power plant were deserted.

Fuses Found at Scene.

Long fuses were found. The building was damaged and a large hole blown in the sidewalk.

In the early hours of the morning, while the royal party was crossing the North channel from Scotland to the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, accompanied by nine warships, raiding parties of six or seven swept down on the customs posts. They held up officers with pistols, rifles and submachine guns and threw incendiary bombs into the buildings.

At Newry they added insult to injury by forcing policemen to throw gasoline on the building before setting it afire.

A railway bridge near Dundalk, on the main Dublin-Belfast line, was blown up in an attempt to keep Irish Free State residents from attending the ceremonies.

Four mines were put under it last night, but only one exploded. The line also was mined at Drogheda, but after three hours' delay trains were able to proceed slowly.

HORNER PLEDGES QUICK ACTION ON DRIVERS' LICENSE

Expect Special Call of Assembly.

Salem, Ill., July 28.—[Special.]—Gov. Henry Horner indicated to a crowd of several thousand downstate Democrats at a rally here today that he will call the legislature into special session in the fall to pass a drivers' license law.

The governor, in his speech, lamented the fact that the regular session failed to enact the safety measure, but told the crowd that he hoped one would soon be on the statute books. This would mean a special session, because the legislature is not scheduled to meet regularly until a year from January.

Attachés of the governor's office, here for the rally, which had Postmaster General James A. Farley as the chief spellbinder, said that Mr. Horner is accumulating matters rapidly in the envelope he reserves for matters important enough to warant emergency consideration by the assembly. These are thought to include a plan for a state school board.

The best guess of these attachés as the probable date for the special is October. In his speech Mr. Horner said that the state was endeavoring to make all use it could of the Lewis law which permits judges to bar drunken or reckless drivers from operating motor vehicles for a period up to one year.

Postmaster General Farley, who appeared at the rally in the course of a tour dedicating postoffices in southern Illinois, predicted that President Roosevelt would fare well with future historians. He reasserted that the present administration had ended the depression.

Most of the Democratic politicians in Egypt were present today and the presiding officer was State Treasurer John C. Martin, who lives here. Martin has been mentioned as a possible recipient of Gov. Horner's support for the nomination for United States senator next year.

STARVING BABY APE SAVED FROM SAVAGE MOTHER

Thriving on Diet Fed with Eyedropper.

A starving baby chimpanzee has been rescued from her savage 200 pound mother in the Chicago Zoological park and is thriving on a diet of powdered milk in the home of Edward H. Bean, director of the zoo.

The infant chimp is Eve, weighing 3½ pounds. She was born June 26 to Meshie and her mate, Big Mike, the ferocious apes who mangled both arms of Arthur Aitken, head keeper of the monkey house, last March 29.

Despite Meshie's bad reputation and the well known tendency of chimpanzee mothers to brook no interference, Robert Bean, assistant director, determined to rescue the baby when its mother, who is ailing, failed to feed it for twenty hours.

Mother Spurns Baby.

Calling at the primate house shortly before midnight Tuesday, it was revealed yesterday, Bean found the baby whining piteously. Meshie lay in a corner.

Bean summoned a keeper and then tried to persuade Meshie to nurse her baby. When the big chimp did not respond, Bean opened the cage, entered it, and seized the baby. Apparently because of her illness, Meshie did not attack him.

Bean carried the baby home and a child specialist was called to prescribe a diet for it. A formula was prepared and administered with an eyedropper.

Ill Since Eve's Birth.

"The baby is very good," said Bean. "She opens her mouth and waits for us to drop in the milk. She was hungry, and would enjoy being fed oftener, but we must go slowly at first."

If Meshie recovers her health, her baby will be returned to her, the zoo official said. She refuses to eat, lying listlessly in her cage and paying little heed to visitors. She has been ailing ever since Eve's birth.

TWO CHILDREN DIE IN TRAFIC; DRIVER FLEES

A hit and run driver fatally injured Frank Ptassynski, 7 years old, in front of 1347 North Paulina street last night. The boy, who lived at 1342 Dean street, died in the North Avenue hospital.

Struck by a delivery truck at Harrison street and Kildare avenue Tuesday night, Irene Egan, 9 years old, of 4812 Congress street, died last night in Garfield Park hospital.

Edwin L. Pickett, 40 years old, of Rural Route 1, Glenview, died yesterday in St. Francis hospital of injuries incurred Tuesday when his motorcycle collided with an automobile in Niles Center.

On June 30 the state legislature, because of a patronage feud, missed its last chance to enact a drivers' license law which has reduced trafic accidents in some states. Since then and up to 4 p. m. yesterday 58 persons have been killed and 1,923 injured in automobile accidents in Chicago. Since Jan. 1 trafic accidents have killed 586 persons in the county, including 457 in Chicago, according to the coroner's office. During the same period 12,567 have been injured in auto accidents in the city.

JUDGES TESTIFY FOR ATTORNEY IN CONSPIRACY CASE

Defend Tate's Reputation in Accident Trial.

Judges, attorneys, and business men went to the defense of Attorney Murphy O. Tate yesterday in his ambulance chasing trial before a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Peter Schwaba. Tate, Attorneys Leo M. Tarpey and George N. Welsh, and Dr. A. B. Rotche are accused of plotting fake accident claims to defraud the Chicago Surface Lines.

Each witness, under the questioning of Defense Attorney Benedict J. Short, testified as to Tate's excellent reputation.

Court Argument Told.

Judge A. G. Kennedy of De Kalb, who was sitting in the Superior court last Nov. 30, also told the jury how Attorney Tate on that day argued for more than three hours against a motion for a new trial in a case which involved an award of $40,000 to H. R. Parker, a client of Tate's.

It was on Nov. 30 that, according to George L. West, the state's star witness, Tate spent considerable time convincing the self-styled ambulance chaser that he should leave town until the investigation into fake accidents had blown over.

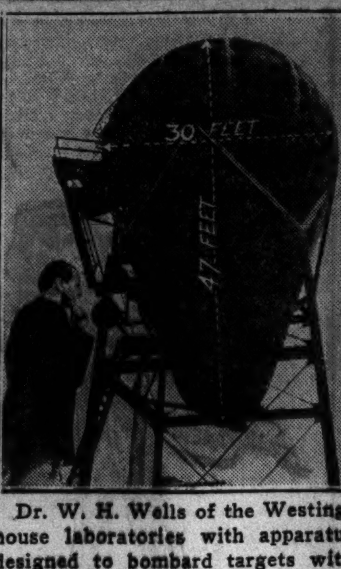
Judge Kennedy's testimony that Tate had spent that day in court and therefore couldn't have been conspiring, was corroborated by Dan L. Wilkinson, deputy clerk of the Superior court, and by Robert Manning, official court reporter.

Judges Give Testimony.

Among the more than a score of character witnesses who took the stand during the day were Judges Oscar Nelson, William J. Lindsay, and Francis Borrelli, former State's Attorney John A. Swanson, and Russel B. Carlson, a teller at the First National bank of Chicago.

The conspiracy charges against the four defendants grew out of a street car collision Nov. 20, 1936, at Clark and 18th streets, after which accident claims were filed by "passengers" on an empty street car.

ATOM SMASHER



Dr. W. H. Wells of the Westinghouse laboratories with apparatus designed to bombard targets with submiscroscopic particles shot out at velocities of 30 to 100 million miles an hour.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 28.—[Special.]—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company's "atom smasher" is nearing completion here under the direction of research engineers who hope to hurl 5,000,000 volts from the huge generator in a terrific bombardment of the atom. In the job of disintegrating the atom lies the hope of solving much of the mystery surrounding the structure of matter.

The company has set aside a separate building for the tests, with Dr. William H. Wells, a graduate of Amherst, in charge. The ultimate result of the project cannot be foreseen, but the scientists point out that there has been little fundamental knowledge gained by science that has not been put to practical use.

HE OWES EX-WIFE $3,300, BUT HE KEEPS FREEDOM

Judge Says Ex-Husband Can't Pay if in Jail.

Judge Daniel P. Trude yesterday refused to send a $25 a week clerk to alimony row in the county jail. He told the ex-wife that putting her husband in jail where he could earn nothing did not appear to be a reasonable way to collect $3,300 he owes for support of a daughter.

Mrs. Marie Clare.

The defendant James Runkle, 43 years old, 5045 Maypole avenue, was divorced in 1923 by his wife, now Mrs. Marie Runkle Clare, 5323 Barry avenue. He was ordered to pay $5 a week for support of their daughter, La Verne, now 17 years old.

Mrs. Clare, who remarried in 1924, testified he disappeared and failed to support the child. She did not learn where he lived, Mrs. Clare said, until four years ago when she read in a community newspaper that a fifth child had been born to his second wife.

He Starts to Pay Up.

Last December Mrs. Clare succeeded in bringing Runkle to court. Since then, by court order, Runkle said he had been paying Mrs. Clare $5 a week to pay up the arrearage and $5 a week for support of La Verne. His salary as a printing company clerk, Runkle said, is $25 a week.

"I need more money than the $10 a week he is paying," testified Mrs. Clare, who is 40 years old. "If you send him to jail he'll get the money and pay up what he owes."

"That is not a very good solution," commented Judge Trude.

"After all, alimony row is only a good hotel for many men who don't mind staying inside," the court continued. "Sending Runkle there will do you no good. He won't be able to earn money in jail.

Sees Benefits in Rock Pile.

"If it were possible to put some of these men on a rock pile and let them work to pay off their arrearage, and have the money turned over to their families, then we might have a salutary solution."

Judge Trude then continued the hearing until Aug. 11. Meanwhile the judge suggested that Mrs. Clare consider taking a judgment against Runkle on which she could then collect by such attachment proceedings as the law permits.

Dives in Lake to Rescue Brother in Boat; Drowns

Edward Malinowski, 15 years old, 5232 Winnemac avenue, was drowned yesterday in Cedar lake, near Lake Villa, when he plunged from a raft to rescue his brother, Irwin, 14 years old, who was in trouble in a nearby boat in the rough water. The younger boy was unable to swim, but brought the boat to shore. Edward's body was recovered by the Antioch fire department. It was the eighteenth drowning in Lake county this year, compared with a total of thirteen last year.

STATE RELIES ON 'TIRED' MOTIVE IN N. Y. SLAYING

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—When Stanley A. Martin Jr. surrendered after strangling Mrs. Florence Jackson to death he said: "I killed her because she begged me to do it. Our love was hopeless."

But today the state pieced together a far different version—the one on which it will rely to send Martin to the electric chair for first degree murder.

From Mrs. Jackson's attorney, Julius Garrell of Astoria, Queens, the Queens district attorney learned that Mrs. Jackson had retained him to obtain an absolute divorce from Bert Jackson, father of her two babies, and that she had completed plans for the suit less than 24 hours before she was killed.

Three of seven letters were made public by the Queens district attorney as his deputies stroke to prove that Martin had tired of the matron.

FIVE FIREMEN BURNED IN TAR WAGON BLAST

Five Des Plaines firemen were burned, two seriously, yesterday when the gasoline tank on a blazing tar wagon exploded while they fought the flames which enveloped the wagon on East River road near Central road, two miles north of the suburb. The wagon was being used by a road repair crew.

The most seriously burned were Chief Walter Lazerhausen, 42 years old, and Henry Wolf, 46, who were taken to the Northwestern hospital in Des Plaines. The others, who were treated there and then sent home, are Ben Stangor, 40; Wallace Kinder, 45, and George Lazerhausen, brother of the chief. All except the chief are volunteer firemen.

A dozen workmen escaped injury in the blast, which resulted from a fire starting when the tar overheated.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CONGRESS "ATTACHES A COUNCIL."

The house of representatives has passed the bill giving the White House six additional staf assistants. The roll call which sent the measure over to the senate was 260 to 88. Some of the opposing faction were ironic and derisive, referring to the "pack the White House act."

The proposal was one made in the report of the President's committee on administrative management, signed by Louis Brownlow, chairman; Charles E. Merriam, Luther Gulick, and Joseph P. Harris, director of research. It has its possibilities.

When James Wilson was fashioning the office of chief executive to his own will in the constitutional convention back in 1787, in spite of the skepticism and the protracted opposition of his doubting fellow delegates, he was asked if he desired "to attach a council." No, Mr. Wilson, a Scot by birth and Scottish educated, emphatically did not desire to attach a council.

Englishmen from the time of Henry VII. had found the king's council a source of danger to their liberties. Its most obnoxious form was, of course, in the star chamber which could do things impossible even in the king ridden judiciary. Later the more modern idea developed that the king could do no wrong because he acted upon the advice of his administrators and they were responsible.

Very likely Mr. Wilson's associates in the constitutional convention twitted him about attaching a council as a way of smiling at his zeal in promoting an idea they regarded as impractical if not dangerous. There is no need to go further with this than to say that almost at the end of the convention sessions the persistent Scot succeeded, and he may have saved the republican experiment from falling to pieces under a triumvirate or from falling under the complete control of a dominating representative assembly which might not have had any more luck than the parliaments of the Cromwellian revolution.

Other 1787 delegates feared that they'd find a dictator in the powerful presidency they at last were persuaded to accept. The greater probability is that Mr. Wilson provided the nation with an avoidance of dictatorship by giving the people an executive elected by them, even if indirectly through the electoral college, which was his own invention.

When the federal government lately struck out into new fields of management and control and the development of new ideas of responsibility and authority its first step was in the direction of governmental corporations and distinguished from governmental departments, the corporation being less restricted by dependence on congress and by financial accountability. Each year since this was begun there has been an effort to escape from the confinement of the department into the greater liberty of the corporation or administration. Departments already are secondary. The administration wants TVA's.

Ostensibly the proposal to give the President a new staf of assistants is to make it easier for him to obtain information, to know more about the needs of the country requiring legislation—heaven forbid—to make the interplay between governmental agencies more intelligent and more effectual, to give advice to the chief executive and to take some of the burdens off his shoulders. Derisive congressmen refer to the proposed staf as one of messenger boys. So it may appear at present.

Once a governmental agency is created its determination is to enhance its value and increase its activities and authority. Gradually, it may be presumed, the staf of learned clerks will be the most influential men in the government. A President would come to regard the man on his personal staf as more important than the man at the head of a department. Why should he hold cabinet meetings when his real advisers are on his personal staf? The man of greatest influence would rather be at the President's elbow in the White House than over in a chair in some department building.

Mr. Roosevelt may not be about to attach a council, but all his recommendations are for things outside the old frame of American government.

THE HORN DRIVER.

Of all the peculiarities of human nature the psychology of the horn driver is one of the least understandable. Obviously these individuals are in a hurry, and, this being the case, why do they go to such pains to impede progress by antagonizing every other driver on the highway? If Mr. Tooter would analyze his own reactions he would discover that his raucous blasts defeat their own purpose.

Take the case of a car standing at an intersection because the trafic signal is red. As it flashes to orange the second or third motorist in the line toots his horn. Unless the leader happens to be Mr. Milquetoast he will take his time about starting—indeed, there is a strong tendency to reverse gears and back into Mr. Impatience.

Then there is another driver maintaining average speed along a chosen lane on a broad highway. He receives a peremptory summons from the rear to get out of the way. Will he swerve to the right or left? He will not. He will stiffen his course more nearly in the center of the road for no other reason than that it is the human thing to do.

Dozens of such instances could be recounted, but they would culminate in the most ludicrous of all—the portrait of a man trying to start the stalled car ahead of him by tooting his horn at it. The chances are ten to one that the owner of the defective machine will decide to take a peek under the hood. Ostensibly he will be looking for the cause of his trouble, but in reality he will be seeking to control his natural pugnacity or deliberately delaying the impatient and unsympathetic operator of the horn.

SPEAKING OF YACHT RACES.

On Saturday Mr. Vanderbilt and his crew of professionals will try to beat Mr. Sopwith and his crew of professionals in the first of a series of thirty mile races. If the wind blows too hard the race will be called off. If the wind fails the contest will be canceled. The races will last less than three hours each. None of the participants will be subjected to any of the discomforts of sleeping or eating in crowded quarters on a rough sea.

All this is said not in disparagement of the international race which is tops of its kind, but only to point the contrast between that contest and the race to Mackinac, just completed. It is the difference between hocky as played at Vassar and hocky as played at the Stadium. It is the difference between a horse show and a rodeo.

The Mackinac race started this year in weather so mild that it would have meant no dice off Martha's Vineyard. The next day was the day of the big show. In that kind of wind Ranger and Endeavour are kept tied up in sheltered water for fear somebody might get hurt. The amateur sailors of the Mackinac race had to take it. Some of them headed for ports of safety, but the rest shortened canvas and kept on going, though the food was sketchy and sleep was pretty much out of the question.

George Ade sailed in the 1911 race, the year of the 90 mile gale. "I proved myself every inch a sailor," he observed as he staggered ashore, "except for some six inches amidships."

The Mackinac race calls for all the skill which is required of the international skippers and crews and a lot beside, including physical courage and endurance. The competitors down east no doubt have these qualities, too, but they get no chance to display them. Lake Michigan generally can be counted upon to make our race tough enough for anybody's taste.

DOGGONE LIBERAL.

Number 728 in the treaty series of the United States department of state is a convention between this country and Great Britain signed in London in December, 1924, ratified and proclaimed the following year. The preface is a proclamation by the President of the United States, then Mr. Coolidge, and its whereases contain the full articles of the mandate of Great Britain over Palestine.

The convention itself provides for the rights of the United States in Palestine under British control. The seventh article of the convention states that: "Nothing contained in the present convention shall be affected by any modification which may be made in the terms of the mandate, as recited above, unless such modification shall have been assented to by the United States."

Great Britain proposes to modify the mandate by setting up a Jewish state and an Arab state separated by a British corridor. The British foreign office already has consulted the American state department. Apparently we must consent to a procedure by which Great Britain seeks to solve one of its most vexatious problems or the thing can't be done. Most of the Jewish citizens of the United States are opposed to the plan. Mr. Hull's embarrassment may be imagined. Mr. Kellogg as secretary of state handed him this one.

Many liberal British statesmen, probably recognizing the American predicament, have suggested that the mandate be turned over to the United States. We'll admit that's damn liberal of them. The only comparable outburst of generosity was when we were offered the mandate for the Armenians. We got out of that by giving the Armenians $12,000,000 and allowing them to be absorbed or liquidated by Russia, Persia and Turkey.

CARRIERS OF VENEREAL DISEASE.

A number of judges have said that present laws are inadequate to prevent the spread of syphilis and gonorrhea by prostitutes. Under state law, solicitation for prostitution is punishable by a year's imprisonment, during which the disease might be checked or cured, but, because of the difficulty of assembling the evidence to convict on this charge, the women are almost always booked for disorderly conduct. For this offense a fine is the only penalty. Judge Hermes reported that 22 women, known to be infected, paid their fines the other day and were therefore released.

The situation is plainly in need of correction. Perhaps it can be remedied without new legislation. The police power of the state to deal with communicable diseases is wide. Health officers have large, though of course not unlimited, powers to deal with disease carriers. Quarantines can be established and the freedom of movement of those likely to spread disease can be restricted. Refusal to obey the orders of the health authorities can be punished.

Coöperation between the city health department and the judges of the Women's court might prove of much value in checking an important source of venereal infection in Chicago. Perhaps the corporation counsel can establish the legal basis for instituting the desired controls.

PRIVATE PHILANTHROPY CONTINUES.

[Peoria Journal-Transcript.]

In recent years the nation has become accustomed to public gifts on a large scale. But fortunately private philanthropists have not felt themselves relieved of responsibility. A survey of six large cities shows that bequests and gifts for philanthropic causes have increased more than 100 per cent during the last year. The total for the first six months of 1937 was $115,103,196, as compared to $50,895,621 for the first half of 1936.

More than half the total, $77,500,915, was given to education. The next largest amount, $28,340,627, went to organized relief. After these came donations for health activities, religious causes, foreign relief, miscellaneous reform, fine arts, and recreation.

Whether these gifts were made because of an awakening social conscience or in order to avoid taxes, the fact remains that Americans are generous givers. This growing philanthropy gives hope that the nation is not completely and irrevocably committed to a system of government donation.

PEGASUS IS PAGED.

Of course you can remember how it is when a budding journalist gets his first job. He longs to put his soul in his copy, to write a powerful, heart wrenching story—that's why he grows to hate city editors with no souls at all. . . . One of the ambitious ones worked with me on a Hometown sheet; for months he had only prosaic pieces. Then came his chance. An old recluse was found dead in his shack and, although death was due to natural causes, the cub sat down to write a masterpiece. "John Blank, 75, a recluse, was found dead in his shack near the river in Forest Park," he began. Then the machine was silent for minutes. Inspiration finally reached our hero, and he went on: "He died as he lived—a bachelor." Badger.

BACKSTAGE HOMETOWN.

I wonder how many of the Liners ever took part in the plays that were put on at the Opery house during the long winters in old Hometown. . . . Once we were putting on that heart shredding drama East Lynne and I had the part of the villainous Barbara. If you remember, she finally plunges to her death off a cliff. Well, I plunged all right, then got up and ran downstairs to the dressing room. I had forgotten that the clump-clump of feet on the stairs resounded more plainly than the lines of the not-so-well-trained actors. And as I reached the door of the dressing room I heard a town wag, whom I knew quite well, say in a voice that could be heard by the entire audience: "Wal, that's jest like her; she never would stay put." Where pain's wild arrows, sorrow's icy grip,
Will reach and hurl in vain for this scarred heart.

What naïveté your song reveals to me,

WHEN THE BLACK WIDOW BITES.

BITES from the black widow [lactrodectus mactan], while increasing in frequency, are apparently less severe because accurate information as to what to do is more widespread. In other words, deaths are now relatively few in number. A recent report from the Fresno [California] county hospital lists ninety-six cases without a single fatality; in the last forty-four no one of the patients was critically ill.

Because of the wide distribution of this pest every one should be able to recognize it. Special alertness should be exercised by vacationists who occupy cottages or cabins that have been closed for months, thus affording the insect a splendid opportunity for nest building and breeding. Spaces beneath porches, corners of unused rooms, the exposed rafters of garages, outdoor privies, piles of lumber, etc., are favorite locations. The web is coarse and stringy and lacks the beautiful geometrical precision woven by most of our harmless varieties.

The female black widow—also known as the shoe button or hourglass spider from the shape of the bright red patch on the under surface of the body—carries the venom.

If the patient reports to a physician promptly—within three or four hours after the bite—no visible wound may be detectable. The individual will relate, as a rule, that he felt a sharp, smarting, stinging sensation. Within an hour or two cramps in the thighs ranging upward across the abdomen appear and a short time thereafter the pain centers in the abdominal area and is accompanied with nausea and vomiting. Soon the ache in the thighs becomes more intense, extending to the legs and feet, and help is needed because of the severe suffering.

The symptoms simulate so closely some trouble within the abdomen—such as a ruptured stomach ulcer, acute appendix, etc.—that a careful examination must be made. In the first place, the rigidity of the abdominal muscles is quite characteristic of the insect bite. Furthermore, there are cramps in the arms and shoulders as well as in the legs and feet. The distinction can be made when we understand that the first pain in disease of the viscera is in that location only. The person with ruptured ulcer desires to remain perfectly quiet—in fact, will resist being moved even to turn over on his side in bed. The black widow victim, however, can sit up and move about and is usually seeking a comfortable position.

Unfortunately—where the possibility of spider bite has not been considered—some cases have been rushed to a hospital for emergency operation because of the similarity of symptoms noted above. For this reason, in every case of abdominal pain excruciating in character, the rôle of insect venom should be investigated. Fatalities for the most part occurred in children where treatment had been delayed.

As a result of the experience of many physicians a standard treatment has been recommended. At the outset some narcotic is administered to ease the discomfort. This is followed by the intravenous injection of a solution of magnesium sulphate. Some one of the barbituric acid compounds may be given for restlessness, and later glucose is injected directly into a vein. Calcium gluconate or calcium chloride is helpful in relieving the intense cramps. Convalescent serum has been of value in certain instances. The average stay in the hospital under this type of management is between three and four days and within six to eight days thereafter the patient is quite himself again.

We must recall also that these "critters" may inoculate along with their special poison sizable quantities of bacteria and within twenty-four to forty-eight hours the site of the bite may become intensely inflamed. The wound may then require as much attention as the general condition of the patient who by that time is probably over the worst effects of the toxin.

Children are likely to make playhouses of unused sheds, barns, and attics and—before occupancy — these places should be cleaned out, particularly of webs. An insect killing spray is a useful preventive.

RHEUMATIC PAINS.

A. S. writes: For the last two years I have suffered from rheumatic pains in the thighs. I am 16 years old. I have taken physiotherapy at a nearby hospital. I live near the ocean and I am tempted to go in for a swim. Would this be harmful?

REPLY.

Swimming in moderation is permissible.

VISIT A DENTIST.

C. M. A. writes: When my daughter was a year old she fell with a bottle in her mouth. Now, at 3 years of age, her front teeth are loose and decayed. Is this dangerous?

REPLY.

Tooth decay, regardless of the cause, is always a source of infection. Your little daughter should visit a dentist at once.

ILLUSIONS.

S. P. writes: Occasionally when I wake up during the night everything seems out of proportion. The pillow is twice its regular size and so are the windows. What is wrong?

REPLY.

COD LIVER OIL.

J. B. writes:

1. Does taking cod liver oil have anything to do with making the face oily?
2. Is it harmful to take cod liver oil if it is not needed?

REPLY.

1. Probably not.
2. Not in ordinary doses, but if you don't need it, why take it?

FEVER BLISTERS.

T. U. writes: Are fever blisters an allergic manifestation?

REPLY.

Many believe that they are. They are definitly a nerve irritation in which the nerve filament ending in the skin becomes inflamed. Many persons will develop them if they become unduly fatigued. At times they will appear following indiscretions in diet. Spirits of camphor applied frequently is an excellent local remedy.

LIABILITY ON NOTE.

Chicago, July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In 1929 I borrowed several hundred dollars from a relative on promissory note to save some property. Then hard times set in and I lost the property as we could not sell it. I have been able to pay up the interest as it comes due and have made small payments on the principal. I have receipts for all amounts paid on interest and principal.

1. Can he sue and force me to pay the entire amount of note again?

2. Would the receipts I have showing amounts paid and applied on principal of note protect me from being forced to pay entire note again? I have other debts to pay. I have asked him to take a new note for balance due and he refuses for reasons unknown to me. W. C. O.

1. Not as we understand the facts.
2. Yes, as long as the note is in the hands of the party with whom you dealt, but in general a person making such payments should see that the payments are indorsed on the note, so that if the note is transferred the new holder will be charged with notice.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

Chicago, July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a mechanic's lien foreclose on a home before the first mortgage party? 2. Can a material lien foreclose before the first mortgage? J. E.

1. Obviously he can file a bill for foreclosure before the other party does. If what you mean to ask is as to priority in payment, the lien would come ahead of the first mortgage only with respect to enhancement in value due to the improvement.

THE FUTURE OF THE ELEVATED.

Chicago, July 24.—It is hardly to be expected that the surface lines and the motor coach company should be enthusiastic about any proposal that they consolidate with an enterprise which, due to changing conditions and the march of progress, is so unfavorably situated financially as the Rapid Transit Lines.

Therefore, inasmuch as the Chicago Surface Lines and the Chicago Motor Coach seem disposed to consolidate, why not let them go ahead? It would at least be a start toward a universal system, and to a certain degree would simplify future negotiations with the Rapid Transit Lines.

Further extensions to the present "L" structure being financially prohibitive, let us consider an alternative. Elaborating upon your recent suggestion that the "L" right of way be used, where practicable, for superhighways, visualize, if you please, the following picture: The present "L" structure in the loop entirely paved and used exclusively by buses operating an express service on all superhighways radiating from the loop whether constructed on the present "L" right of way or on the new superhighways so strongly advocated by THE TRIBUNE and all forward looking citizens.

With frequent four lane service on the loop structure the need for surface services would be materially reduced with a consequent lessening of surface congestion. With loading zones and pedestrian ramps on the superhighways located every quarter mile or so, schedules could be staggered so that buses would make only one stop per mile, thereby retaining the advantages of an upper grade road. Private cars gaining access to the superhighways at the outskirts of the loop should not interfere with the buses, and a temporary transfer system between the surface services and the "L" buses might be arranged pending a final consolidation.

Investors in the Rapid Transit Lines could be reimbursed by tolls on private cars using their right of way. With both private cars and buses paying a toll, the expense involved in superhighway construction would be defrayed in a period of time heretofore not thought possible.

It seems to me that we have here a possible solution to the superhighway problem as well as the traction problem.

CHARLES E. GROSS.

BREAD AND BUTTER NOTE.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—I have just returned from Chicago. After driving in that city for over two weeks I wanted to take this opportunity of complimenting the city upon their fine trafic system. It is a pleasure to drive in a city which has such fine trafic regulations. I wish to especially commend the city for its fine park police. Their kindness, courtesy, and helpfulness at all times helped to make our vacation in Chicago a very enjoyable one. It was so unexpected to be treated in so courteous a manner by the arm of the law in all parks and on all boulevards day after day that I thought it deserved comment. I am heartily in favor of "a greater Chicago." [MRS.] BERTHA SYVERUD.

ROOSEVELT ROAD.

Chicago, July 26.—I suggest that Roosevelt road be renamed Franklin Delano Roosevelt road so that no mistake could be made as to which President is meant to be honored. L. E.

HEROIC SONS OF THE WILD JACKASS.

Chicago, July 23.—First, all praise to THE TRIBUNE for the strong and clear editorials which it published during the battle to save our constitutional judiciary.

Second, let it be remembered always that the fight was conducted by senators from what was called not long ago the region of the wild jackasses, Senator Wheeler of Montana, Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Senator McCarran of Nevada, Senator King of Utah, and Senator Adams of Colorado, Democrats. Republicans assisting them from that sometimes despised region were Senator Borah of Idaho and Senators Frazier and Nye of North Dakota.

From the foregoing facts we deduce that no part of our country can be spared. No part can claim superiority to any other. Judging is risky, for once the rejected stone became the head of the corner. THOMAS JAMES NORTON.

IN SINGLE FILE.

Evanston, Ill., July 25.—Your picture page presents three children walking abreast and well on the shoulder of highway 66, facing trafic, as an illustration of safe highway walking. I can go this one better. On my way up from Florida this spring I saw three children walking along a southern highway, single file, and facing trafic. Evidently they had been given instruction by teacher or parent. Motorists often jeopardize approaching cars by giving too wide a berth to pedestrians walking two or three abreast. The single file walk would obviate this danger, and I am wondering if such instruction is ever given children here.

R. Z.

OVERTONES.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Just a little protest about the office workers who say the boats coming along the river are too noisy. It should give a person a thrill to hear a whistle such as a boat gives. People would not know there was a river in Chicago if they did not hear the boats blowing their whistles. The office workers who kick about the whistling boats are the ones who have big horns on their autos to scare you almost to death as they approach you.

AUGUST HAGER.

DICK TRACY.

Chicago, July 26.—The writer is a daily reader of your newspaper and the comics, including "Dick Tracy." I am at a loss, however, to understand wherein the latter falls into the classification of comics. I do not believe that the fantastic ideas created by Chester Gould should be the subject matter for the reading of our younger generation. Its proper place is in the crime magazines and not in a newspaper so widely read by children. HARRY TOBIN.

SUBJECT FOR INQUIRY.

Paris, Ill., July 23.—No doubt La Follette's liberty committee will call those husky Oklahomans, Trimmer and Denton, to Washington for inquisition for harshly shooting the law-breaking gangsters merely in order to save their own lives. L.

BLAME LIGHTNING AS DUTCH PLANE CRASH KILLS 15

Three Americans Among Airliner's Victims.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 28.—Fifteen persons, including three Americans, perished today when a Dutch airliner hurtled into a potato field near Hal, 10 miles southwest of Brussels, Belgium. According to authorities who made an investigation, the Paris bound plane was struck by lightning.

The craft burned as it fell and blazed with such intensity that rescuers who rushed to the wreckage were held back. The bodies of some of the victims had not been extricated from the wreckage hours after the crash.

Oil Executive a Victim.

Ben F. Mun of Long Beach, Cal., president of the Humble Oil company, was identified as one of the Americans. The names of the others were said to be Canton and Goldbloom.

[Ben F. Mun, according to advices from Long Beach, Cal., was president of three oil companies in addition to the Humble Oil company. He went to California from Oklahoma. Mun was 35 years old. In Pittsburgh, Pa., relatives of Milton G. Goldbloom, 21 years old, expressed belief he was the Goldbloom killed and that "Canton" was William Canton of Uniontown, Pa., with whom Goldbloom was traveling.]

Ten passengers and five crew members were the occupants of the plane, which left Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and landed safely at Brussels on a scheduled stop.

Identify Stewardess' Body.

The body of the Dutch stewardess was identified as that of Miss Van Deveen. The secretary of the International Transport federation, a Dutchman named Nathaus, and Señor Trillo, a Mexican, also were aboard.

A mechanic who was among the crew members was en route to Paris, where he was to repair a plane, it was reported here. Amsterdam offices of the air line dispatched an expert to the scene of the wreck to make an investigation.

The commonwealth had charged Elder accosted Norton, former school cashier, in Norton's Greenfield garage on the night of last May 25. Norton testified Elder had pointed a gun at him, but Elder in testimony denied he was in Greenfield that night.

Elder told the jury he was at Keene, N. H., 40 miles away.

Police Witness in Elder Case Shot; Grocer Slain

Greenfield, Mass., July 28.—(AP)—Bullets from the gun of an unidentified assailant killed Anthony Ruggeri, 46 years old, a grocer, and sent Patrolman J. Richard Laurie to a hospital critically wounded. Laurie was a witness for the prosecution in the trial of former Dean Thomas E. Elder, 55, of Mount Hermon, who was acquitted 15 minutes before the shooting on a charge of assault with intent to kill S. Allen Norton, former Mount Hermon cashier. Police Sergeant James Casey declared, however, that tonight's shooting had no connection with the Elder case. Laurie was chatting with the grocer when shot.

G-MEN QUESTION CLAIMANT ABOUT $135,000 CACHE

Federal department of justice agents yesterday questioned Joseph Nelson, 29 years old, to find out more about the $135,000 in Liberty bonds which he says he found recently and buried under a tree near Ruby, Ariz. Nelson's story was supported Tuesday by the lie detector at the Northwestern university crime detection laboratory.

Results of the questioning yesterday were submitted to A. H. Johnson, acting head of the federal bureau of investigation here, who said they justified a continuance of the investigation.

Yesterday C. H. Keefer, 4855 Malden avenue, signed a complaint charging Nelson, who is being held at Central police station, with operating a confidence game. Keefer said he gave Nelson $87 a week ago on the strength of the treasure story.

PENNA. TO SPEND MELLON TAX TO RAISE STATE PAY

12 Million Settlement Is Made with Estate.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 28.—[Special.]— Settlement of the inheritance tax case of the Richard B. Mellon estate, announced today by Gov. George Earle before sailing from New York for Europe, will mean that several thousand employés in state institutions will receive pay increases. Adjustments in salaries of some department workers will also be made.

According to the State Department of Revenue, an agreement reached at Washington relative to the Federal Estate tax will mean that $12,424,847 will be received by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. At the time of Mr. Mellon's death the estate was estimated at 200 millions.

Pending final settlement of the state tax the estate paid 809,000 to Pennsylvania. This, with that to come, will represent 80 per cent of the amount of the federal tax settlement. Under federal and state tax laws the state gets credit for that amount.

Increases for Minimums.

Gov. Earle, during his two years here has been increasing minimum salaries of all state workers, despite demands for millions for unemployment relief. The minimum salaries of state department workers were increased to $1,020 a year, affecting many clerks who had received $860 to $900.

Later the same minimum was fixed for employés of the state liquor control board, including clerks in 575 liquor stores. Last week the basic pay for skilled and common labor on state highway work was increased.

The governor contended that the pay of employés at state hospitals, sanitaria, prisons, normal schools, and other institutions was inadequate and recently had an investigation made of salaries paid for similar work in New York, Ohio, and other states. Many of these workers get small salaries, but receive maintenance at the institutions.

Will Correct Inconsistences.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Gov. Earle said here just before he sailed that settlement of the Mellon estate will aid the state to correct glaring inconsistencies in the pay rolls of institutions, particularly under the welfare and health departments. The governor said that it was not unlikely that the increases might be extended later to other state employés in the lower brackets.

The governor, who was accompanied to the ship by a group of state officials, declined to comment on the affair in which Mayor Wilson of Philadelphia accused a state trooper of spying on members of his own official family.

Court to Hear Argument on Search for M'Kean Assets

Arguments on a petition for authority to open a vault in the Medical and Dental Arts building in Waukegan in a search for alleged hidden assets of Dr. Harry J. McKean, well known Waukegan dentist, will be heard tomorrow by Judge William H. Holly in Federal court. The petition was brought by Frank McKee, trustee in bankruptcy of Dr. McKean's estate. Dr. McKean filed voluntary bankruptcy proceedings two years ago after he had been jailed for failure to pay a $12,905 judgment in favor of the Waukegan National bank. At that time Dr. McKean asserted most of his fortune, estimated at $350,000 was gone.

CIVIL WAR NURSE DIES AT 97; MADE OFFICER IN ARMY

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—Dr. Arabella Macomber Reynolds, whose nursing activities behind civil war battle lines earned her a major's commission, died today at the age of 97.

Dr. Reynolds recorded in her diary a conversation she held with Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois during which she gave him her account of the battle of Shiloh. The governor, Dr. Reynolds wrote, declared, "She deserves a commission more than half of the officers," and made her a major.

The commission, bearing the state seal of Illinois, now is said to be in the statehouse at Springfield, Ill.

Dr. Reynolds came to California after the civil war, obtained a medical degree, and practiced her profession many years. She performed medical work during the Spanish-American war.

W. R. NEUMANN, LOOP JEWELER, IS SUED BY WIFE

Mrs. Ethyl Neumann, 2445 Lunt avenue, filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday in the Superior court against William R. Neumann, 45 years old, a jeweler at 162 North State street. The bill alleged cruelty and drunkenness.

Filed by Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, the suit asks custody of Albert, 12, Mrs. Neumann's child by a former marriage, whom her husband adopted, and Helen, 15, his daughter by his first wife. Mrs. Neumann charges that her husband is an unfit father.

The bill alleges that his income is $20,000 a year and asks that he provide suitable support. They were married on Aug. 27, 1932, in Waukegan, and separated last Sunday when Neumann left, taking Helen with him.

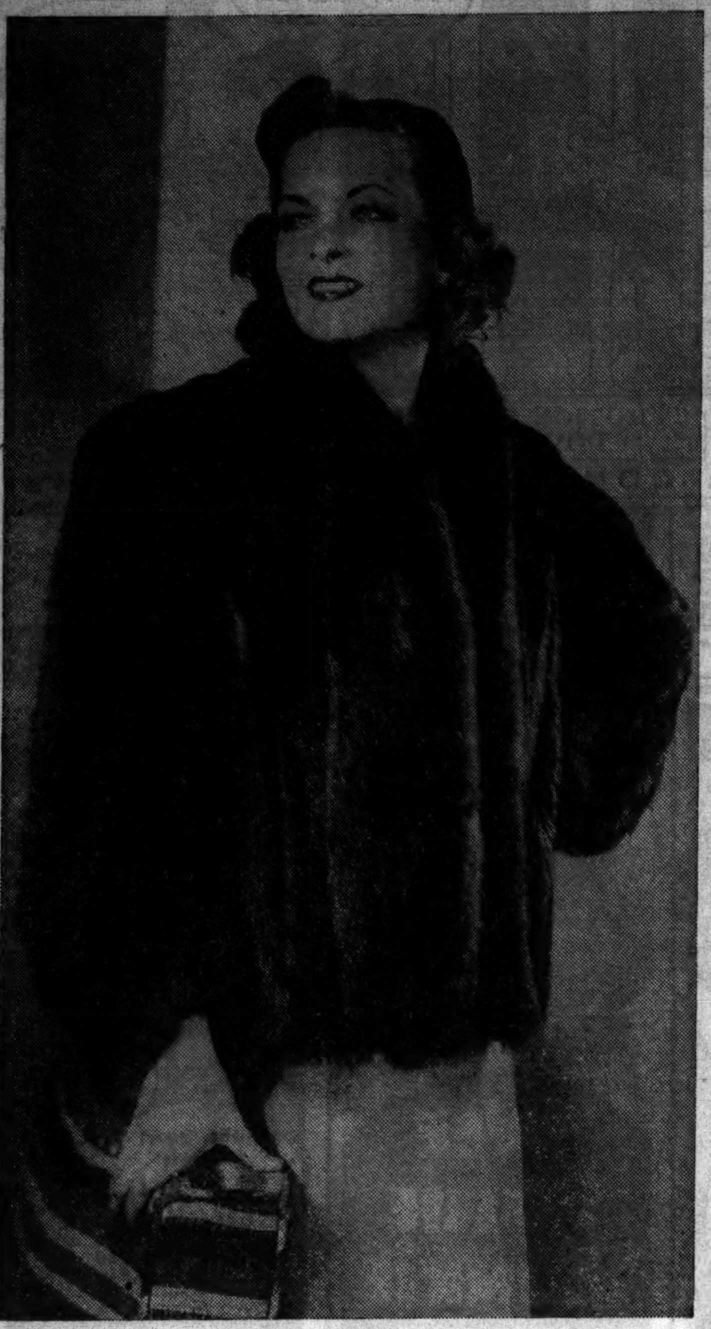
In August Fur Showings



[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

From a Chicago showing of new fall and winter fur coats. Because its exceedingly short, jaunty and so very smart and young, such a coat is high fashion news. Beautifully fashioned of sable toned kolinsky, in deep lustrous brown tones, it can be worn for daytime as well as evening. Specially priced during the August fur sales.

Hipless Mode Returns in Fur Fashion Show

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

A return to the silhouette of 1928 and 1929, when women had no hips, were flat chested and briskly masculine, was forecast yesterday when new fall and winter fur coats were shown in a preview under a sizzling sun at the Edgewater Beach hotel boardwalk. The show itself, sponsored by the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago, will be held on the boardwalk tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday nights for the public.

More accentuated than last season, the square shoulders, box lines, and jaunty sparseness of the silhouette stood out as the perspiring models posed for pictures.

A man stylist connected with one of the 12 Chicago firms which will exhibit 100 coats at the show was inclined to be morose over the straight line trend as he looked at costumes worn by the models.

"They're awfully smart coats," he said. "That black, the skunk, which is called marten, is going to be the rage again after years of unpopularity. The jigger in mink, that $7,000 model, is cute.

"But it looks as if the wide shoulders and straight lines are getting more so all the time. They'll be back to that perfectly straight figure before long."

Another fur, which like the skunk is destined for popularity this year, is the Australian opossum, which is heavier and longer haired than the native animal. A lighter weight beaver, sheared down to win favor from persons in more moderate climates, was shown with pleated shoulders and short, narrow body. A white ermine coat, three-fourths length, featured a pleated collar which stood up in back and military box pleats on the shoulders.

A silver fox cape had no extra fullness at all, but was made doubly ornamental by a swirl in the back, creating the design of a star in the fur.

Handbags That Stay in Order Found at Last

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Grumbling shoppers and complaining business women who demand good sturdy handbags, with unlimited capacity and a reasonable amount of snap, should see some newly presented lether finds. Made expressly for the daily wear and abuse of an active woman's day, these bags should take any one through the most hectic season without showing signs of the ordeal.

Some of them have as many as a dozen compartments or slits and there are two zippered compartments in nearly all of them. They're lether lined, fitted perfectly, and have a proper place for everything.

The old gesture of fumbling frantically and unsuccessfully for a key ring or purse buried in the necessary trivia collected in an ordinary bag, is over. Even the money purse is kept in place and there is no danger of losing your cash, as the coin bag comes up just so far and no farther. Attached to one side of the coin purse is a long slim fold for bills.

A knockout find for the business woman or traveler is the envelope bag with the maximum of compartments, plenty of zippered hideouts for important papers, and fashioned right with the bag itself is a good sized brief case, double folded, that takes care of order blanks and the like, when unfolded. You have to see this number to appreciate its worth.

Black, brown, and navy are three outstanding street colors. All the bags are well designed, they'll be smart and snappy with your tweeds or more dress parade street clothes, and you'll thrill with the room, the almost military precision and smoothness of the interior as well as the unusual details of the exterior and trim.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

I rise to advise you that, again, young Shirley Temple justifies her right to the title of "America's Youngest Sweetheart" and the reputation of being a grand little actress.

Rudyard Kipling's story proves an admirable vehicle for the-small-girl-who-is-growing-up. It has action, fun, suspense, pathos, and romance, and most of the adults in the cast give Shirley wise and sympathetic support.

Especially did I find myself enjoying the work of C. Aubrey Smith, Victor McLaglen and Cesar Romero. I liked June Lang least of all. She has nothing but beauty to offer.

To the British cantonment where are stationed the troops that guard India's Khyber Pass, come to live the pretty widow Williams, whose husband had been the colonel's son, and her daughter Priscilla.

It's a dangerous abiding place, because the natives, though sternly suppressed, are savage and vengeful and forever on the verge of erupting.

The friendship which springs up between Priscilla and big Sergeant McDuff—who gives her the title of Wee Willie Winkie and instructs her in the business of soldiery; her brushes with Drummer Boy Mott, who spurns her attentions; her subjugation of her grandfather and her fruitful acquaintance with the mighty and sinister Khoda Khan, are situations well handled. ["Mr." Mott is a miniature Charles Laughton, both as to looks and diction.]

The mother's romance with Lieutenant Brandis provides the picture's romance.

Wee Willie Winkie becomes the innocent medium through which Khoda Khan escapes prison and she is, eventually, the tie that binds English and natives together in a pact long negotiated for by the colonel.

The Roosevelt was alive yesterday with youngsters, and great was the joy among them over some of Priscilla's observations.

"How, please," she questions Sergeant MacDuff, so gorgeous in his kilties, "do you keep the mosquitoes from biting your knees?" [The kids thought that was swell!] And they howled with delight when she told her laughing grandpappy:

"I think you have the wonderfullest laugh! You sound just like an old horse with whooping cough."

See you soon.

Studio Laughs at Noisy Fall of Bill Powell

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 28.—[Special.]—Bill Powell, who again is back on the twice interrupted production, "Double Wedding," with Myrna Loy, was doing a scene in the interior of a trailer. Powell plays an eccentric, itinerant artist in love with a matter of fact business girl, played by Myrna. He wears a beret and raccoon coat and lives in the trailer in a parking lot.

Scanning the trailer's interior, one wonders how the prop man ever got so many articles—besides Powell and Miss Loy—inside. They include pots, pans, snow shoes, boxing gloves, books, fishing poles, pictures, statues, lanterns, and the like.

Powell is talking while he curls spaghetti with a fork. "It hasn't much curl in it," he says. "That's because of the rain."

"I'll never ask your sister again, if you'll pose for me," Powell says.

Miss Loy is startled. "Pose for you?"

"Yes," he says. "Just a portrait of your head." His eyes drift to her ankles.

"How long will it take?" she asks. "What does it matter? Correggio took twenty years to paint a portrait."

While she meditated, Powell reached for his coffee cup, but it had also doubled as his shaving cup, and the shaving brush was in it. He apologized.

"It isn't the actual painting that takes time," he explained. "It's finding the proper background. I see you in a valley. No, I see you on a mountain top." He shades his eyes to gaze at the imaginary peak.

"No, I see your hair streaming in the breeze at a beach. The beach. That's it. I'll paint you on the shore."

"When do you begin?" she asks.

The model started to say something, and then stopped.

"What were you going to say?" Powell urges.

"Nothing."

"Yes, you were."

"Well," she says reluctantly, "I was going to ask you something. Do you use dope?"

The easel falls on Powell's foot, and, unbalanced, he trips, rolling on the floor and bringing down the clotheslines inside his trailer. Pots and pans fall all round him.

Powell rises, shakes off the pots and pans and stands up solemnly. "Do you think that will look funny on the screen?" he asks, but nobody can answer him because they are all laughing too hard.

Flowers currently enjoy wide popularity among tyro and experienced quilt makers. "Sonora Rose," the exquisite rose design illustrated today, allows the quilt maker to use her ingenuity in color arrangements. The flowers may be of one or more colors in printed or plain materials, and be quilted in outline. The applique blocks are set together in an alternate arrangement with plain blocks, and surrounded by a three inch border bound with the material from which the flowers were made. The finished quilt, 72 by 104 inches, is of a size ideal for a spread as well as a coverlet.

Miss Mitchell to Be Bride of Wendell Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

NANTUCKET ISLAND, in Buzzard's Bay off the southern coast of Massachusetts, will be the setting today for the wedding of two young Chicagoans who most of their Chicago friends wish had chosen to be married here instead of in the east, for comparatively few Chicagoans will be on the island for the ceremony.

The bride is Miss Margaret Mitchell and the bridegroom is Barrett Wendell III. They are being married at noon at Leedsmere on Brant Point, the summer home of the bride's father, Leeds Mitchell, and Mrs. Mitchell.

The Rev. Frederick D. Bennett, pastor of the First Congregational church of Nantucket, will read the service. A reception will be given following the ceremony at the Sankaty Head Golf club. The bride will wear a white organza off the shoulder gown, with lilies of the valley outlining the armholes. The dress, eighteenth century in style, has a tight yoke, full skirt, and sleeves extending to the wrist, but puffed at the top. Her tulle veil will be held in place by a wreath of valley lilies, and she will carry white orchids.

Bridesmaids Will Wear Chiffon.

Miss Nancy Montgomery of Stamford, Conn., the maid of honor, will wear hyacinth blue chiffon and the bridesmaids will wear shell pink chiffon. All the attendants' dresses are made like the bride's gown, except that the flowers around the armholes are of self material. They will carry old fashioned bouquets of bachelor buttons and other small garden flowers, and on their heads will be wreaths of the same bright colored flowers.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Sidney Todd, a cousin of the bride, from Long Island; Mrs. F. Lee Higginson Wendell of Chicago, and Mrs. Horace H. Soule Jr. of Hamilton, Mass., the bridegroom's only sister. Lee Wendell will be his brother's best man, and ushering will be Brewster Perry and Chauncey Hutchins of Chicago, Leeds Mitchell Jr., Charles Noble of Pride's Crossing, Mass.; Herbert Wallis of Cambridge, Mass.; Mr. Soule, and Robert Waldinger of Boston.

For something borrowed there will be an electric organ which Mr. Mitchell has obtained for the occasion, so although it will be a home wedding, the wedding march and recessional will be played by an organ.

Among those who will attend the ceremony are the bride's mother and aunt, Mrs. Day Mitchell of Madison, Wis., and Mrs. Tiffany Blake of Chicago, who with Mr. Blake is spending the last half of the summer in Edward Burling's house at Cornish, N. H.; the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Wendell Jr. of Chicago; Princess Rostislav, and the Charles B. Goodspeeds.

Mr. Wendell and his bride will be at home in Chicago after Aug. 15.

Park Concert Draws Throng Despite Rain

BY CECIL M. SMITH.

The weather man simply can't keep the crowds away from the nightly free concerts at Grant park. Last night he furnished a rainstorm that lasted until 8:05, five minutes after the concert had begun. Yet thousands of people saw through his bluff, and, observing the promise of the western sky, came to the park in full force.

As a reward of merit they heard Leroy Shield and his NBC orchestra, with Vivian Della Chiesa, Chicago City Opera soprano, provide a program tremendously to their liking.

Miss Della Chiesa, whose rise to prominence has been what press agents like to call "meteoric," was received tumultuously, and was finally forced to repeat her last song. This enthusiasm was both natural and right, for Miss Della Chiesa owns one of the most beautiful lyric soprano voices in America today.

As I listened to the loveliness of her voice, I decided that I have a bone to pick with her. She does not fully realize the value of her natural gift, or the artistic and technical responsibility falling upon any one who happens to have one of the outstanding voices of a generation. It is important to tell her the truth, which is that she sings heavily and colorlessly, and that she is likely to live to regret the ruthless way she pounces upon her upper tones. She must learn to sing in a manner worthy of so exquisite a voice.

Mr. Shield's orchestral contributions included the Fifth symphony of Tschaikowsky, played at an unbelievably rapid speed throughout, Sibelius' "Finlandia," and a number of other equally good popular pieces.

As a whole, Mr. Shield's conducting seemed to me to suffer from radioitis, an ailment that causes many of the stewards of radio's expensive time to play too fast in order to give us a lot of music in a limited space.

The Woman's Symphony orchestra announces three concerts for next season: Nov. 2, Frank St. Leger, guest conductor, and Bidu Sayao, Metropolitan opera soprano; Dec. 12, Gladys Welge, conductor, and the Vienna Choir Boys; Feb. 1, Erno Rapee, guest conductor, and Poldi Mildner, pianist.

SYNOPSIS.

Michael Eden, heir to millions, postpones his marriage to Katharine McCann because his foster-father, John Millis, tells him his foster-mother is ill and needs him. Katharine's roommate, Joan, is engaged to Michael's friend, Terry Newton. Michael signs a will making Millis his heir, expecting to change it after his marriage to Katharine. Mrs. Millis attempts suicide when she discovers her husband flirting with her nurse. Michael rescues her and takes her away. Millis tricks Katharine into a ride with him and forces his kisses on her. Amos Newton, uncle of Terry, believes that Millis killed Terry's father, who was Michael's co-guardian. Michael returns to the home of Amos Newton and Katharine and he plan to be married next day, though Michael is ill. That night Michael, in delirium, returns to the Millis home, desperately ill with typhoid fever. Katharine obtains Dr. Kittredge to attend him. Newton tells Katharine that the exhumed body of Michael's real mother showed she died of poisoning. Ferenzi, a self-confessed poisoner, charges that Millis bought typhoid germs from him. Michael is moved to the home of Amos Newton. Millis is murdered in his home.

INSTALMENT XL.

SUSPECTS.

"I thank God that the poor fellow is out of torment."

Dr. Kittredge was hearing again that compelling voice, and seeing the tortured smile which flitted from time to time across the battle scarred face. "Will you be so kind as to notify the authorities that I wish to have the privilege of seeing that Fiorello Ferenzi has a decent burial?"

"Let me look after Ferenzi," Jameson said, very gently.

But the little doctor shook his head.

Jameson resumed his businesslike tone.

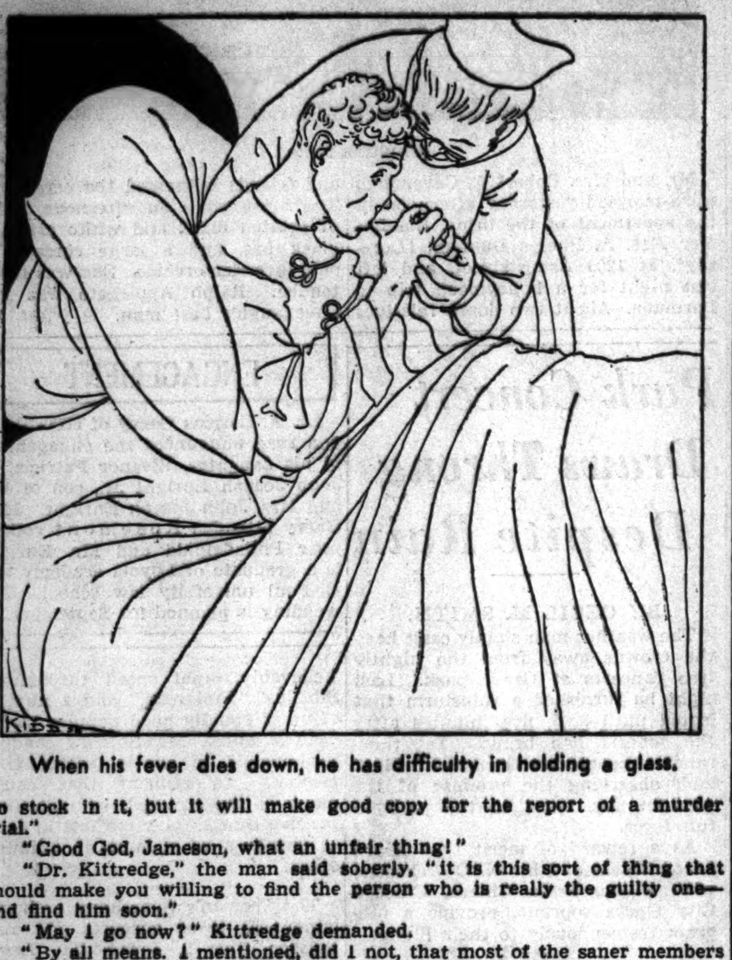
"Well, Ferenzi must be counted out, but we have a nice list of suspects. Mr. Sullivan," he said, with faint amusement in his tone, "has narrowed it down to the uncle, the nephew, and the fiancée, with the fiancée well in the lead."

"Why should he suspect Miss McCann?" Kittredge asked curiously.

"Well, he is a romantic fellow. Miss McCann should make quite a sensation. She would be quite the most beautiful murderess of modern times. There is, he assures us, a collection of pictures of the girl available, a magnificent collection—right upstairs. She is believed to have a quick wit, and it is thought she will have the prosecution in the midst of fireworks all the time. Her alibi is very weak, so far as we have been able to discover, and, of course, the motive is easy to establish."

"Indeed? And what is the motive?"

"It has been understood in certain circles that Miss McCann was infatuated with Millis, and that they had not been wholly discreet. That is the explanation for the broken engagement. Of course decent people take no stock in it, but it will make good copy for the report of a murder trial."



When his fever dies down, he has difficulty in holding a glass.

"Good God, Jameson, what an unfair thing!"

"Dr. Kittredge," the man said soberly, "it is this sort of thing that should make you willing to find the person who is really the guilty one—and find him soon."

"May I go now?" Kittredge demanded.

"By all means. I mentioned, did I not, that most of the saner members of the investigating force sticks to it that it was young Eden?"

"Are you serious?" Kittredge said frigidly.

Jameson laughed. "Not so very," he admitted. Then, after a considerable pause, "But you seem to be."

"Serious!" Kittredge stormed. "I'm frantic!" Four long weeks I have been fighting to keep Michael Eden alive, fighting death with every weapon at my command. He is still on the brink, though we seem to have won out. I assure you that a shock might be fatal, and a long strain could certainly end him. If he ceases to care to live, we are lost. Now, for heaven knows how long I shall be living in a nightmare of fear, fear that he will somehow hear the dreadful news."

"Do you think the boy killed Millis?" Jameson asked bluntly.

"No!" Kittredge said hotly. "Even in delirium the boy has been stiffly in control of himself. It is simply impossible."

"Then why are you so unnerved, Dr. Kittredge?"

"Do I have to diagram it?" Kittredge exploded. "If he had done it I could endure it. It's the cruelty of his having to suffer torture for something he could never have done."

"Yet, when he mistook a servant for John Millis, in the early days of his delirium, he told him that he would kill him if he did not leave the room. There are some things which point to Eden."

"For instance?"

"Tell me a few things first," Jameson said, with a disarmingly friendly smile. "How weak is Michael Eden, physically?"

"When his fever dies down, and he is not mad with delirium, he has difficulty in holding a glass. He cannot sit up unsupported. We were happy yesterday because he was using his hands with some ease, making shadow pictures for the nurses."

"If he were delirious?"

"There is almost no limit to what a person can do in delirium."

"You are, as usual, straightforward," Jameson said, looking pleased.

"I should lie unhesitatingly for my patient if I thought I could get away with it," Kittredge said bitingly.

"Has your patient ever made any attempt, in his delirium, to get out of bed?"

Kittredge looked at him blackly. "So some one has told you that he did," he said scornfully. "Well, he did. And you will be interested to know that it was last night, and that it was a little after 3 o'clock. We found him on the third floor, on the north side of the house, just about a city block from his room, weak and hysterical."

"Just what was he doing there, Dr. Kittredge?" He laid a hand kindly on the doctor's arm. "I may be of help to you, you know."

Kittredge was pale and composed.

"The window was open. He was jerking at a fire escape."

"Do you think he was trying to get away?"

"If he went as high as he could get, in order to have the pleasure of climbing a rusty fire escape, in full view of passersby, he was certainly out of his head. But, as a matter of fact, he was."

"Did he struggle when you took him back?"

"The nurses say not. They say that he went back most apologetically. He was in a bad state for a few hours, but came through astonishingly well. He asked me to take him away—or rather ordered me to. The thing that impresses me most, as I recall his manner, is that while he was plainly deeply concerned over something he showed no fear and no guilt. I think that in some way he may have been aware of the death of John Millis, but that he was not responsible."

Jameson hesitated.

"Why do I think he may have known?" Kittredge shrugged. "This is off the record, Mr. Jameson. Just before I left the boy, after setting him at the Newton house, he asked me soberly if I thought he should go to the funeral."

Jameson started.

"Yes. Then he asked me to buy flowers; said that in the south they set much store by funerals. Seemed sorry not to show that much respect."

"Was he rational?"

Jameson looked most uncomfortable.

"I suppose you never saw a weapon about the room?" he asked.

"The boy came into that room without an earthly possession excepting the pajamas he wore. He has never left the room until last night, nor has he had any communication with anybody but the nurses and me."

"I understand that the door to the sickroom usually stood open?"

"Yes. But we were supposed to control that whole wing. I never saw a human being in the corridor even. He saw nobody."

"You are quite sure?"

"I am not."

"What exception would you make? Better make a clean breast of it. You might be stupidly withholding the very bit of information needed to clear the boy."

son hotel for a few days en route to Palm Beach, where they live now.

There is even more activity than usual this week in and about the pools at the Onwentsia and at Knollwood. Both clubs are holding swimming meets for their younger members this coming week-end, and what with prizes and trophies, not to mention glory, at stake, last minute brushing up on strokes and dives is proceeding at a great pace.

At Knollwood the meet starts at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with members 18 years of age and under eligible to participate. At the Onwentsia the meet is taking place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and boys and girls under 15 years of age are competing.

Joan Mitchell, one of Dr. and Mrs. James H. Mitchell's daughters; Louanna Jelke, and Sally Robbins are stars among the fifty children who have enrolled so far in the Onwentsia meet. For the smallest entrants, under 5 years of age, there will be an inner tube race, in which the youngsters propel inner tubes across the width of the pool and back.

Diving Contests at Knollwood.

There will be diving for golf balls at the Knollwood meet, at the deep end of the pool for the older boys and girls and at the shallow end for the littler ones. All sorts of high and low board dives also are scheduled, and among the novel events will be an inner tube race for the smallest swimmers and a tub race for those aged 9 to 12.

Underwater swimming for distance and a 150 yard free style race will be among the most exciting events for the 13 to 15 year old contestants, and a 250 yard free style is scheduled for boys and girls 16 to 18 years old. Medals and ribbons will be awarded in each event, and a cup will go to the swimmer scoring the highest number of points in each class.

Joan and Nancy Clement and Henrietta Lizars are among the most proficient of the younger swimmers, and Clare Begler, Betty De Lescaille, Jack Agar, Earl Russell, Frederick Brown, and Barbara Johnson are stars in the older group.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne to Talk on Coronation.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne and those who go to Geneva today to hear her talk about the coronation will have to arise fairly early, for she is to start her talk at the Little Traveler in the Fox river valley town at 11 o'clock this morning. Those who have heard Mrs. Thorne tell informally about her experiences in London, where she went not only for the coronation but to install her miniature Georgian library in the Victoria and Albert museum in Kensington Gardens, have found her reminiscences witty and delightful.

It was at Queen Mary's request that Mrs. Thorne reproduced the Georgian library now at the Chicago Historical society, and Mrs. Edmond Raftery of Geneva, who was in London just after the coronation, brings back word that the queen mother was delighted with the wee library and with everything in it. When she first visited it, the queen mother picked up every tiny thing and examined it carefully, admiring everything, but especially the perfect reproduction of an old Chinese coromandel screen and the exquisite needlepoint rug that Mrs. Scott of the Needlework and Textile guild of the Art institute made for Mrs. Thorne.

Lake Geneva, Wis., which so often is confused with Geneva, Ill., by those not familiar with both places, will draw its share of motorists today, too, from the north shore and Chicago, for the Chicago Woman's exchange is holding a sale in the Wisconsin resort.

The sale will be conducted in the pleasant home of the Philip Wrigleys on the shore of the lake, and assisting Mrs. Wrigley will be a number of women interested in the exchange.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

People who really like colognes and know how to use them to the best advantage usually like to have them in large quantities. We know we do. A little fiddling bottle of cologne, enough for about two rub downs, is just an irritation to us, no matter how devastating its perfume—and when that small bottle costs a lot of money we are annoyed to the point of telling the manufacturer we think he's practically feeble-minded. Cologne isn't perfume and shouldn't be packaged in small, expensive doses.

Not long ago we came across a most pleasant cologne in a sixteen ounce bottle that is most inexpensive. It is enough to get you through the rest of the summer—and if you like fresh, outdoorsey perfume that's not at all on the heavy side you'll want to use it every day.

This is cologne with a mild perfume. You can use it for all the pleasant rites that cologne lends itself so well to and you can use perfume and powders in your favorite scent without conflict. It's fresh, dainty and cooling somehow, in the very character of the perfume it has.

If you know any one who is ill you'll win her undying affection if you send this along with your card. It makes the air in the sickroom seem fresher and not even the fussiest invalid would think it was too heavily scented or that the scent was anything but sweetly refreshing. It has a beguiling note that strikes us as being a bit on the cinnamon order—a little spicy.

When it's sold at such a low price you can afford to use it generously. Toss it into the bath water if you want a bathing treat. And by all means apply it by the handful for your rubdown afterward. You'll feel fresh for hours.

WOMAN'S DRESS.

Smartly styled in natural linen, the original of this dress did wonders for the silhouette proportions of the rather heavy woman who wore it. She was so enthusiastic about the model that we are passing it on for the benefit of other persons with fulsome figures who have difficulty in finding smart styles to suit their silhouettes flatteringly.

There is a choice of necklines. You may have a brief rolled collar, as shown in the sketch at the left, or a high and tied one. The more tailored version may have buttons all the way down the front, and the other design is attractive without the buttons, and with a crushed belt with a bow to match that at the neckline.

Notice that the sleeves are the most comfortable ones imaginable. They are cut on semi-raglan lines, in one with the shoulder yoke. The bodice is softly gathered into the latter. Notice, too, that the skirt has no plaits, but is, nevertheless, plenty full.

Any type of wash fabric, in either light or dark shades, or in prints, is ideal for this model.

Style No. 3150 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

Best to Plan Ahead for Baby on Trip

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Everybody agrees that it is better for the baby not to go on journeys. When he is at home it is possible for him to be kept to that regularity which is so important in his life, regularity of sleep, rest, exercise, quiet, food, baths, and so forth. It seems to most of us that he is the healthiest, happiest, and safest at home.

But you may be one of those people who do not feel this way about it. Or you may love jaunting and hate to give it up just because you have a baby. Or there may be some very real reason why you want to take your baby away on a trip. There are always relatives who love to see him and friends to whom you want to show him off. Or it may be that traveling with a car is the most convenient way for you all to reach the vacation spot where you intend to stay. So if you have decided to make a motor trip with the baby it is very important that you shall do some planning ahead for his comfort and health.

To begin with, it is best not to carry the baby. Your arms and your lap are hot and he is happier in a basket or one of the other articles that are to be had for this purpose.

If you feel that you cannot spend any money for this single trip, it is quite practical to use a heavy carton or cardboard box with a thin mattress, a pillow, or a blanket laid on the bottom.

Every mother realizes that wherever a baby is in summer he must be protected by netting or thin cheese cloth from insects, dust, and dirt.

It is important even on a motor trip to keep the baby to his schedule as much as possible.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Garlic, wrote a sixteenth century novelist, "hath three properties: to make a man winke, drinke and stinke."

Especially the last, if you know what I mean. Yet garlic, in its proper usage, can't possibly cause such unpleasantness. Garlic was meant to remain a mere whisper or whiff to accent foods, not a shout nor a strong gust of wind to advertise it.

Raw vegetable salads are lent a tantalizingly indefinable flavor if the bowl in which they are mixed is rubbed with garlic, or if the knife with which they are cut has been used to cut a garlic clove.

Try either method of imparting distinction to any of these raw vegetable salads, and see if this isn't true.

SLICED CUCUMBERS WITH GARLIC.

Rub a bowl with a cut clove of garlic and slice pared cucumbers into the bowl. Add bits of chicory and chill. Just before serving, toss together with French dressing. Other vegetables, such as broken watercress, sliced tomatoes and the like, may be added, but the cucumbers are very good with chicory alone.

CARROT AND TURNIP SALAD.

Grate raw carrots and turnips, and combine with shredded green pepper and a little finely cut celery. Combine with French dressing just before serving. The same combination of vegetables may be used in an entirely different salad composed of strips or wedges of the various vegetables. In either case, all vegetables should be very crisp.

TOMATO AND STUFFED GREEN PEPPER SALAD.

Cut off tops of green peppers and remove seeds. Stuff with cream cheese moistened with cream, and mixed in a bowl which has been rubbed lightly with garlic. Chill stuffed pepper for several hours and serve it sliced thinly on slices of tomato for salad. Top with French dressing.

Raw Vegetable Stick Salad.

[Serves Four to Six.]

1 green pepper
1 bunch celery
1 cucumber, unpeeled
3 carrots
2 bunches endive [French]
Mayonnaise

Cut vegetables into long, slender strips, and crisp in ice water. Drain and arrange on individual plates. Serve with mayonnaise in tiny paper cups, one cup to each salad plate. Stalks are dipped into mayonnaise and eaten with the fingers. Strips of sliced raw cauliflower may be substituted for endive.

Garden Salad Bowl.

4 cups raw spinach, washed carefully and dried
4 medium tomatoes, cut in pieces
1 cup diced celery
Sliced cucumber and radishes
Raw cauliflower strips

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

After a conventional four no trump bid, bid six in the best available trump suit with one ace in a bid suit [it may be your own or your partner's trump ace] or with the kings of all bid suits, provided some added values are held.

The best suit will be [a] your own suit, if it has been assisted by partner; or [b] your partner's suit, provided you hold adequate trump support; or [c] your own suit again, although it has not been assisted, provided it is solid and requires no support from partner.

Here again the "added values" not previously shown are rather flexible. They usually mean about one-half an honor trick, but even a queen or the better shape of the hand may be sufficient. This requirement of "added values" really means that you are expected to bid six unless you have stretched your previous bids on a bare minimum. For instance, I bid one spade and you give me a double raise. I now bid four no trump. You will sign off with ♠A 6 5 2 ♥7 ♦K 7 4 3 ♣Q 10 5 4, but bid six spades if the diamond queen is added to the hand.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	3 hearts
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

South shaded his opening bid deliberately because he was playing with a partner who was not too adept in the play of the cards. When East stepped in, however, with a vulnerable three heart overcall, South promptly abandoned game aspirations for a much surer penalty double.

Rather than lead away from an ace, South opened a low trump. North won and shifted to the queen of spades. Declarer covered, the ace won, and South returned a low spade. The jack won and the fourth best diamond lead through East's king put South back on lead for another spade lead. North ruffed, and laid down the diamond queen [East having put up the king on the previous lead]. Declarer ruffed the next diamond and drew trumps, but finally had to concede a club trick to South's ace. In all, East lost seven tricks and, thus, suffered an 800 point penalty.

Considering the fact that East was able to support any suit that West might select against a no trump contract, except clubs, the foolishness of his lead directing heart bid should have been apparent. Admittedly, East preferred a heart opening above all others, but this preference could not be expressed at the enormous risk that was involved.

Had East remained discreetly silent, and South gone to three no trump, West's normal opening lead of the ten of spades would have been quite satisfactory from the defenders' point of view.

Even if East's neck stretching three heart bid had been effective in shutting out a vulnerable game, it would not have been worth while as measured against the 800 point penalty. As it was, since a North-South game was unmakeable, the sacrifice was entirely in vain.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: What is the precise meaning of an immediate overcall in an opponent's suit?

Answer: This bid is a force to game. It requires at least five honor tricks, or freakish distribution which makes a game safe even though partner has no assistance. Usually it also shows first round control in opponent's suit.

Eau de Cologne Is Refreshing During Summer

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The praises of eau de cologne as a freshener-upper may be sung at any time of year, but it is during the summer months that the product deserves a few extra notes because of its soothing and invigorating qualities. Do you know of anything quite so refreshing, after a long hot day, as to step into a tepid bath, wash away the perspiration and dirt that has accumulated during the day, and finish off with a spraying of eau de cologne?

Using an atomizer seems to be the preferred method for applying, perhaps because the spray is suggestive of the shower and its delightfully cooling effect. After you spray the eau de cologne on, pat briskly until dry. It will act as a skin tonic, stimulating and revitalizing, as well as leaving the body fresh and delicately fragrant.

Its use is not confined to the women. More and more men are learning to enjoy its soothing, freshening power. They start out "snitching" some from wifie's or sister's bottle and find it so pleasing that they get a supply of their own. They like it as a rubdown after the bath or shower, especially after a round of golf or a game of tennis. They like it after shaving, too. They may turn up their noses at the perfumed colognes, but they have fallen victims to the wiles of the unperfumed brands.

Colognes are made from a variety of citrus oils. One particular oil, derived from the blossoms of the orange tree, gives to it its invigorating qualities.

Taken along on a journey, eau de cologne may be pressed into service with gratifying effects, particularly if the trip is a long one and the day is hot. Sooner or later you're bound to become weary. By dabbing the cologne on wrists and forehead, your spirits revive and you feel refreshed.

AMUSEMENTS.

Sally's Guests Will See Cubs in Game Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Everybody's talking about baseball these days, and I know fifty boys and fifty girls who are excited about it today. They're the youngsters who've been selected as my guests for our baseball party this afternoon, and we'll see the Chicago Cubs play the Brooklyn Dodgers at Wrigley field.

I know that every child who won an invitation will be at our meeting place on time, but when you come for goodness sakes don't get so excited that you forget to bring those letters which were mailed to you. They're your badge of identification, you know.

Before I start for Wrigley field today I'm going to select the winning letters from the mail which has been coming in steadily ever since the first announcement of our next party. It's to be at the circus, one week from today. We're going to see the big Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey show, and if you want to be included in the party I hope your letter is on my desk—because if it's not it can't be judged.

You'll all know next Sunday if you have won an invitation. The names of the youngsters who've been selected as my guests will be printed in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on that day.

Stubbornness of Beau Irks Girl Friend

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"I was engaged to be married three weeks ago, but have found out that the man involved is as obstinate as a mule. His family hinted to me that he was stubborn, but I never thought anyone could be as obstinate as he is.

"Not only is he stubborn generally, but as far as his clothes and his food are concerned, he is terrible.

"With it all I am hopelessly in love with him. I have had beaux who would do anything to please me. In fact, I am accused of being spoiled in this respect.

"One of his recent remarks to me was: 'If you don't interfere with my clothing, food, and smoking, we never will have an argument.' I consider marriage a 50-50 partnership. I give in 100 per cent now, so I'm wondering. Can a man of his type love any one else beside himself? That's what's bothering me." MISERABLE.

You're sure that rumor hasn't reached this man that you are or were a spoiled darling? You don't suppose he's putting on an act to intrigue you? Perhaps it is because he doesn't aim to please, and is the first man in your life who doesn't, that your imagination is fired. Anyway, he sounds like a handful, but for the sake of peace and love we'd accept his ultimatum and laugh at his clothes and food vagaries and let him smoke his head off if he wants to, and see how that works!

DORAIS TAKES LEAD IN ALL-STAR COACHES' POLL

MICHIGAN FANS RALLY BEHIND DETROIT CHIEF

Vaughan, Waldorf Show Power.

BY ARCH WARD.

Charles [Gus] Dorais, head coach at the University of Detroit, has taken a huge lead in the early returns of the national poll that will determine the personnel of the coaching staf for the All-American football squad. Dorais, one of the most brilliant players in gridiron history, apparently has the backing of the entire state of Michigan. Detroit, which has developed baseball, football, hocky and boxing champions in recent years, hopes to add another athletic conquest to its record by placing Dorais in charge of the squad that meets the Green Bay Packers at Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 1.

Gus Dorais.

Every radio station in Detroit, all the newspapers and athletic leaders throughout the state are indorsing Dorais' candidacy. Harry Kipke of the University of Michigan and Charles Bachman of Michigan State, who was a member of the 1935 All-Star coaching staf, spoke for Dorais on a Detroit radio program last night. Bing Crosby, who was student football manager when Dorais coached at Gonzaga university of Spokane; Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan and heads of the motor industry are plugging for the Detroit leader.

Vaughan Runs Second.

Behind Dorais in today's standings comes Pete Vaughan of Wabash, whose supporters predict he will rank even higher when the final votes are counted after the polls close Aug. 8. The Chicago alumni of Wabash are sponsoring Vaughan's campaign.

The field is pretty well strung out after the two leaders. Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern is in third place with a comfortable margin over Bernie Moore of Louisiana State, Bo McMillin of Indiana and Elmer Layden of Notre Dame. The returns are too fragmentary, however, to be significant. Nearly all the votes, except those for Dorais, are from the Chicago district.

Voting booths were opened yesterday in Evanston for Waldorf and in the Morrison hotel for Layden. Indiana alumni are organizing a drive for McMillin from which they hope to reap a harvest of votes in Kansas, Kentucky, and Indiana. The position of Jimmy Phelan in the poll is certain to be improved when returns from the Pacific coast begin to arrive. His University of Washington team won the Coast conference championship last fall and it is likely he will receive strong support from Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

South Pushes Moore.

From Shreveport, La., Baton Rouge and New Orleans come reports of unusual activity in behalf of Moore of Louisiana State. Fritz Crisler of Princeton, Lou Little of Columbia and Jimmy Crowley of Fordham are expected to be front runners among

ARLINGTON PARK DOUBLE RETURNS $3,439; A RECORD

BY FRENCH LANE.

The end of the rainbow dropped right down into the pockets of four customers in the crowd of 12,000 at Arlington Park yesterday afternoon. And into each of the four magic pockets it shook the tidy sum of $3,439.80.

It all happened in the daily double when Many Stings, a 15 to 1 shot, won the first race and Young Agnes at 57 to 1 captured the second after getting up in the last stride.

This was the biggest daily double ever paid out on a Chicago track. It was one of the half dozen largest on record in America. The largest was at Tropical Park. One fellow there took the whole pot of $7,205.40 a couple of years ago.

Harry Had a Good Time.

His name was Harry Topsey and he was a truck driver from Jersey City. He spent the $7,205.40 in four nights buying wine and music, then cranked up his ancient automobile to return home, happy though broke.

All but one of yesterday's four ticket holders were reluctant to have their names mentioned in connection with the winning of such a large pot of gold on a $2 investment. In fact they seemed to be at the track incognito.

Leo J. Marks of Columbus, O., who had arrived only 24 hours earlier, walked right up to the cashier, slapped his ticket down and took the payoff in cash. The curious and jealous gathered around and gave him a great big hand when he pocketed the money.

He Owns the Horse.

Mr. Marks had a reason for holding such a ticket. He owns Many Stings, the winner of the first race. He didn't regard him so very highly so the only wager he made on him was $24. Then he hooked his horse up with each of the twelve nags running in the second race.

Some said that W. T. Westrope did the same thing with his horse, Young Agnes, the winner of the second race. If so, he didn't drop around to cash his ticket.

The holders of the other two tickets, both men, cashed their tickets immediately afterward and disappeared.

It Was a Perfect Set-up.

The two races were just the kind that should provide a record breaking daily double.

Twelve $2,000 selling platers clashed in the first one. Twelve valued at from $1,250 to $1,750 battled it out in the other. One was as good as another in each race. Fact is there didn't seem to be a horse in either contest that was good enough to win.

The highest previous daily double paid out so far this year in Illinois racing was $1,663.60. This happened at

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

THE late Judge J. W. Eggeman of Fort Wayne, Ind., center on the Notre Dame football team from 1897 to 1899, inclusive, said before his death that the outstanding football play of his career was the place kick by Chuck Fleming for 35 yards which defeated Illinois, 5 to 0, in Notre Dame's opening game in 1898. . . . Illinois was the favorite, but the Irish, using the place kick for the first time in the west, did all the scoring with one field goal, which at that time counted five points. . . . Fleming kicked with his left foot. . . . Red Ruffing, Yankee pitcher, does road work daily. . . . Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Bees, is doing his own scouting in the American association. . . . When the White Sox are at home and have an open date Mike Kreevich hustles up to Lake Geneva to fish black bass with an expert fisherman by the name of Frank Mueller. . . . On his last trip to the lake Mike got the limit.

Hank Greenberg says there is no mystery about what keeps the White Sox near the top of the American league. . . . "They got a darn good ball club, tougher than Boston and Cleveland and every bit as good as our team," the Detroit slugger remarked recently. . . . Russ Brown, new radio comic on Rudy Vallee's program, is a former Philadelphia baseball writer. . . . John Drish, Morton High school baseball captain who led Berwyn Post to the Cook county American Legion junior baseball championship, has been besieged by offers from minor league scouts, but the infielder has decided to enroll at the University of Illinois and continue his education. . . . Pete Vaughan, who is being boomed by Wabash alumni for a position on the All-Star coaching staf, signed to coach at California in 1916, but had to forego the assignment when his National Guard company was called to the Mexican border. . . . Every member of the Athletics, from Manager Connie Mack to the bat boy, has been injured or sick this season.

Homer Dean, president of the Lincoln Park Golf club, sends this interesting observation: "The lesson that cost Paul Runyan $1,000 in the Chicago open golf tournament last week can be noted by others. I sat at the 17th green when it happened. Paul's tee shot landed just at the edge of the water. Knowing that he was a strong contender I walked to within a few feet of the ball and observed that at least three-fourths of it was out of water and the shot was playable. There was no perceptible movement of the water. The ball lay perfectly still while he made the long trek from the tee over the bridge. Then came the expensive mistake. Paul should have taken his niblick and cautiously stepped down to the ball and played it, but instead he went to where the ball lay without his club to look it over. As he stood and looked at it a few seconds his weight on the soft soil caused the ball to become dislodged and it rolled into a foot or more of water. Of course, there was nothing to do but play another ball. These two strokes cost him a tie for first place."

BIG HEARTED SOX MAKE IT EASY FOR SENATORS AGAIN

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—The White Sox, who have a whimsical fetish calling for the loss of the first four games on their eastern trips, moved further on their goal today by again collapsing in the presence of the sixth place Washington Senators. The Senators won 11 to 8, plunking the nonplussed Chicagoans into third place.

Kennedy's 16 hit pitching was augmented by five tabulated errors and three which a benevolent scorer failed to mark down. The errors all were sloppy, involving butter finger muffs and inability to throw with accuracy at 20 to 30 paces. There also was a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Fat Eddie Wins.

Fat Eddie Linke was the winning pitcher after five innings of endeavor. It was his third victory of the season. It also was the sixth straight victory for the Senators. Monte Weaver pitched 3 1-3 innings, but had to be replaced by Syd Cohen with one run home, the bases full and one out in the ninth. Syd snuffed the rally with the scoring of only one more run.

The Chicagoans made 13 hits, including four by Luke Sewell and a homer and a single by Bozo Berger. Much of the hitting, however, was wiped out by four Senator double plays.

Dykes to Return.

Manager Jimmy Dykes announced tonight he will re-enter the lineup tomorrow in an effort to revive his swooning cohorts. Jimmy's charley horse still frets him, but today's record of 10 unearned runs convinced him he has a multiple mission in replacing Berger and being near Appling so he can tell Luke what to do.

The Senators were held to three runs in the first inning despite shelling which included successive doubles by Lewis, Travis, and Simmons and singles by Kuhel and Myer. The bru-

ROOT RESCUES FRENCH FROM DODGERS IN 6TH

Frank Demaree Hits Home Run.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs skipped along on their pennant way again yesterday while recording their second straight over Brooklyn's Daffy Dodgers. The first placers took the enemy lightly and hopped away to a five run lead but eventually complications arose so Old Charles Root, the No. 1 trouble shooter, had to be summoned. He carried the argument to a successful conclusion by 7 to 5 and kept the league pacemakers three games ahead of the pursuing Giants.

Charlie Root.

The Cubs didn't waste much effort putting themselves on what seemed to be Easy street in the first three innings. For a starter Frank Demaree notched his tenth homer with a mate on base. To add to the merriment Billy Herman tossed a single and Ken O'Dea a triple into a mêlée for three more runs in the third. All of this was done on three hits because Max Butcher, who went the route for the enemy, couldn't resist giving gratuities. But this swell assortment of runs wasn't sufficient for Larry French.

French Wilts in Sixth.

French fairly bubbled over with skill for five innings, allowing only two hits, although there would have been a couple of others if men like Billy Herman hadn't been laboring in his behalf. But that proved the end of French as a grade A performer.

In the sixth five hits with a pass blew him off the scene, four scoring, and it might have been worse if the inexplicable Dodgers hadn't tried to pull a double steal when French was rocking on his heels and willing to accept any kind of assistance. Root ended the inning without further fuss, and during the remainder of the game yielded only one run while winning victory No. 8 for French.

Demaree Continues to Hit.

Mr. Demaree didn't subside after treating the spectators to his first inning homer. In the third he drew one of the passes which blossomed into a run. In the fifth he singled without profit and in the seventh singled again to drive in the last of the Cub tallies.

Demaree's healthy tap in the first inning was a continuation of his achievements of the previous day. With one out Hack drew a pass off

THEY'VE PICKED THE STARS—NOW THEY'RE SEEKING A COACH

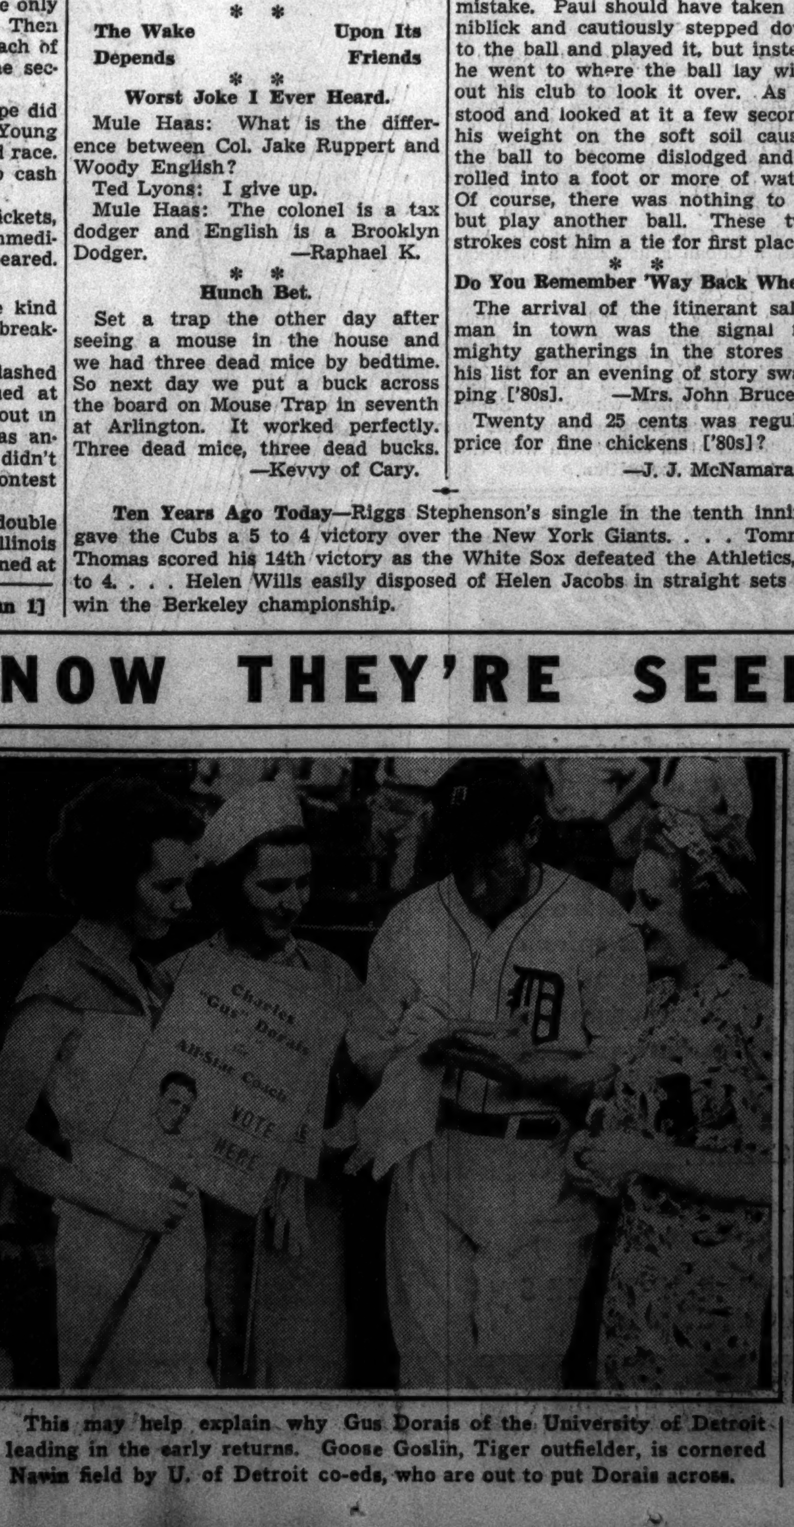
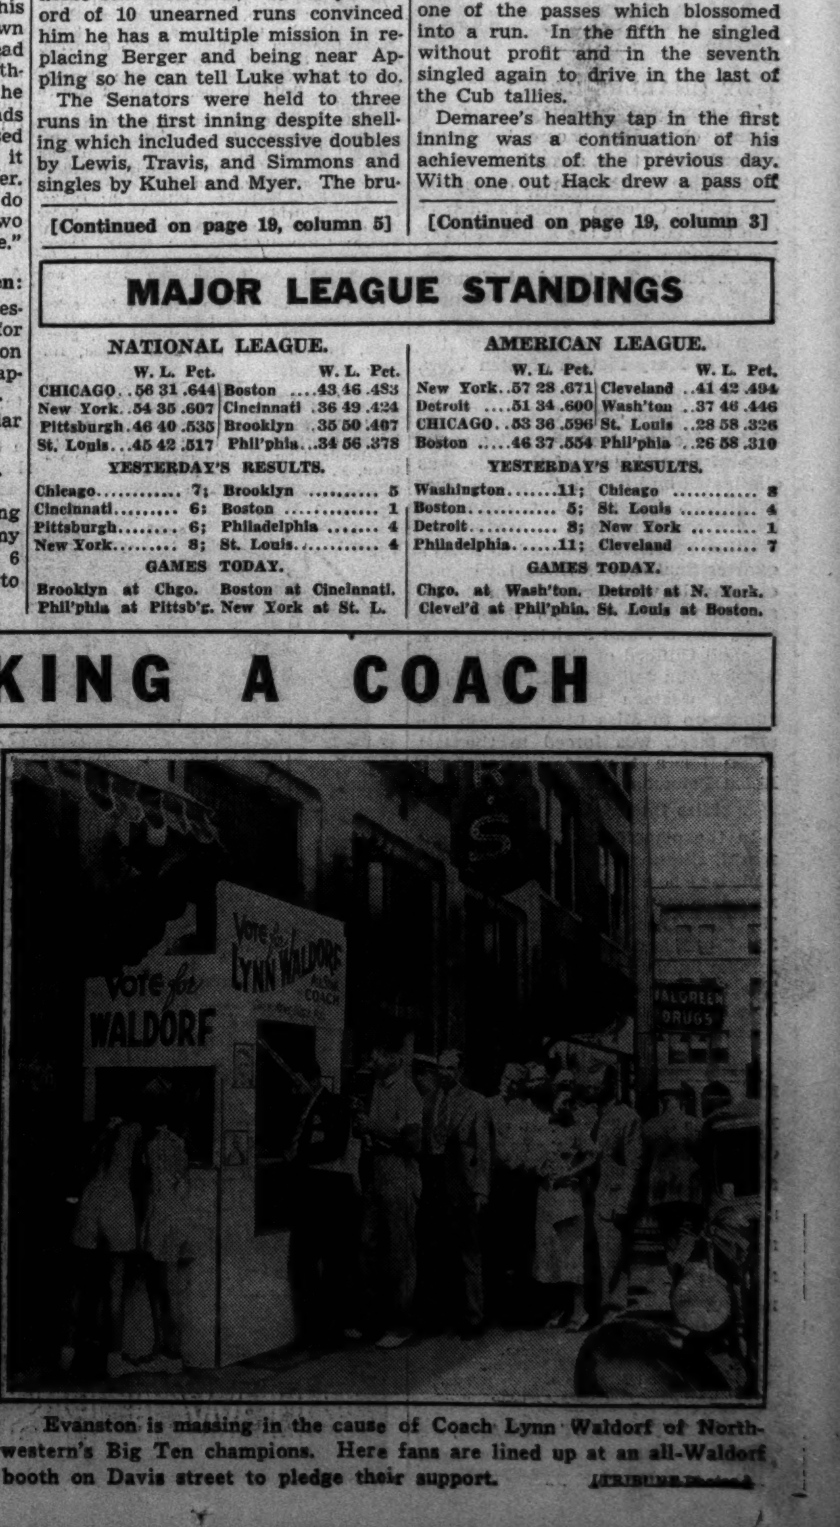
ELMER LAYDEN

Everybody's for Elmer Layden of Notre Dame in this group at a special booth set up in the lobby of the Morrison hotel. Mrs. Bert Epstein is casting her ballot. Layden is expected to muster a huge following.



This may help explain why Gus Dorais of the University of Detroit is leading in the early returns. Goose Goslin, Tiger outfielder, is cornered at Navin field by U. of Detroit co-eds, who are out to put Dorais across.



Evanston is massing in the cause of Coach Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern's Big Ten champions. Here fans are lined up at an all-Waldorf booth on Davis street to pledge their support.

3 MORE YACHTS REACH GOAL AT MACKINACISLAND

Victory, Wind Song and Fortune Finish.

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 28.—[Special.]—Three more yachts including Victory, the 39 foot sloop that had not been accounted for since it left Chicago Saturday afternoon, finished the Mackinac race early today. The others were Wind Song and Fortune.

Victory thus took third place in class B, in which the winner was Rubaiyat. Class winners, as announced by the race committee today, are Southern Cross, first in A cruising division; Bagheera, second, and Meridian, third. Rubaiyat was followed in class B by Wind Song and Victory. The racing division was won by Revenge, with Fortune more than ten hours later on corrected time. Only these eight officially finished.

Wind Song Follows Victory.

Wind Song, Clyde Larish's new 36 foot cutter, came in 27 minutes and 18 seconds after Victory. Fortune, Kenneth Brown's 50 foot schooner, crossed the line nearly ten minutes after Wind Song. Elapsed and corrected times of today's finishers follows:

Boat—	Elapsed time.	Corrected time.
Victory	88:18:29	80:00:14
Fortune	88:46:27	86:34:59

Two more boats, Mesoma and Clio, were expected to finish the race tonight or tomorrow. Clio, a Milwaukee schooner, was reported seeking anchorage in its home port during Monday's storm, but evidently sailed out with the intention of finishing.

Victory Is Sighted.

The coast guard search for Victory was called off this morning when the yacht was sighted under full canvas coming down the straits of Mackinac. Skipper Carl Norberg of the Columbia Yacht club, Chicago, and his crew of five had as adventurous a passage as the other yachts finishing the race, but neither they nor the sloop showed signs of the terrific beating by wind and waves.

Skipper Norberg, following the course charted before the race, sailed up the Wisconsin shore instead of taking the more direct steamer course that 99 of 100 yachts sail in the Mackinac race. He steered Victory north, five or more miles off shore, past Grosse Point, Great Lakes naval station, Kenosha, Port Washington, and as far as Cana Island, off Door county peninsula. From there the course was north and northeast to the northern tip of Lake Michigan. Victory sailed around Whiskey Island and rounded Lansing Shoals light to the north of Beaver Island. From there it was 50 miles east with fair sailing to the straits.

The yacht sailed almost 400 miles. From 5 a. m. Monday to sunset that night Victory was hove to, riding with only one headsail off Sheboygan, Wis.

Plight of Marchioness.

Henry D. Penfield, mayor of Evanston, arrived by car from White Lake, Mich., today to inform the race committee that the 68 foot cutter Marchioness, owned and sailed by Norman Marsh of Chicago, was not dismasted as reported, but caught on the lee shore and was almost washed ashore Sunday morning.

Ex-Champions Eliminated in Women's Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The comeback performances of two former champions were frustrated yesterday in the second round of match play for the annual championship of the Chicago Women's District Golf association at the Edgewood Valley Country club.

Mrs. Philip T. Atwood of Olympia Fields, who as June Beebe captured the title and two western crowns with it in 1933, met defeat at the hands of Mary Pietsch of Glen View, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Jones Out.

Mrs. Melvin Jones of Flossmoor, several times holder of the title, was eliminated by Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge, the defending champion, by a 6 and 5 margin.

Other favorites advanced to today's quarter final round. Hilda Livengood of Danville, who recently won the association's state title for the second time, was a 7 and 6 victor over Mrs. Connell Clifford of Edgewood Valley. Shirley Ann Johnson of Sunset Ridge, former western junior winner and runner-up to Miss Livengood in the state meet, was forced to the last green for a 1 up decision against Helen Peterson of Exmoor.

Miss Dudley Wins Medal.

In the playoff for the tournament medal, Eleanor Dudley of Ridge, who had been eliminated in the first round, won with a pair of 39s for a 78; Miss Livengood was next with 38—43—81, and Mildred Hackl of Midlothian finished third with 44—45—89. The trio had completed Monday's 18 hole medal play round with 86s.

Yesterday's results:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT.

Mrs. A. R. Copeland, Beverly, defeated Mrs. T. G. Lowry, Sunset Valley, 1 up.

Dorais Takes Huge Lead in Coaches' Poll

the eastern coaches. By the early part of next week the poll will have developed into a sectional battle.

Organized effort adds substantially, of course, to the candidates' totals, but the miscellaneous vote from fans who have no strong collegiate affiliation invariably determines the outcome. The rank and file of the people are interested in the game for the men they think will do the best job. This vast group doesn't give a whoop whether their favorite had an undefeated team last season. That is why you will find a sizeable vote for established leaders who perhaps haven't fared so well in games won and lost in recent seasons.

CHICAGO BOUND

BERNARDO DEVICENZI.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—South America's amateur boxing champions arrived in New York today on the steamer Western World for their international boxing match with the Catholic Youth organization champions at Soldiers' field, Chicago, on Aug. 25. The boxers from the southern continent, however, will fight a Cuban squad and a National A. A. U. team at Dallas, Tex., before going to Chicago.

The party included Argentina's eight champions, four boxers from Brazil, and five from Uruguay. The fighters, trainers, and handlers left tonight for Dallas, where the South American champions will compete in a tournament in connection with the Pan-American exposition.

Williams to Box Franklin at White City

Paul Williams, recent conqueror of Alex Kettles, was signed yesterday to substitute for Salvatore Ruggirello in a six round bout against Lem Franklin, who gained a reputation as a knockerout in this year's Golden Gloves tournaments, at White City tomorrow. Ruggirello injured his hand in training.

Lee Shepherd, Cleveland fighter, and George Dixon II., Chicago, meet for the colored lightweight championship in a ten round supporting bout. Contests at six rounds bring together Johnny Shepherd, Cleveland, and Harry Booker; Nate Bolden and Bob Gerry, and Tony Cianciola, Milwaukee, and Bob Le Monte.

Four Chicagoans Near Places with Colored Stars

The teams that will represent the east and the west in the fifth annual colored all-star baseball game at Comiskey park on Aug. 8 are beginning to take shape. With the poll conducted by twenty colored newspapers closing at noon tomorrow, it is now possible to pick a likely starting team.

On the basis of figures tabulated yesterday the eastern and the western starting teams would line up about as follows:

Andres Seeks World Speed Record Sunday

Emil Andres is going after dirt track automobile records Sunday at the Fair Grounds. Andres, Chicago boy, will have the same idea that approximately thirty over drivers will have. Promoter Carl Stockholm has hung up an extra $200 for a new track record and believes that at least one second will come off the present record, marked up last May by Rex Mays. A new track record also will be a new world's record for a half mile track because Mays' mark of 24.72 seconds is the official mark for a half mile flat track.

Jimmy Snyder, Chicago boy, who holds the all-time speed record for qualifying at Indianapolis, will drive. Ted Horn, second at Indianapolis in 1936 and third this year, is another who will fight for the pole position.

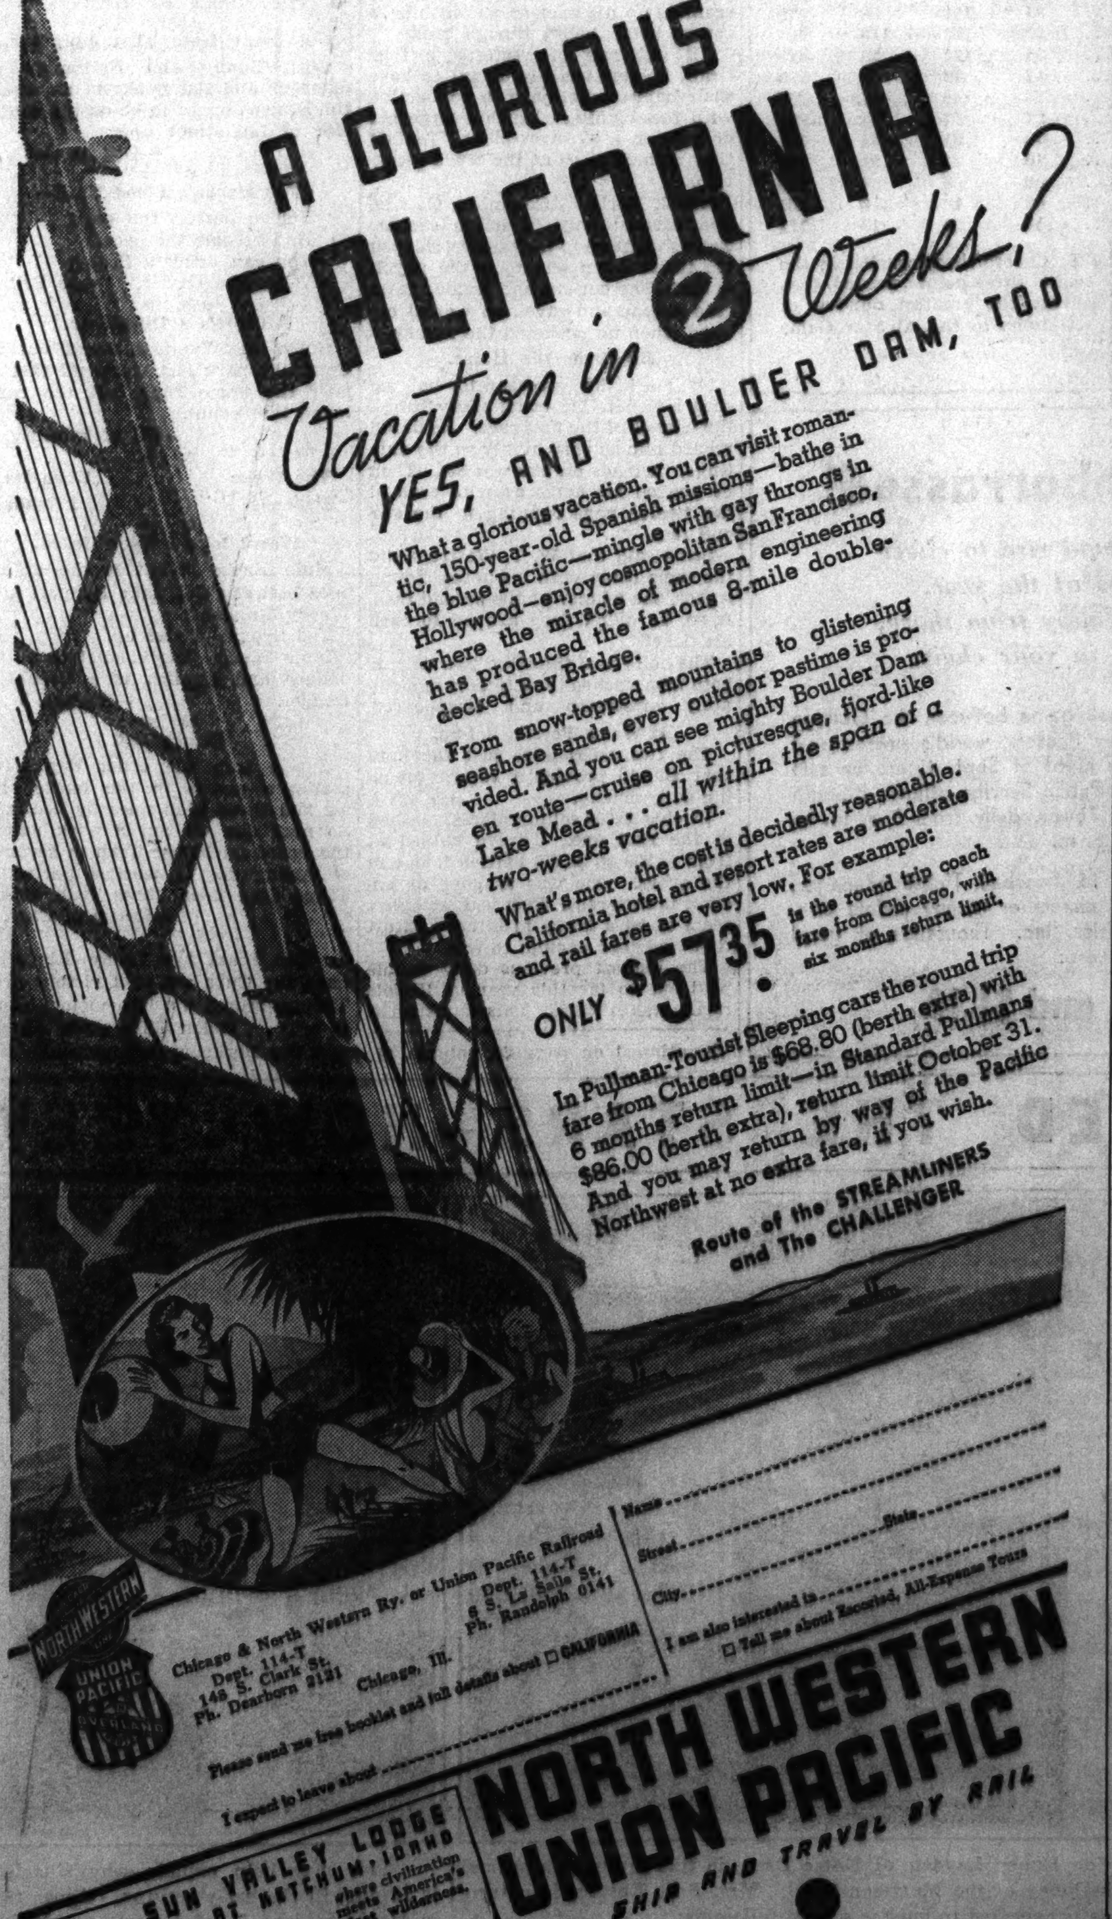
A GLORIOUS CALIFORNIA Vacation in 2 Weeks?

YES, AND BOULDER DAM, TOO



What a glorious vacation. You can visit romantic, 150-year-old Spanish missions—bathe in the blue Pacific—mingle with gay throngs in Hollywood—enjoy cosmopolitan San Francisco, where the miracle of modern engineering has produced the famous 8-mile double-decked Bay Bridge.

From snow-topped mountains to glistening seashore sands, every outdoor pastime is provided. And you can see mighty Boulder Dam en route—cruise on picturesque, fjord-like Lake Mead . . . all within the span of a two-weeks vacation.

What's more, the cost is decidedly reasonable. California hotel and resort rates are moderate and rail fares are very low. For example:

In Pullman-Tourist Sleeping cars the round trip fare from Chicago is $68.80 (berth extra) with 6 months return limit—in Standard Pullmans $86.00 (berth extra), return limit October 31. And you may return by way of the Pacific Northwest at no extra fare, if you wish.

RANGER DEFEATS THREE RIVALS IN 37 MILE TRIAL

Vineyard Haven, Mass., July 28.—(AP)—Harold S. Vanderbilt's undefeated Ranger scored her 13th victory today, three days before she will meet T. O. M. Sopwith's second British challenger for the America's cup, Endeavour II.

Ranger had as her opponents the two unsuccessful aspirants for the defense nomination, Gerard B. Lambert's Yankee and Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, and Sopwith's Endeavour I., with which he failed to lift the trophy in 1934.

Ranger finished a 37 mile run from Mattapoisett to Vineyard Haven more than six minutes ahead of Yankee, approximately eight minutes ahead of Rainbow and more than nine minutes before Endeavour.

The defender's showing today was increasingly impressive considering Vanderbilt, with the international classic only three days away, took no chances of accident. Ranger's best canvas remained safely stowed, some of it on his power yacht Vara, which escorted her. Mrs. Vanderbilt sailed with her husband and shared in his delight over Ranger's unbroken string of victories.

Sherman Hoyt, a member of Vanderbilt's afterguards in his two previous defenses of the America's cup, sailed aboard Endeavour, the boat he helped defeat three years ago.

YALE GOLFERS LOSE.

Take a Fly Rod When You Go On That River Trip

BY BOB BECKER.

Although it's fun to take small mouthed black bass on most any kind of tackle, the fisherman who travels down the Namekagon or the Yellow river in northwest Wisconsin is going to miss about 70 per cent of the sport of river fishing unless he uses fly rod equipment.

For those rivers in northwest Wisconsin we recommend a rather short but sturdy rod.

On our recent trip down the St. Croix, the Namekagon, and the Yellow rivers we used both bamboo and hollow tubular steel rods. With level lines, six and four foot gut leaders, and a variety of dry and wet flies, as well as spinners, the fishermen will be well equipped for fights with the small or large mouthed black bass.

If you canoe down the Namekagon below Howell's bridge be sure and have your guide drop his anchor overboard in a beautiful bend in the stream if you wish to get a new slant on wall-eyed pike.

We slid into this deep hole around 11 o'clock one very hot day. Otto, our fishing partner in the stern of the canoe, dropped his small anchor overboard and then stretched out for a nap while we went to work.

For about 45 minutes the wall-eyes put on a real show. When hooked we had all we could do with our fly rod to work them against the current until they were alongside of the canoe.

Protect yours with Vitalis and the "60-Second Workout"

However good for your muscles and morale, five sets of tennis, hard-fought in the summer sun, give your hair a pretty tough mauling, baking it and robbing it of oil.

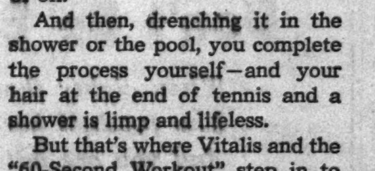
And then, drenching it in the shower or the pool, you complete the process yourself—and your hair at the end of tennis and a shower is limp and lifeless.

But that's where Vitalis and the "60-Second Workout" step in to aid and help you. Apply Vitalis to the scalp with a brisk massage.

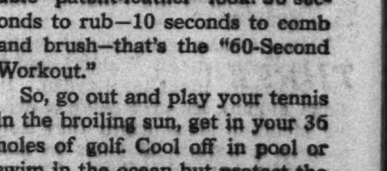
Feel the fine tingle as circulation increases. Your sun-parched scalp "comes to life"—your hair takes on a rich, lustrous appearance without a trace of that very objectionable "patent-leather" look. 50 seconds to rub—10 seconds to comb and brush—that's the "60-Second Workout."

So, go out and play your tennis in the broiling sun, get in your 36 holes of golf. Cool off in pool or swim in the ocean but protect the good looks of your hair with Vitalis and the "60-Second Workout."

1. 50 SECONDS TO RUB—Circulation quickens—the flow of necessary oil is increased—hair has a chance!



2. 10 SECONDS TO COMB AND BRUSH—Your hair has a lustre—but no objectionable "patent-leather" look.



Use VITALIS

GIANTS GET FIVE IN 8TH; DEFEAT CARDINALS, 8-4

Berger, Ott and Mize Hit Home Runs.

St. Louis, Mo., July 28.—(AP)—The New York Giants spotted the Cardinals three runs in the first inning today and then whipped them, 8 to 4, with a five run rally in the eighth.

While Cliff Melton recovered from a poor start and limited the Cardinals to six hits and one run through the last eight innings, the Giants finally got to Lon Warneke and drove both him and Ray Harrell from the mound in the eighth.

Yanks Meet a Mr. Auker and Lose, 8-1

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Elden Auker handed the Yankees their most humiliating defeat of the year today, handcuffing them with two hits as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to an 8 to 1 victory.

A single by Joe Di Maggio in the first, and another by Red Rolfe in the third were the only hits the muffled murderers' row was able to collect of the big right-hander.

The Tigers toyed with shaky Yankee pitching as demonstrated by Lefty Gomez and Bump Hadley and clubbed out 15 hits.

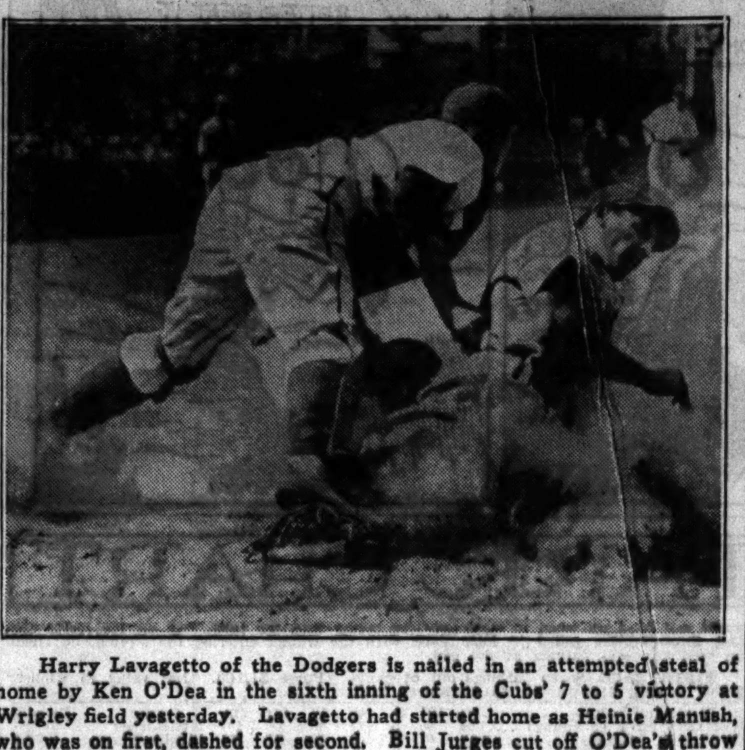
KEN FOILS A THIEF



Harry Lavagetto of the Dodgers is nailed in an attempted steal of home by Ken O'Dea in the sixth inning of the Cubs' 7 to 5 victory at Wrigley field yesterday. Lavagetto had started home as Heinie Manush, who was on first, dashed for second. Bill Jurges cut off O'Dea's throw and returned the ball to the plate. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Root Rescues French; Cubs Win, 7 to 5

Butcher and stole his way to second after Collins had fouled out. Demaree did the rest. He ripped loose a line drive which dropped behind the new temporary fence into the spot where the now vanished left field jury box bleacher used to be. Hack ran home and Demaree followed him for his tenth nonstop tour of the season.

The Cubs scored three times in the third. It all happened after Galan, who had walked, was doubled up on Hack's grounder. Collins and Demaree walked. Herman singled to left, Collins scoring and Demaree moving to third. O'Dea then hit one against the center field boards for three bases, Demaree and Herman sprinting home. Stripp threw out Jurges.

French's start into the clouds in the sixth was marked by Brown's looping single into short right. Butcher lined into Demaree's hands and the fun started. Cooney drew a walk. Hassett poked a single into right, Brown scoring and Cooney taking third. Lavagetto also singled to right, Cooney scoring and Hassett racing to third. Lavagetto stole second. Manush scratched a single past Collins, Hassett scoring the third run and Lavagetto stopping at third.

Root Replaces French.

At this point in the rally the Dodgers got the idea that a double steal was the logical move. Manush got to second all right, but Lavagetto was nailed at the plate when Jurges returned the throw to O'Dea. Phelps followed with a two bagger into the left field corner to score Manush with the fourth run. Before Phelps reached second French had seen Boss Grimm's wigwag order recalling him. Root took over the vacancy. Winsett batted batted for Brack and the trouble was cleared up when when Galan flagged a line drive.

The Cubs made it 6 to 4 by picking up a run in their portion of the sixth. Jurges singled to right and went to third when Cavarretta singled to the same spot. Root's fly to left let Jurges score. Another pair of hits was sufficient for a run in the seventh. With Galan out of the way on a fly to Cooney in center, Hack doubled to the right field screen and went to third on Collins' infield out. Demaree scratched a bounding hit to short and Hack registered.

Root Meets Trouble.

Root, who was perfect in the seventh, ran into a snare made up of three hits in the eighth, but only one scored. Bucher batted for Cooney and singled to right, subsequently sprinting to third on Hassett's single in the same direction. Lavagetto and Manush popped out, Jurges taking care of both plays. Phelps spanked a single through second, Bucher counting and Hassett planting himself on third. Root put his rescuing affairs in order by getting Winsett on a fly to Cavarretta.

Sox's 5 Errors Give Senators Victory, 11-8

Well, So They Got One?

The Sox made a run in the third without a base hit. After Kennedy had struck out Hayes walked. Kreevich flied to Stone, Hayes reaching second. Almada dropped Walker's fly after a hard run, Hayes scoring.

Simmons bounced to Berger in the Senator half, but with plenty of time for a careful toss, Boze made a wide throw, Al reaching first. Stone singled to center, Simmons stopping at second. Kuhel forced Stone. Appling ran into Radcliff and knocked him down while catching Myer's short fly. If Luke had stayed out of the play, Radcliff could have held Simmons on third. Simmons scored easily as the play was handled.

Slick defensive work held down the Sox in the fourth. Almada robbed Radcliff with a bare hand catch and Kuhel leaped high to spear Appling's drive. Sewell knocked his second single and scored ahead of Berger when Boze drove his No. 3 homer into the left field bleachers.

The Riot Begins.

Linke's bouncer at the start of the home fourth took a bad hop over Berger for a single. Almada dropped a single in right center, Linke stopping at second. Lewis bunted and the bases were full after Berger juggled Kennedy's perfect throw. Travis fouled to Berger. Simmons sent a long fly to Radcliff in deep center, Linke scoring and the other runners advancing. Stone singled to center, scoring Almada and Lewis.

After Simmons had made two fine catches to sink Hayes and Kreevich in the fifth, Walker singled and scored on Bonura's double to left. Radcliff singled to right center, scoring Bonura.

Weaver was the Senator pitcher at the start of the sixth. Sewell smashed his third single off Weaver's shins and reached second when Weaver threw past first. Berger singled off Lewis' glove, Sewell reaching third, whence he scored while Kennedy was forcing Berger. Hayes hit into the third Washington double play.

No. 13 Off Kennedy.

With one out in the sixth, Bonura fumbled Lewis' easy grounder and then threw past Kennedy on first, Lewis going to second. Zeke was charged with only one error. Travis singled to center, scoring Lewis. Kennedy cut off Kreevich's throw and apparently had Travis trapped off first, but Bonura dropped his throw. Bonura again was spared an error, however, on the ground Travis might have got back anyhow. Simmons flied to Walker, but Stone drew Kennedy's second pass. Kuhel singled to center for the 13th hit off Kennedy, Travis scoring and Stone reaching third. Myer was called out on strikes.

Weaver reached first on Appling's fumble with one out in the seventh. Appling also fumbled Almada's grounder, Weaver stopping at second. Lewis then doubled to left, scoring Weaver and Almada.

The Sox made two runs in the ninth on walks to Haas, who batted for Kennedy, and Kreevich and singles by Walker and Bonura.

Cubs to Send Davis Against Dodgers Today

Curt Davis, who whipped the Dodgers recently on their own lot, will be given another shot at them in the final of the series today between the Cubs and Brooklyn. Freddy Fitzsimmons, the ex-Giant, may start for the visitors.

Two varieties of uniforms were used by the Cubs yesterday, but the difference was noticeable only at close range. Some of the boys tried out the new suits made of summery material. The superstitious fellows remained true to the old flannel garb.

Marks Wins Again.

It was a big afternoon for Mr. Marks of Columbus, who first came into turf fame as the owner of the great horse Misstep.

The fourth race was the best on the program. It engaged 2 year olds at 5½ furlongs.

John One, owned by Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, was the odds-on favorite. He finished second, a length back of Mar Le, son of Misstep, which sported Mr. Marks' silks. Mar Le, ridden by Glenn Smith, dashed into the lead on the last turn. He outran all those behind him the rest of the way home. He was at $19.80 in the betting.

Fraidy Cat, from Hal Price Headley's stable, ran one of his smashing races in the seven furlongs sixth race yesterday to be an easy winner by two and a half length. Roguish Girl finished second and Grey Streak third. Fraidy Cat, at 6 to 5 in the betting, ran the seven furlongs in 1:24.

O. W. Lehmann scratched his horse Distractible out of the last race after he fell in the paddock, breaking Jocky L. Guymon's left leg.

Perpetuate, the east's leading 2 year old, arrived at Arlington Park at noon yesterday to fill his engagement in the $50,000 Arlington Futurity Saturday. The colt is owned by Robert L. Gerry and trained by George Odom. After winning the Juvenile and Tremont stakes at Belmont Park, Perpetuate has trained well at Saratoga Springs. Jocky M. Peters is coming here from Saratoga to ride him.

MANY STINGS, away slowly and lacking early speed, was raced wide throughout, came with determination and high belated speed after a half mile, and got up in the final stride. EBONY BOY, away fast and always under energetic riding, shook off DIXIE S. quickly when entering the stretch, gamely withstood ROMMY'S challenge, and held on courageously to the end, but was not good enough.

YOUNG AGNES, away fast, dropped back rapidly while racing wide in the early stages, began to move up when approaching the stretch, came between horses when continuing boldly through final quarter, and headed the leaders in the last few strides. PRUM, on the inside throughout, had speed from the start and, aided by good rating, held on well.

Time, :25, :49 4-5, 1:14 1-5, 1:41, 1:54 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Jay Vee, $11.60 straight, $6.40 place, $4.00 show; Western Run, $22.80 place, $6.60 show; Technocracy, $3.00 show. Winner trained by J. Purpura. Went to post at 3:13. At post 1½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won ridden out; place driving.

JAY VEE, improved and benefited by good luck, was eased back when in fairly close quarters on the first turn, responded to pressure after reaching the final half mile, took command quickly and with a big saving of ground as the leaders went wide on the stretch turn, and held on well to protect his margin while under stout urging the last three-sixteenths. WESTERN RUN, fractious at the post and away slowly, raced to contention gradually, was carried out by TECHNOCRACY on the stretch turn, and went resolutely while continuing to race wide in the drive.

MAR LE, going in fine form and having speed from the start, drew into command gradually on the turn, increased his advantage when straightened in the stretch, but was kept under vigorous riding to the end. JOHN ONE, also quick to settle into full stride and kept up when in close quarters racing into the turn, was on the inside the last three-eighths, failed to keep pace with the winner entering the stretch, but held on well and was gaining at the end.

REMINISCENT, rushed into command and on the inside after the first three-sixteenths, made a fast pace and weakened after three-quarters but managed to stall off ONALARK. Latter, inclined to bear out early but never far back, closed resolutely under mild pressure and was slowly wearing down the winner.

Time, :22 3-5, :45 3-5, 1:10 3-5, 1:24. Two dollar mutuels paid: Fraidy Cat, $4.20 straight, $3.20 place, $2.60 show; Roguish Girl, $7.00 place, $4.20 show; Grey Streak, $3.60 show. Winner trained by D. A. Headley. Went to post at 4:38. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

FRAIDY CAT, raced wide throughout and under steady restraint until the final five-sixteenths, wore down ROGUISH GIRL with good response to strong hand riding and, after getting to the front, drew out fast as he held on smartly under his impost. ROGUISH GIRL had high speed from the start, came out slightly when entering the stretch, and while no match for the winner, held on well to hold GREY STREAK safe.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and one-eighth. Claiming. Three year olds. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

SPEARULUS alternated in the pacemaking under strong restraint, came away fast in the stretch, and had something left. IMMERSAL, well up from the start, saved much ground and stood pressure gamely the last five-sixteenths. TANKIE, shuffled back approaching the far turn, bettered his position steadily when clear and, finishing with determination, overtook HALLE in the closing strides.

YES, you can leave an opened bottle of Canada Dry's Sparkling Water in a refrigerator for more than twenty-four hours with the cap off and come back to find it still sparkling with life. That test, more than anything else, will show you why a highball mixed with Canada Dry's Sparkling Water will keep its fresh tang down to the last sip. Or, if you'd rather judge it as experts do, pour Canada Dry's Water into a champagne glass and notice its lively, continuous "Champagne" Sparkle. The secret behind this extra-lively sparkling water is a special Canada Dry process, PIN-POINT CARBONATION.

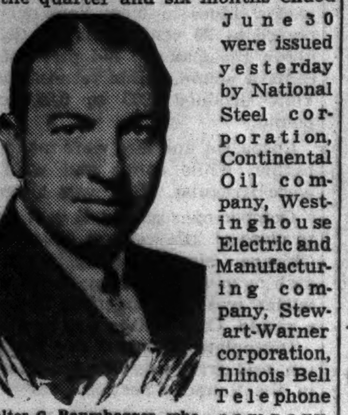
STEEL MAKERS REPORT UPTURN IN NET PROFITS

National's Quarter Earning 6 Million.



Walter G. Baumhogger, who says new constitution has been leveling off in disappointing manner.

Reports of sharply higher earnings in the quarter and six months ended June 30 were issued yesterday by National Steel corporation, Continental Oil company, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, Stewart-Warner corporation, Illinois Bell Telephone company, and many other prominent companies. Standard Brands, Inc., was among the few reporting lower earnings.

Steel company earnings were at a pace comparable to that set by United States Steel on the preceding day. National Steel reported net income of $6,013,077, or $2.77 a share, before surtax for the June quarter, against $5,695,819, or $2.63 a share, in the preceding quarter, and $2,805,570, or $1.30 a share, in the June quarter of 1936.

Figures for Half Year.

In the first half of 1937 the company had net profit of $11,708,896, or $5.40 a share, compared with $5,182,715, or $2.40 a share, in the corresponding period of last year.

Wheeling Steel company and subsidiaries reported June quarter net income of $2,463,034, before surtax, or $4.87 a common share after quarterly dividend requirements on the preferred on which accumulations amount to 24 per cent. This compared with $871,277, or 77 cents a common share, in the June quarter of last year.

American Rolling Mill company reported June quarter consolidated net earnings of $4,321,854, the highest of any quarter in the company's history, and equal to $1.50 a share on common stock. In the second quarter last year earnings were $1,561,161, or 68 cents a share.

Superior Steel corporation reported net income of $120,648, or $1.05 a share, for the June quarter, against $58,726, or 52 cents a share, a year earlier.

Continental Oil Gains.

Continental Oil company's net income was $4,193,336, or 89 cents a share, for the second quarter, compared with $2,241,746, or 47 cents a share, in the June quarter of last year. In the first six months net income of $7,884,529, or $1.68 a share, compared with $4,356,267, or 93 cents a share, in the first half of 1936.

Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing in the six months ended June 30 had net income of $11,331,772, or $4.33 a common share after normal preferred dividend requirements. This compared with $7,937,578, or $2.98 a share, in the first half of 1936. Indicated net income for the June quarter was $5,990,260, against $5,341,512 in the preceding quarter, and $4,205,524 in the June quarter of 1936.

Unfilled orders on June 30 totaled $83,725,878, the biggest backlog since September, 1920, the report said. Orders booked in the first half amounted to $142,209,475, against $88,880,060 in the first half of 1936. Sales in the first six months amounted to $101,861,631, against $77,228,167 a year earlier.

Stewart-Warner Reports.

Stewart-Warner corporation, maker of automotive parts, radios, and refrigerators, reported consolidated net income of $700,663, or 56 cents a share, for the June quarter, against $622,034, or 50 cents a share a year ago. Six months earnings totaled $1,541,920, or $1.24 a share, against $1,054,361, or 85 cents a share.

Walter G. Baumhogger, president of Certain-teed Products corporation, makers of building materials, reported net earnings of $170,072 for the first half year, against a net loss of $205,756 in the corresponding period of last year, the best record for a first half since 1927.

"New building construction has not come up to expectations and in the last several months has been leveling off in a disappointing manner," said Baumhogger in his report to stockholders. "However, there exists in the United States a housing shortage of considerable proportions and it appears safe to assume that when labor difficulties are straight-

German Rye Price Leaps on Crop Seizure

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, July 28.—The price of rye rose 20 marks [the mark is currently quoted at 40¼ cents] a ton today as a result of the government's action yesterday in requisitioning the entire new rye and wheat crop. Grain prices in Germany have long been substantially higher than those of the world market.

The press both of Berlin and the provinces unanimously acclaimed the requisitioning as a wise and farseeing agrarian policy. The Berliner Boersen Zeitung termed it "a logical agricultural policy that should be regarded as precautionary." Chancellor Adolf Hitler's own organ the Voelkischer Beobachter, declared that "the German peasant should be happy and willing to serve in this high cause."

Observers Not So Sure.

Foreign economic observers here are not so sure. Time alone will show, they believe, whether the farmers will deliver their crops without at least some passive resistance. Active resistance is out of the question. The police have been ordered to supervise grain threshing, transportation, and storage, ostensibly to prevent fire and damage, but actually with wider purposes, including the prevention of the use of crops as fodder.

This animal fodder question is a real difficulty. Half the rye output had been used by the peasants to feed live stock and poultry. Turned into beef, pork, eggs, and chickens, it was more profitable. Hereafter inferior feed must be used, with the inevitable result of secondary quality and a diminution of dairy and live stock profits.

Means Fixed Prices.

Against that, however, must be set the fact that 100 per cent delivery of bread grain will assure the farmers of fixed prices and immediate payment. The government will benefit by saving for breadmaking the more than two million tons of rye and half million tons of wheat previously fed to live stock. Corn and barley, which are cheaper, will be imported for fodder.

Wheat—Aug. 10 to Oct. 31, 194 marks a ton; November, 196; December, 199; January, February, March, 201; April to August, 200.

Rye—July to October, 185 marks a ton; October, 187; November, 189; December to April, 191; April, 190; May, 188; June, 185.

Plan to Speed Delivery.

The declining prices in the spring time are set to assure early and quick delivery. The state of the crop now harvesting makes this important. An American expert who has been traveling through Germany said today he saw "distinctly unfavorable" crops, especially in Pomerania, East Prussia, and along the Polish border.

German grain reserves, it is understood, have been virtually all used and only a little of the recently imported grain for breadstuffs remains to carry the country along until the home crop becomes available. No slackness, therefore, will be tolerated in enforcing the new decree, however unpalatable the rural population may find it.

New regulations covering the use of wheat and rye have been issued in an effort to control flour types and bread consumption. In order to discourage consumption, bread containing [illegible] per cent or more of rye flour may not be sold until after the day it is baked.

ITALY FEARS GASOLINE PRICE RISE; HOARDS IT; SO AUTOS STAND IDLE

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

ROME, July 28.—Reports that the price of gasoline is about to be increased have led to hoarding on such a scale that there is great shortage of the product throughout Italy. All Standard Oil and Shell pumps have been closed for the last two days and will remain shut until Aug. 1, when a new supply will be available.

Only the Italian General Oil company, which is not bound by the same monthly import quotas as its foreign competitors, is selling gasoline these days, but in many small towns, where Standard Oil and Shell monopolize the market, motorists have been obliged to abandon the use of their cars temporarily.

The Italian company, which gets its gasoline from Italian owned wells in Albania and Rumania, may import as much as it pleases.

CANADIAN FIRM TO PURCHASE 4 U. S. STEEL UNITS

MONTREAL, Que., July 28.—(AP)—The Dominion Steel and Coal corporation announced early today it had contracted to purchase four Canadian subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation.

The concerns are Canadian Steel Corporation, Ltd., and Canadian Steel Lands, Ltd., Ojibway, Ont.; Canadian Bridge Company, Ltd., Walkerville, Ont., and Essex Terminal Railway company, in the Walkerville-Windsor area of Ontario.

About $2,000,000 will be involved in the purchase, it was said. The Canadian corporation has notified its shareholders of a meeting Aug. 12 when they will be asked to approve a by-law to increase the authorized capital of the company by the amount of the purchase figure.

Committee Fails to Report on Broker Fee Boost Plan

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Two meetings of the law committee of the New York Stock exchange today failed to bring a decision on the report to be submitted to the governing committee in the matter of higher commissions. The subject, it is explained, is technically difficult and the suggested rule must be drawn in exact language. Accordingly, the committee said it needed more time.

Five Millions More Jap Gold Is Sold to U. S.

The engagement of an additional $5,100,000 of gold in Japan yesterday for shipment to the United States was reported by the New York reserve bank. Since Jan. 1, a total of $124,000,000 Japanese gold has been sold to this country.

The Japanese gold shipments have been increasing since the outbreak of open warfare with China. China recently concluded a monetary agreement with the United States under which she is able to build up her gold balances in this country through sale of silver to the American treasury.

Funds May Be Converted.

The credit balances which the two countries are building up here are not necessarily spent in the United States but may be converted into British or other European currency to finance imports.

Japanese currency was quiet in foreign exchange transactions in New York. The yen quoted at approximately 29 cents in American currency.

Cause of Weakness.

The cessation of the movement of foreign capital balances out of New York to London and Amsterdam was said to have resulted in depressing the pound sterling and the guilder. The pound closed ⅝ of a cent lower at $4.9750. The guilder lost .14 of a cent, closing at 55.07.

Discounts on forward quotations on French currency were reduced as a result of buying by the government control fund. The franc was quoted for immediate delivery at 3.74¾ cents, .00⅛ of a cent above the preceding day.

GRAINS ERRATIC AS JULY FUTURE TRADING CLOSES

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$1.18½	$1.18¼	$1.09¼
Corn	.97⅝	.97½	.86¾
Oats	.30½	.30⅝	.40¾
Rye	.82⅞	.82	.76¼
Soy beans [Oct.]	1.05	1.04¾	......

Evening up operations in the July deliveries of grain and soy beans, trading in which ceased at the close yesterday, tended to result in extremely erratic price changes on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

A last minute rush of buying by shorts shot the July delivery of wheat up 4¼ cents above Tuesday's close and to within 4 cents of the highest level of the season. Trades were made at $1.24 to $1.26¾ a bushel in various parts of the pit as the gong sounded which ended the day's session. Final sales on Tuesday were at $1.22½ a bushel.

Corn Price Depressed.

Holders of July corn contracts depressed the price 1⅞ cents a bushel when they attempted to sell at the close at $1.00½ to $1.00¼. July oats closed practically unchanged from Tuesday at 31¼ cents to 70⅞ cents, while July rye declined 3 cents and closed at 89 cents, after selling as low as 86½ cents. Soy beans for July delivery declined 7 cents to close at $1.25. Any uncompleted contracts for July delivery outstanding after the close yesterday can only be settled by a delivery of the cash grain and the latter must be made by July 31.

Price changes in the deferred deliveries of grain yesterday were generally confined to small fractions of a cent a bushel, except December corn. This delivery declined 1¾ cents to 71¾ cents a bushel, a new low for the season, and it closed within a fraction of a cent a bushel of the bottom.

Export Demand Lacking.

There was not the active export demand for American cash wheat yesterday which featured trading on Tuesday and no sales could be confirmed. Leading handlers said foreign buyers refused to follow sharply higher asking prices for the grain. Heavy buying of wheat futures, however, developed at times, which was attributed to removal of hedges against flour sales, but this was offset to a considerable extent by pressure against the movement of the new crop.

The bulk of the buying in July wheat was attributed by brokers to smaller operators who had delayed until the last minute in covering sales made previously. The trade has had reports for several days that exporters bought July wheat recently for the purpose of obtaining cash grain in order to fill sales made abroad. July wheat at Minneapolis closed 7 cents higher at $1.48 a bushel.

Export Sales Reported.

Trade estimates indicate that approximately 1,000,000 bushels of cash wheat and nearly 500,000 bushels of rye have been sold for export from Chicago via Canadian ports so far this season, including grain shipped recently. How much of the cash wheat and rye which must be delivered in satisfaction of July contracts will go for export was regarded as a matter of conjecture.

The decline in December corn to a new low level for any delivery of that grain on the Chicago Board of Trade in more than a year was regarded as a reflection of the continued favorable outlook for the new crop. However, the department of agriculture's weekly weather report indicated that rains are necessary to maintain the present good condition in parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa, Ohio, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, and the Dakotas.

With the July deliveries of grain out of the way, many brokers expressed the belief that the action of the grain markets would be more normal from now on. It is expected that the May delivery of wheat will be officially quoted on the Board of Trade today. It was estimated about 200,000 bushels changed hands yesterday.

Deere Pays First Dividend on Common Stock Since 1931

Directors of Deere & Co. yesterday declared the first dividend on the common stock since July, 1931, after voting a dividend of $1 to clear up arrears on the preferred stock and the regular quarterly dividend of 35 cents on the preferred. The dividend on the common stock was $1.

Directors agreed to submit to the vote of the stockholders Sept. 15 a proposition to increase the authorized common stock from 1,250,000 shares to 5,000,000 shares of no par value. The directors' meeting was held at Moline, Ill.

Votes 25 Cents Extra.

An extra dividend of 25 cents on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of the same amount was declared by directors of Fairbanks Morse & Co., Inc. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the preferred stock was also voted.

Poor & Co. voted a regular quarterly dividend of 37½ cents on the class A stock, and a dividend of 62½ cents a share on the same issue to apply on arrears. After this payment, arrearages will amount to $5.12½ a share. The common paid $1 on June 1.

Otis Elevator company voted a dividend of 40 cents on the common stock. The last previous payment was 25 cents on June 21.

Passes Dividend Action.

Directors of Federal Motor Truck company took no dividend action at their meeting yesterday. The last payment was 10 cents on April 1 this year.

Directors of the Chicago Venetian Blind company voted to place the stock on a quarterly dividend basis rather than a monthly basis, and declared a dividend of 15 cents for the quarter ending Sept. 30.

A dividend of 10 cents was declared yesterday on the common stock by directors of Lindsay Light and Chemical company. In 1936 the company paid a total of 20 cents on the stock.

McWilliams Dredging company ordered a dividend of 25 cents a share on the common stock. In each of the three preceding quarters the company paid 50 cents.

VICTOR CHEMICAL TO BUILD PLANT, USE TVA POWER

The Victor Chemical Works will construct a new $1,000,000 phosphorous plant at Mount Pleasant, Tenn., where cheap power can be obtained from the Tennessee Valley Authority, August Kochs, president of the concern, announced yesterday.

A site of 130 acres has been purchased, according to Kochs, and a contract signed for building of the plant with Stone & Webster Engineering corporation. Phosphorus produced at the new plant will be transported to Victor's present plant at West Nashville, Tenn., where it will be converted into phosphoric acid, base material of many Victor products.

New plants of Monsanto Chemical company and the National Carbon company are located near the site of the new Victor plant.

STOCKS JOLTED BY LATE SELLING; STEEL OFF 2½

Motors Hard Hit; Rails Decline.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Late hour selling today jolted the stock market out of lethargic and narrow price movements to rout whatever support was manifest and carry many issues from fractions to more than 2 points under the preceding day's figures.

Coming immediately after favorable earnings statements by the United States Steel and General Motors corporations, today's unsettlement was attributed in many quarters to the belief a further adjustment of the recent upswing was necessary before support predicated on general business conditions would again come into the market.

Reason for Decline.

The liquidation in United States Steel, which dropped 2½ points, was generally ascribed to disappointment over the failure of the directors to resume dividend payments on the common shares at yesterday's meeting, the clearing up of dividend arrears on the preferred having been expected.

The selling in that stock spread to others in the group, and practically all the shares in that category were hard pressed, notably Bethlehem, down 1¼; Youngstown, down 2¼, and Inland Steel, off 2⅝.

Motors were another hard hit group. General Motors and Chrysler both dropped two points, while lower priced motor issues eased fractions.

Carrier shares, for the most part, moved in nominal volume toward lower levels. New York Central was most active and dropped 1⅛ points.

Utilities Lose Ground.

After displaying a moderately steady trend utilities worked lower with the rest of the list. Losses of fractions to just under a point were chalked up by the majority of issues in this division.

Aviations were strong for most of the session, turning soft in the last hour. A one point increase in Douglas was converted to a small fractional loss. Boeing closed unchanged. United Aircraft held to a fractional increase. Wright Aero fell 5⅛ on a light turnover.

Life Insurance Coverage For Borrowers of $50 to $500 to $5,000

This bank provides a safeguard to borrowers, their families, and their friends, against what might happen—

Under our Creditors' Group Life Insurance policy with the CONNECTICUT GENERAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, an insured borrower's net indebtedness to the bank is wiped out in the event of his death before the maturity of his note. The insurance company pays up the loan, thereby releasing all liability against the borrower's estate and any signer.

The Coverage and Cost

Without medical examination, any insurable maker of a loan up to $5,000 may be covered under this policy . . . On loans from $500 to $5,000 the bank pays the cost of the insurance . . . on loans under $500 if the borrower chooses to have the insurance coverage he pays a small amount monthly for the protection.

Greater Confidence and Willingness

Life insurance coverage gives a sense of greater security to a borrower and his family . . . he asks a friend to sign for him with greater confidence . . . the friend backs him with greater willingness . . . because a major hazard has been removed.

The offering of such important protection as life insurance in connection with comaker loans made by this bank has met with widespread favor. The liberal terms and conditions of "Personal Bank" loans are now even more liberal and attractive than ever before.

New York Bonds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—United States government obligations were strong in an otherwise weak bond market today. Trading in the group was light, however.

Railroad loans dipped fractions to about 2 points.

Utilities resisted the general downward trend, and a few managed to register advances. Others were about steady to lower. Most of the industrials were lower.

Bonds of Brazil and Uruguay were the popular features of the foreign list, a group which developed more activity than any other. Polish 8s also were strong. On the other side was decided weakness in Japanese issue, influenced by disquieting news from China.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks yesterday tended to slip fractionally in moderate trading. La Salle Extension accounted for the heaviest turnover and rose ⅛ point to close at 3¼, after reaching a new high for the year at 3⅜. Middle West dipped ¼ and Hupp Motor ⅛. Chicago corporation and Cord common stocks were unchanged. Twenty-two issues advanced, 49 declined and 30 remained unchanged.

Two new issues will be admitted to trading today. They are: 136,000 shares of $1 par common stock of Rollins Hosiery Mills, Inc., whose convertible preferred will be suspended at the same time, and 175,266 shares of Nunn-Bush Shoe company $2.50 par common stock.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were steady to slightly lower yesterday. Continental Illinois sold $2 lower, ex dividend; Lake Shore Trust and Savings declined $5 in bids and $2 in the price asked by sellers, while Terminal National slipped $2.50. City National went contrary to the trend, rising $5 bid.

Everyday Economics

Market Axioms.

The road to success in stock or commodity market operations is marked by the blighted hopes of countless thousands who either hadn't sufficient knowledge to speculate or invest, or else disregarded certain elemental factors which successful traders employ. The day by day operator, who makes his living from the markets, has developed certain fundamental rules which he follows rather closely Among them are:

The earnings of a corporation are the ultimate index in arriving at the market price of its stock, despite the fact that the stock is usually quoted somewhat above or below its real value.

The top or bottom of a price swing is seldom realized until after it has passed. But there is plenty of opportunity in between.

Averaging or pyramiding of holdings, carried to extremes, is dangerous. [Averaging consists of increasing a net long or short position. In the case of a short position, additional amounts of stocks, or commodities are sold as the market declines, thus reducing the average price at which the total holding was sold. In a long account additional amounts are bought, increasing the average. Pyramiding is adding to one's line, using paper profits of previous transactions as margin for the new commitments.]

COTTON

Cotton futures declined $1 or more a bale at the extreme yesterday as the result of continued favorable weather and crop reports from the south and weakness in Liverpool. Closing trades on futures in Chicago were at net losses of .14 to .18 cent while other American markets lost .11 to .16 cent a pound. The government weekly weather crop report said the crop was generally in good condition in all sections of the belt.

Trade guess as to the size of the growing cotton crop cover a relative wide range, Texas being variously placed at 4,000,000 to 5,250,000 bales. The 1936 harvest was 2,933,000 bales. Spot cotton closed .10 cent lower with New Orleans, 11.40 cents; New York, 11.45 cents, and Houston and Galveston at 11.20 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Commodities

The price of export copper yesterday sold as high as 14.425 cents a pound, the best level in more than two weeks and nearly half a cent above the American domestic level of 14 cents. Final sales for the day, however, were made at about 14.30 cents a pound.

In Pittsburgh, the price of No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap was bid up another 50 cents a ton, making the new price range $20.50 to $21 a ton. One Pittsburgh mill was reported as bidding $21 a ton for the scrap metal without finding a seller. Dow Jones reported, however, that a sale was made at $21.50 a ton.

Other commodities made little progress in either direction, although a renewal of selling in cotton, rubber, and corn drove these staples moderately lower. Crude rubber futures eased 0.09 to 0.14 cent a pound and smoked ribbed sheets eased to 18.25 cents a pound, down 0.13 cent.

Branded steer hides in Chicago advanced another ½ cent a pound to 19½ cents a pound and sales of heavy packer hides in New York were reported at 20 cents a pound, ½ cent above the Chicago bid price of 19½ cents a pound. Hide futures in New York declined 0.05 to 0.08 cent a pound.

Cocoa, tin, and lard were moderately higher, while coffee and wool tops were irregular. Silk was lower.

October eggs gained ⅛ cent a dozen to close at 24½ cents a dozen on the Chicago Mercantile exchange and cash eggs were unchanged. November butter was unchanged at 32⅛ cents a pound. Cash butter was unchanged.

Grain Harvesting Making Good Progress.

Weather conditions over the leading grain producing states were generally favorable last week for seasonal farm activities and the advancement of growing crops, except that moisture is needed for grain in parts of the great plains area and in scattered localities elsewhere, the department of agriculture said yesterday in its weekly summary of weather and crop conditions.

Corn made good progress, except in some of the driest sections, and the condition of the crop ranges from fair to excellent. In the extreme southwest some corn is approaching maturity, while some has reached the roasting ear stage in Missouri. Early corn was said by the weather bureau to be tasseling northward almost to the Canadian border.

Threshing Well Advanced.

Threshing of winter wheat is well advanced, with reports indicating that rust damage was more widespread and serious than first anticipated in parts of Illinois, Indiana, and southern Michigan.

Harvesting of spring wheat is under way in northwestern Nebraska, with yields varying from poor to very good. This work is well under way in southern Minnesota, where prospective yields are mostly good to excellent. Harvesting was pushed in the Dakotas, with indicated results ranging from good to excellent in the extreme east to only poor or fair in the west, with some suitable only for livestock food.

The oats harvest ranges from well along to nearing completion in Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana and many fields are ready to be cut in southern Michigan. Grain sorghums were reported as making satisfactory growth in Kansas. Timothy is being cut for seed in Iowa. Weather conditions generally have been favorable for the harvest of the second crop of alfalfa.

Grasshoppers Do Damage.

Grasshoppers were reported by the weather bureau as having caused severe damage to meadows in parts of Nebraska and are numerous and causing more or less damage in Oklahoma, Iowa, and Minnesota.

Scattered showers fell over the leading grain belt states during the week but were inadequate in some sections. Northern Minnesota, northeastern North Dakota, western Wisconsin, northern and part of southeastern Indiana and some limited areas in Nebraska and Ohio received 1 to more than 2 inches of rain, but in most places amounts were light to moderate.

TOP STEERS SELL AT $17.15; REACH NEW 17 YEAR HIGH

Ordinary Grades Show Little Change.

The long rise in choice grades of cattle, temporarily interrupted Tuesday, was resumed yesterday. Top steers were carried up to $17.15, a new seventeen year peak for July. A year ago the July top was $10 and four years ago similar kinds brought $7.50.

Yesterday's prices have been exceeded in July only three times in the history of the market, which dates back to 1865.

Representatives of the New York Butchers' Dressed Meat company paid the new top of $17.15 for 1,298 pound steers and also gave $17.10 for 1,202 pound cattle. Wilson bought 1,146 pound steers at $17, a new high for that weight, while the bulk of steers and yearlings cashed from $11.75 to $16.65.

Savings Made.

Many other classes of live stock were not as ready sellers as the top steers, and buyers in some divisions effected a saving. The bulk of beef cows, hefers, canners, and cutters were unchanged. Bulls were steady to 10 cents higher. Calves advanced 25 cents. There was a good call for replacement cattle at strong to 25 cents higher rates.

Top hogs sold up to $13.00, a steady price, and most of the light sows held firm, but the general hog trade was draggy and weak to 15 cents lower. Spots in butchers over 250 pounds at the close indicated losses of 20 and 25 cents comparing extremes, with some of these left unsold.

Hog Average Declines.

The average price for the session declined 15 cents, to $11.75. Selected 190 to 210 pound new crop stock brought the top, while most 250 to 300 pound butchers changed hands from $12 to $12.50.

Ovine stock met good demand, still being relatively lower than all other live stock, and prices were mostly steady to strong. City butchers paid the $11.50 top for native lambs, while packers filled their orders at $11.25 and below.

OPERATING NET OF ROCK ISLAND RISES SHARPLY

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad yesterday reported June net operating income of $1,406,245, against $33,805 in June last year. Gross operating revenue for June was $7,090,390, an increase of $390,618 over June last year and the highest for this month since 1931.

Losses earlier in the year reduced net operating income for the six months ended June 30 to $828,899, compared with an operating deficit of $1,845,758 for the first half of last year. Gross operating revenues for the first half of 1937 were $39,024,682, against $36,699,642 in the corresponding 1936 period.

Reason for Increase.

In pointing to the difference of $2,674,657 in operating income between the first half of this year and the corresponding 1936 period, officials of the road said the improvement was due to the combination of increased gross revenues and refunds of 1936 tax accruals under the railroad retirement act of 1935.

The road also reported spending approximately $6,000,000 on improvements and rehabilitation of roadway and structures during the first six months of this year, an increase of $1,200,000, or approximately 25 per cent, over expenditures in the like period last year.

Reports Gain in Revenue.

The Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroad reported June net operating income of $150,649, against $98,951 in June last year, and net operating income of $680,495 for the first half of 1937, against $663,173 in the corresponding 1936 period.

Carloadings on the Santa Fe railroad for July are running 19 to 20 per cent ahead of the like period last year, S. T. Bledsoe, president, reported.

VAN SWERINGEN TERMINAL BOND GROUP FORMED

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Announcement was made today of the formation of a bondholders' committee "for the protection of the interests of holders" of first mortgage leasehold sinking fund 6 per cent gold bonds, due Dec. 1, 1941, of the Cleveland Terminals Building company, a subsidiary of the Van Sweringen corporation.

The committee estimates it owns or represents 12 per cent of the outstanding issue. Frank R. Bailey, of the brokerage house of Williams, Bailey & Benjamin, is chairman.

The plan of reorganization for the company, dated May 18, 1937, "has been carefully studied," the committee said, "and it is concluded that the plan is entirely unfair and unjust to the bondholders."

The first hearing on the plan will be held in Cleveland Aug. 6.

OUTPUT OF ELECTRIC POWER FOR COUNTRY DROPS 1.7 PER CENT

Production of electricity in the United States by the electric power and light industry during the week ended July 24 totaled 2,258,776,000 kilowatt hours, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. This was a decrease of 1.7 per cent from the preceding week's total of 2,298,005,000 kilowatt hours, but a gain over the like week a year ago of 7.6 per cent. Output in the corresponding 1936 week totaled 2,099,712,000 kilowatt hours.

The decline was contra-seasonal. In the week ended July 17 output was 13.2 per cent better than in the like week of 1936.

The electric output of the four companies serving the Chicago district during the week ended July 24 totaled 125,852,000 kilowatt hours, a decline of 3.5 per cent from the preceding week's output, but a gain of 10.3 per cent over the corresponding week a year ago.

SUGAR CONTROL FIGHT PUSHED BY CONGRESS GROUP

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(AP)—The congressional sugar bloc agreed today on a determined fight for a sugar control bill which is opposed by the administration. Approximately 75 representatives and senators from sugar producing and refining states voted to insist upon a bill approved by the house agriculture committee but opposed by the state, interior, and agriculture departments.

At an earlier meeting of senators interested in the legislation, Senator Borah [R., Idaho] urged that the administration's general legislative program be tied up until the sugar bill is passed.

The point at issue between the sugar bloc and the administration is a provision restricting refined sugar imports from Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The limitation, administration officials contend, would be unfair to those areas. The bloc authorized a committee to seek an interview with President Roosevelt.

I. C. C. AUTHORIZES BOND GROUP TO ENTER R. I. CASE

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission authorized the protective committee for the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific railway bondholders to intervene in the application of trustees of the road for authority to issue certificates of indebtedness. The committee told the commission it represented $144,470,000 of first and refunding 4 per cent bonds and secured 4½ per cent bonds.

As of July 12, the committee said, 53 per cent of the outstanding bonds of these two classes were deposited under the committee's deposit agreement.

The I. C. C. ruled it had no jurisdiction over the proposal of trustees of the Rock Island to merge their operations with the Chicago, Rock Island, and Gulf Railway company during the period of trusteeship. The commission dismissed the application.

NEW ILLINOIS CORN SOLD FOR FUTURE DELIVERY

Price May Net Farmer Under 60c Bushel.

Continued favorable outlook for the new Illinois corn crop has resulted in a fair amount of new grain being sold for deferred shipment. It was reported yesterday that Chicago handlers had purchased in the last few days about 150,000 bushels of new No. 4 yellow and white corn for shipment from the country by December 15. The price reported paid would net the interior elevator man about 6½ to 7 cents a bushel under the December future, including the commission for selling the grain on its arrival here. On the basis of this discount some handlers expressed the belief farmers would be receiving less than 60 cents a bushel for the new grain at country elevators except at points which take a low freight rate to Chicago.

Threshing returns on spring wheat sent Lamson Brothers & Co. from farms in the territory from Ellendale to Hankinson, N. D., about 65 miles, showed yields ranging from 5 to 7 bushels per acre, with a test weight of 38 to 40 pounds per bushel. This area is in extreme southeastern North Dakota and embraces part of the southern section of the Red river valley. A Fargo, N. D., report to Harris, Upham & Co. said wheat was yielding 8 bushels to the acre and weighed 48 pounds per bushel. James E. Bennett & Co. had reports indicating yields as high as 15 bushels per acre at scattered points in North Dakota and 18 bushels per acre in Minnesota.

A steamer with 100,000 bushels of corn from Jugo-Slavia and another with 95,000 bushels of Argentine corn were unloaded Tuesday at Chicago elevators. As far as known, this is the first time that corn from the former country has been received at Chicago.

Western Canada has a prospective spring wheat crop of only 160,000,000 bushels, the smallest since 1914, and compared with the subnormal yield of 212,000,000 bushels, it was estimated yesterday by the Searle Grain company, Winnipeg. Condition of the spring wheat crop in the three provinces was placed at only 31 per cent of the long time average, against the firm's previous estimate of 40 per cent and 43 per cent last year. Condition of coarse grains was placed at 43 per cent against 54 per cent three weeks ago and 45 per cent in 1936.

Harris Trust's Personal Property Tax $324,750

The Harris Trust and Savings bank yesterday paid a personal property tax of $324,750 for the year 1936. It had paid $273,700 for 1935. The personal property tax is made on net worth of the bank, entirely apart from real estate taxes on the bank building.

FARM ORDERS BOOST CHICAGO STEEL BUSINESS

National Operating Rate Advances 3 Points.

The Chicago area has been the first district to show a pronounced reversal in the recent downward trend of new steel business, due primarily to increasingly good reports on farm conditions, the magazine Iron Age said yesterday. Activity in farm equipment industries is outstanding, with growing demand for new machinery both from domestic farmers and from abroad.

The operating rate at Chicago rose half a point to 85 per cent, with all plants except one working virtually at capacity.

National Rate Rises.

Steel production advanced contra-seasonally this week, the trade journal reported. The rate for the industry in the United States also was estimated at 85 per cent of ingot capacity, up 3 points from last week's estimate. Resumption of operations at the Lorain works of the National Tube company, which was closed last week for vacations, and increased activity in the Republic Steel corporation plants at Cleveland contributed largely to the increase in the national operating rate.

Price announcements continuing present prices through the fourth quarter of this year on practically all major products except pig iron have tended to improve business sentiment, Iron Age said.

Tin Plate Business Heavy.

The tin plate and can manufacturing industries are reflecting the improvement in farm conditions, with can makers operating at capacity. Indications are that they will need all the tin plate the mills can produce to the end of the year, the magazine said.

Fabricated structural steel lettings, which have been in small volume for several weeks, have risen this week to 22,000 tons.

Without much buying by steel mills, scrap prices have advanced sharply as dealers increased their bits for such material as is available. Iron Age's composite price advanced to $20.08, or $3 a ton above the low point of the year late in June, and only $1.84 below this year's peak in the first week in April.

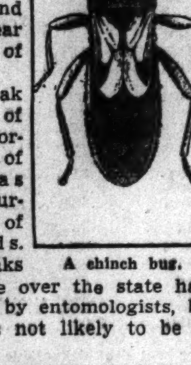
Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Chinch Bugs.

July 28, 1937.

CHINCH BUGS were discovered at the Wheaton farm yesterday afternoon. Harvesters in a small patch of barley found the bugs going into a nearby cornfield. They are the first seen on the farm this year. They were in different stages; most of them had not yet acquired wings, but a few were found with their characteristic white wings and a black spot near the center of their bodies.



A chinch bug.

The outbreak seems to be of minor importance. None of the pests was found in a hurried search of other fields. Small outbreaks here and there over the state have been expected by entomologists, but the damage is not likely to be serious.

No Damage Done.

The bugs at the Wheaton farm had not damaged the barley. The grain was ripe and ready to cut when they appeared. Chinch bugs feed on grass crops, including corn and small grains; barley is one of their favorite cereals.

The barley attacked by the bugs was grown on the test grounds. There was slightly less than an acre of it and it yielded a total of 23 1-3 bushels. The stand was light, because only two bushels of seed were available. The barley seed of the Spartan variety was brought back from Canada last winter by the flockmaster with a carload of ewes.

This variety of barley has become popular among Canadian farmers. The Wheaton farm manager plans to keep all that he grew for seed next year. The grain was allowed to ripen to the point where the kernels are dry and in excellent condition for storing. The barley was cut yesterday afternoon with a combine, and the grain promptly weighed and stored in a dry, rodentproof bin for safekeeping.

Wheat Straw Baled.

The Wheaton farmers have completed baling wheat straw blown back into the field by the combine, and dragged up to the baler with a bull rake. More than 8½ tons of high grade wheat straw was baled from fourteen acres.

The wheat plants were quite tall, and only the tops were cut off by the combine, leaving stubble approximately 12 inches high. Only a limited amount of straw can be run through the combine, making it necessary to leave fairly tall stubble where the straw is long, as it is this year. The barley straw was short and it was possible to cut the plants fairly low, leaving stubble only 5 or 6 inches high.

Rye Straw Raked Up.

More than six tons of rye straw were raked from a thirteen acre field that had been harvested with the combine. The rye plants were so tall that it was necessary to leave long stubble in the field, ranging from 16 to 30 inches high.

The earliest oats on the Wheaton farm are just about ripe enough to be cut with the combine. A few green heads were in the field up until today. With favorable weather the harvesters expect to start combining the oats tomorrow morning.

BROKERS QUIZZED ON ALLEGHANY STOCK OWNERS

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—The senate committee on interstate commerce, which, under the chairmanship of Senator Wheeler is investigating railway holding companies, has sent to brokers a questionnaire to disclose when they bought Alleghany corporation stock and what they paid for it. The brokers were directed to say whether stock was held in their own or others' accounts. Alleghany corporation is a holding company in the former Van Sweringen Brothers railroad empire.

One result of circulation of the questionnaire will be to disclose what changes in ownership of Alleghany stock might have taken place prior to the recent announcement of plans to merge Alleghany with the Chesapeake corporation, a subsidiary. Brokers who held any Alleghany stock on April 15 are included in the inquiry.

The list of Alleghany stockholders held by the committee now shows the situation prior to the merger announcement. The accompanying letter pointed out that the committee had power to compel production of the desired information, but that it was requested on a voluntary basis.

Investors' Guide

Thursday, July 29, 1937.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Harvey Hubbell, Inc.

Investors' Guide: I would appreciate information and opinion on Harvey Hubbell.—D. M.

Answer: Harvey Hubbell, Inc., manufactures switches, outlets, connectors, plugs, sockets, and a variety of other electrical wiring devices. More than 1,200 items are included in the company's line. Its plant is located in Bridgeport, Conn.

Although the company was founded in 1905, investors became acquainted with it only this year when the closely held stock was split 10 for 1, a 70 per cent stock dividend was paid, and about two-fifths of the new shares were offered to the public. Most of the offering was by stockholders, although the company sold a little additional stock to add about $150,000 to its working funds. Outstanding capitalization now consists of 160,000 shares of $5 par common stock.

Reflecting improvement in electrical supply business, earnings of this company have been on the upgrade. In the first four months of 1937 sales were $1,129,000 and net income was $158,000 or 99 cents a share. The record of preceding years follows:

	Sales.	Net Income.	*Income per Share.
1936	...$2,361,000	$298,000	$1.86
1935	... 1,770,000	205,000	1.28
1934	... 1,324,000	97,000	.61

Current assets were $1,047,000 and current liabilities were $328,000 on April 30, 1937.

Dividend Boost? Price Rise?

Investors' Guide: I understand a very reliable stock selling at $50 and paying $2 per share a year expects to increase the dividend rate to $4 a share or 8 per cent on its present price. Kindly predict the price of this stock in the event the dividend is declared.—G. A. T.

Answer: We make no attempt to predict market price changes in stocks, but you can be reasonably certain that the stock will not double in price if the dividend rate is doubled. Market value usually is based mainly on earnings or prospective earnings, and if the company is making enough money to justify the higher dividend rate the price of the stock probably reflects this fact to a large degree now. Raising the dividend rate might bring some increase in market price, but it is impossible to say how much the increase might be. If you will give us the name of the stock we shall be glad to send you a report on it.

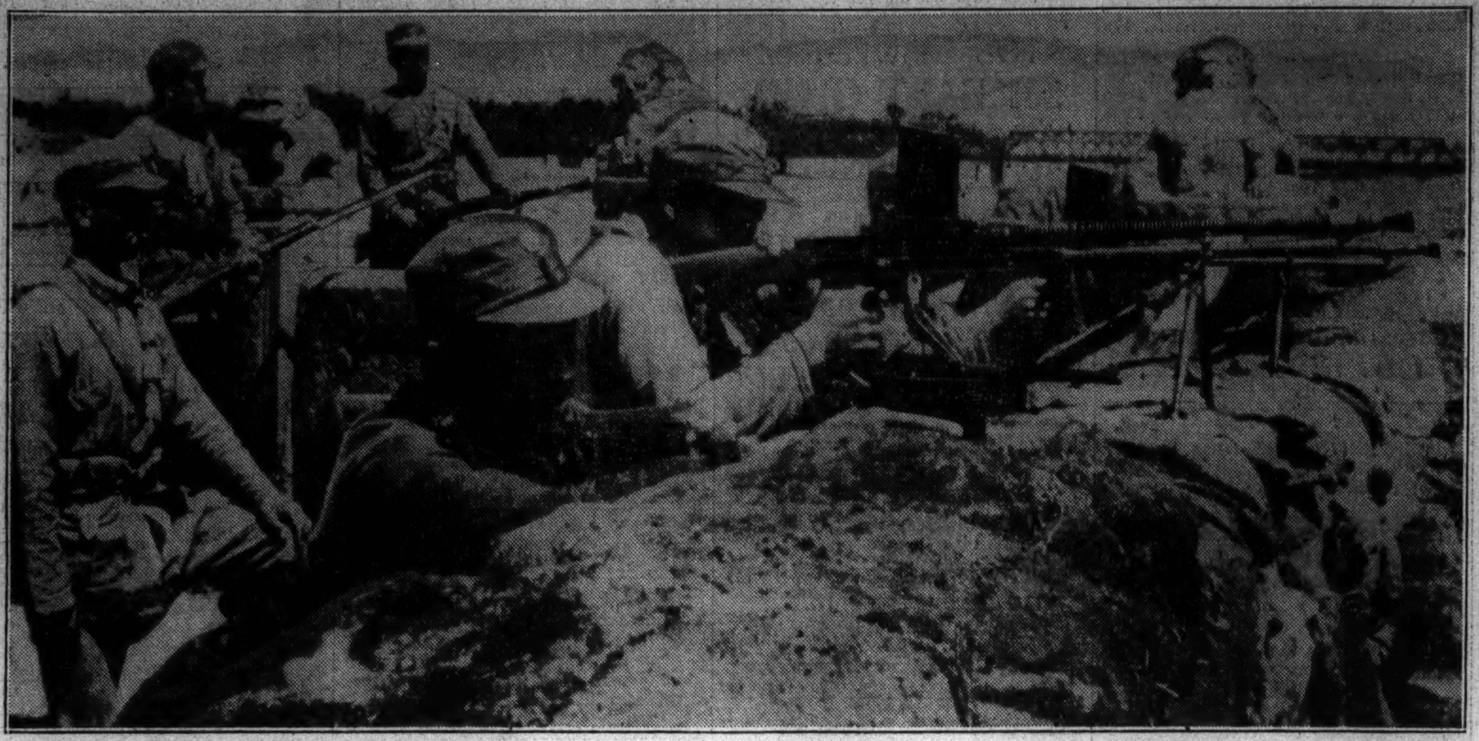
FIRST PICTURES FROM CHINA SINCE OUTBREAK OF WAR WITH JAPAN



Soldiers of the Chinese 29th army behind hastily constructed sandbag barricade as they defended the historic Marco Polo bridge 14 miles southwest of Peiping on July 8, the day after the start of hostilities with Japanese. This Japanese attack was repulsed, but the resistance of the 29th army was reported to have collapsed yesterday and its leader, Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan, to have resigned and left Hopei province. This picture is one of a group which reached San Francisco yesterday by trans-Pacific air mail. It was sent to Chicago by wirephoto. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

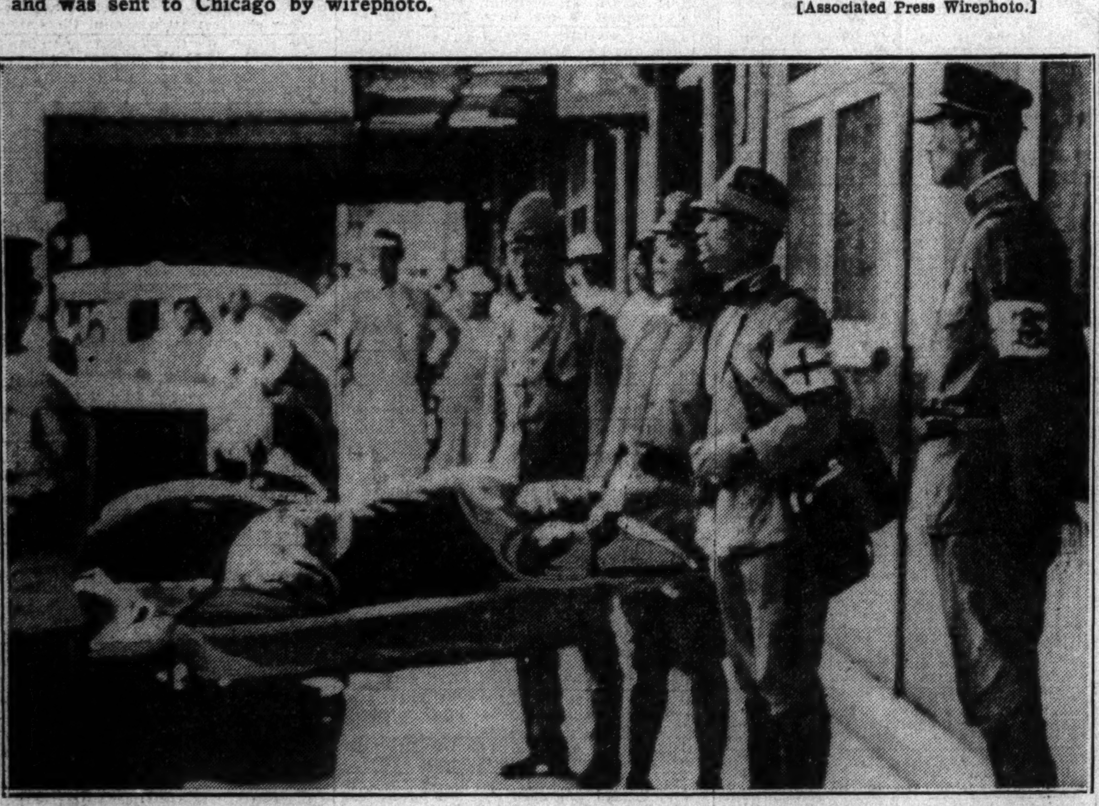
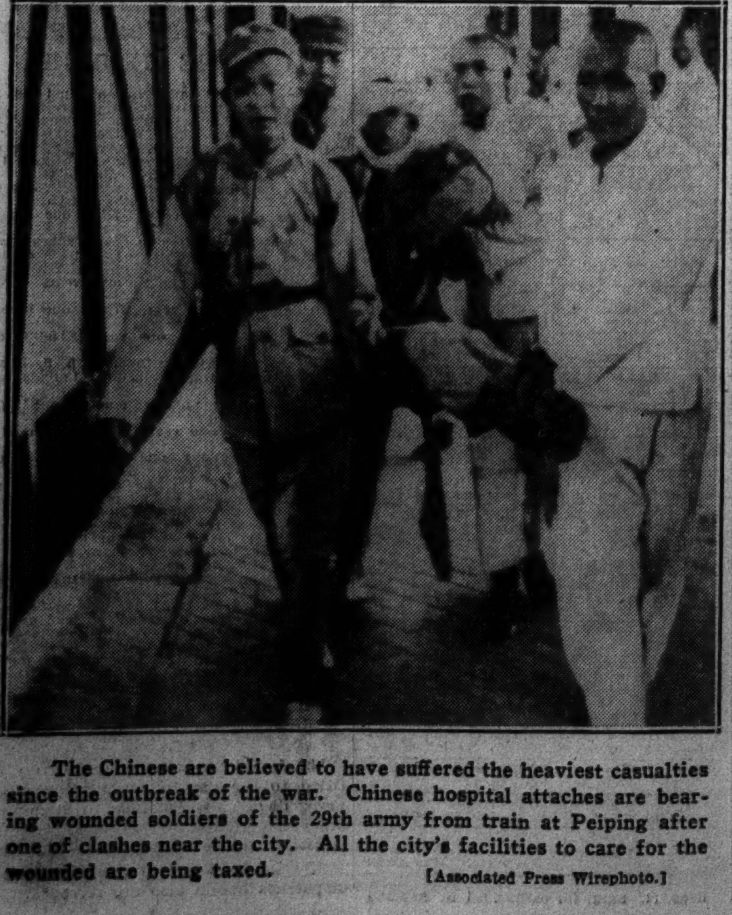
A sniper of the Chinese 29th army deployed along the Yangting river southwest of Peiping. He is helping to guard the railway line showing in the background of the picture. The 29th army yesterday was driven from its barracks at Nanyuan, with a third of its men reported slain by Japs. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

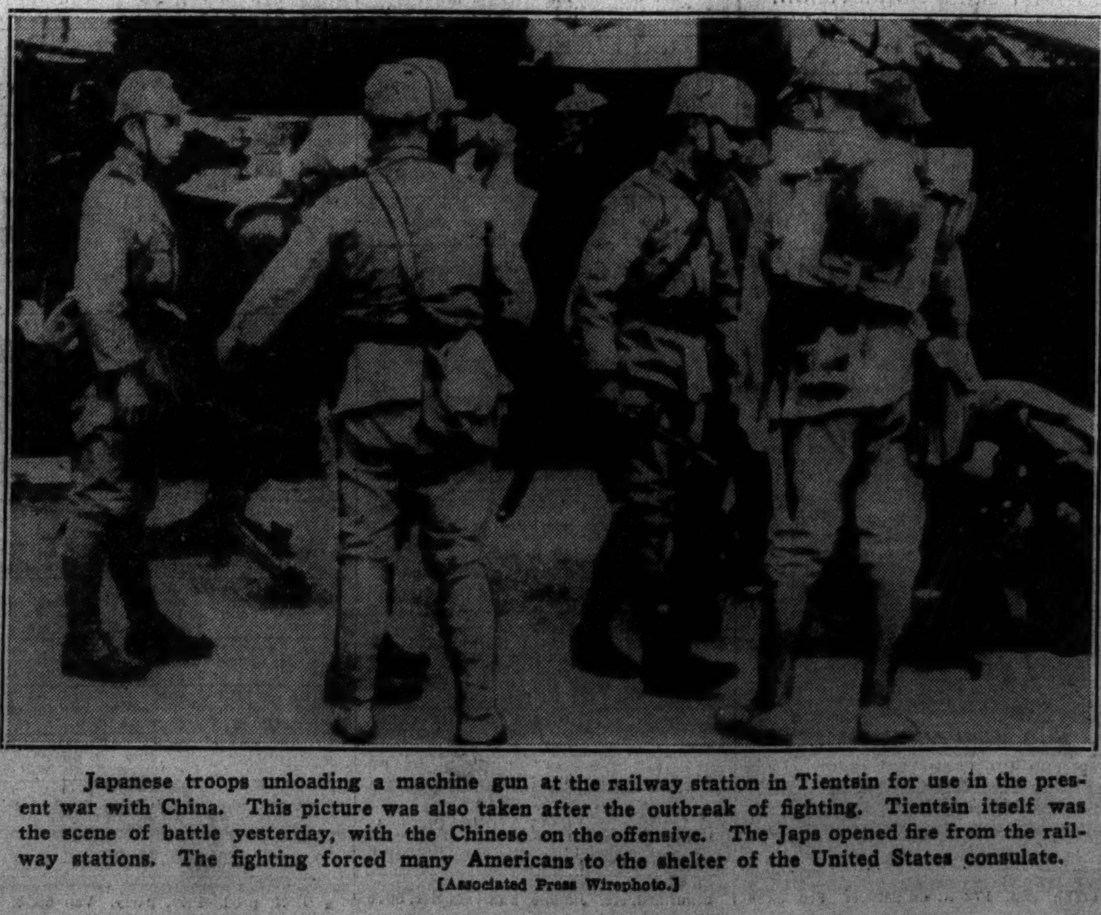


Japanese stretcher bearers unloading a wounded soldier in Peiping. The soldier was brought to the city from the area to the west, where fighting first started. Reports yesterday said that hundreds of badly wounded Chinese soldiers entered Peiping, after their army met setback, and begged for admission to the city hall. A heavy death toll was the result of Japanese air attacks. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

One of the three railway stations in Tientsin, against which the Chinese directed an attack in an offensive begun before dawn yesterday. Chinese troops were said to have bombarded the Japanese concession and the Japanese consulate general's building. [Acme Photo.]



The Chinese are believed to have suffered the heaviest casualties since the outbreak of the war. Chinese hospital attaches are bearing wounded soldiers of the 29th army from train at Peiping after one of clashes near the city. All the city's facilities to care for the wounded are being taxed. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]



Japanese troops unloading a machine gun at the railway station in Tientsin for use in the present war with China. This picture was also taken after the outbreak of fighting. Tientsin itself was the scene of battle yesterday, with the Chinese on the offensive. The Japs opened fire from the railway stations. The fighting forced many Americans to the shelter of the United States consulate. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]
